

UNC Faces Probable Suit

The following summary of the year's news is slightly fictionalized and is not intended to disparage any individual or individuals who helped to make or break the news during the eventful years 1951-52.

Word came to this small village today that the University of North Carolina faces a probable court suit in regard to discrimination against women.

Mrs. C. O. Drearson, Durham attorney for the Militant Rights of Women League, said yesterday "by all that's feminist, the University can't get away with this. We'll bring a writ of womanadamus and make them treat those girls like human beings."

Mrs. Drearson was referring to the recent fracas in which two coeds demanded the right to be treated as adults.

"A lot of nonsense," assistant Dean of Women Marcy Denny averred. "But they're real sweet girls."

"Obviously, the two are trouble-makers," she added. "No other coeds have ever made such a claim. But they're real sweet girls, aren't they?"

(Meanwhile, the two coeds had accused "someone in the Dean's office" of trying to persuade them to leave the University.)

Student Body President Arthur Bowers said, "the student body is insulted. The administration obviously thinks the student body is incapable of handling our own problems. Women have always been our problem, and we can continue to handle them."

Chancellor Robert House at first declined to comment, but after warming up on a few bars of "a pretty girl is like a melody," said, "Students have always been my friends. Where is Arthur Bowers?"

Bowers retorted promptly, "He didn't come to me, why should I go to him?"

Printer: Please delete above paragraph of character assassination.

Judy O'Grady, spokesman for the Woman's Council was overheard in informal discussion to comment grimly, "We believe in God, country, and the Dean of Women's office. Don't worry, we'll get those girls on the rack for failure to report themselves for a 10-minute lateness."

Larry Blotter, natty leader of the Student Council said softly, "We'll uphold."

Miss O'Grady, also the president of a secret night-riding organization known as the VVV

(Valiant Venom Vivisectionists) said meaningfully, "The gong will never ring for those two."

Dick Murphy, genial elder statesman said, "a student is a student is a student," while student columnist Tito Farber commented in print, "In Yugoslavia, women work in the coal mines. Think of the impact of this incident on our international relations!"

Claude Shotts and Miss Gay Currie, secretaries of the YMCA and YWCA heard the question debated in the joint Y ballet committee, and commented that it might be possible to get the two girls to pick up trash in the Y court.

A more religious viewpoint on the issue was heard when the president of the Interfaith Council asserted "You can't leave God out of this."

The Phialected Weekly Talk heard heated debate on the topic, "Is A Woman A Student?" and the Student Entertainment Committee was reputedly trying to engage the two women for a date in 1962 for a panel on the rights of married women.

Popular Dean of Students Fred Weaved quoted the philosopher Kant as saying, "I don't believe half of what you say, but I will defend with my life your right to say it," and agreed with Shotts and Currie that the problem of trash on South Building steps was as yet unsolved.

Dr. Gordon Gray, president of the Consolidated University was unavailable for comment, as he was in Washington running the national Government.

Meanwhile, the two centers of controversy were discovered in a booth at a local bistro sipping chocolate milkshakes.

"Just what is it you object to in the rules?" a Freshman reporter for The Daily Tar Heel (student newspaper) asked.

After looking about carefully to see that there were no members of the FBI or Coed Residence Board in or under adjoining booths, one of the girls whispered, "Last Thursday night, I wanted to take a drink with my boy friend. But we didn't have any ice in the car so we demanded that we be allowed to go in a house for the drink."

The other chimed in, "Last Thursday night, I wanted to take a bath."

"What's wrong with that?" asked a reporter unfamiliar with the Carolina way of Life.

"It was midnight," the girl explained sadly.—G. H.

DAILY CROSSWORD

- |                                 |                           |                                |
|---------------------------------|---------------------------|--------------------------------|
| ACROSS                   | DOWN               | 16. Royal Air Force (abbr.)    |
| 1. Recognize                    | 1. Knots in wood          | 19. Possessing love of country |
| 5. Natural cavern               | 2. Seize                  | 21. Damp                       |
| 9. Back of the neck             | 3. Opens (poet.)          | 24. Decay                      |
| 10. Baking chamber              | 4. River (Eur.)           | 26. Steal                      |
| 11. Raises to third power       | 5. Mountain pass          | 28. Norse god                  |
| 12. Slowly (mus.)               | 6. Affirm                 | 30. Satellite of the earth     |
| 14. Gold (Her.)                 | 7. So. Am. republic       | 31. Heads of monasteries       |
| 15. Varying weight (Ind.)       | 8. Necessitate            | 32. Regret                     |
| 17. Genuine                     | 11. Outer garment         | 34. Kind of egg dish           |
| 18. Lofty mountain              | 13. Leather flask for oil | 35. Company                    |
| 20. Uncooked                    |                           | 38. Fresher                    |
| 22. Energy (colloq.)            |                           |                                |
| 23. Former Russian ruler        |                           |                                |
| 25. Punishment                  |                           |                                |
| 27. Little child                |                           |                                |
| 29. Digit                       |                           |                                |
| 30. Constant sufferer (colloq.) |                           |                                |
| 33. Daub of color               |                           |                                |
| 36. Sash (Jap.)                 |                           |                                |
| 37. A series                    |                           |                                |
| 39. Wine receptacle             |                           |                                |
| 40. Ancient coin (Gr.)          |                           |                                |
| 42. Lamprey                     |                           |                                |
| 44. Half an em                  |                           |                                |
| 45. Memoranda                   |                           |                                |
| 47. Brandish                    |                           |                                |
| 49. Prong                       |                           |                                |
| 50. Border                      |                           |                                |
| 51. Scrutinize                  |                           |                                |
| 52. Source                      |                           |                                |

Yesterday's Answer

- 41. River (Sib.)
- 43. Italian island in Adriatic
- 46. Coin (Jap.)
- 48. Self

By Henry Bowers

Presidential Memo

In Student Government, as in other forms of government, there is a continuing need for organizational improvement, in order that the government may best serve the needs of the governed.

It is particularly important at this period in the development of Student Government at Carolina that every effort be made to perfect as far as possible the mechanical aspect of our government. If this can be done, it should then be possible to proceed to the next step in the development of our government to establish joint faculty-student government of the University, with the students necessarily playing the role of a junior partner.

In order to remedy, in part, two situations which now exist in regard to the Legislative branch of Student Government the administration is sponsoring two bills.

The first would cut the size of the Legislature to thirty-five members. This action would increase competition for the seats, thereby eliminating some who look upon the office of Legislator as an honorary one which entails little work. It would give each Legislator a more vital function in the Legislative process; it would give each legislator an adequate amount of work to do, which has not always been possible in the past in the un-necessarily large body. There is really no need for fifty legislators.

The second bill would make the electoral districts smaller and would add one district for the students who live in town in private homes or apartments. These students have not had adequate representation and they do have special interests which should be represented in an all-student-body government.

The administrative branch plans to sponsor legislation in the near future to solve the knotty problem of the appeal in our court system, and to establish a Student Government records office to provide greater continuity and better informed student officials.

Stationery—Books—Greeting Cards—Gift Shop
Esterbrook Pens—Picture Frames and Picture Framing

Thomas Book Store

Cor. Corcoran & Chapel Hill Sts., Durham
Phone J-2331

Shaeffer Pens—Kodaks & Supplies—Desk Lamps
L. C. Smith & Corona Typewriters—Desk Pads
Expert Repair on all makes of Typewriters

SEMI-ANNUAL SALE!

Men's Famous WINTHROP SHOES

Only once every 6 months and only at THE SPORT SHOP can you find these famous WINTHROP SHOES at reduced prices. Here is your chance to enjoy the comfort and quality of WINTHROP SHOES—Designed and made especially for us in authentic university styles, at greatly reduced prices.

SATISFACTION GUARANTEED IN EVERY SALE
COME EARLY FOR THE BEST SELECTIONS

THE Sport SHOP
N. COLUMBIA ST.

EXCLUSIVE ROAD-SHOW ENGAGEMENT

"MOVIE OF THE WEEK!" — LIFE MAGAZINE

Tales of Hoffmann

starring NOIRA SHEARER
color by TECHNICOLOR

SPECIAL RATES

For Students & Faculty
NOW! 4 SHOWS DAILY
2:00-4:00-6:45 & 9:05 P.M.

ASTOR THEATRE

308 E. Main—Durham
Phone 3-0211

