The last of a series of discussions led by Mr. Warner Hutchinson of the Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship will be held tonight in Roland Parker 3 at 6:30. The topic will be "How to Determine the Will of God."

WAA Council

The Women's Athletic Association Council will meet tonight at 7 o'clock in Alderman dorm parlor. All members urged to attend.

Pascalians

The Young Pascalians, under the Leadership of Dr. William H. Poteat, will meet today at 4:30 in the Episcopal Parish house. The discussion of the first fifty-nine fragments of Pascal's Pensees will be continued.

Travelogue

The second in a series of kodachrome travel slide presentations will be given at 7:30 tonight in Gerrard hall by Dr. H. G. Baity of the School of Public Health. Tonight's program is entitled "The Sao Francisco River Valley and the Sertao: The T. V. A. of Brazil." There is no charge for admission.

Clinic Set Saturday For Band Directors

The University Band will hold its annual reading clinic of contest music for high school band directors this Saturday in Hill hall.

Earl Slocum, director of the Band, will be in charge of the clinic.

Vincent Bach of New York will present a lecture on the "Technique of Brass Instrument Playing." Also the University Woodwind Quintet and Brass Ensemble will be featured in the reading of literature for small ensembles.

-Smokie-

the Playmakers are preparing a musical production which is certain to please the most discriminating theatre-goer. "Spring For Sure" is expected to be one of the local group's most resounding hits.

Carolina-Duke Chess Match Set Today

A chess match between Carolina and Duke is slated for today in Room 301 of Woollen gym.

The Duke team, which tied for first place in the Southern Inter-collegiate Team Tournament in Richmond last year, had one player to win 10th prize in the U.S. Junior Tournament in Philadelphia.

Kit Crittenden, N. C. State Champion, Tommy Makens, Douglas Kahn, all freshmen, and David Evans, fencing instructor, make up the UNC team.

Teams are composed of four men, each of whom play one game. Spectators are welcome.

Players are invited to attend the weekly meetings of the Carolina Chess Club every Thursday night in room 301-B of Woollen gym. An all-campus tournament is to be sponsored by the club, the details of which will be announced later.

Dr. Robert Lawson, beloved friend of Carolina athletics, is the "father" of basketball at the Tar Heel institution.

policy will continue through next weekend." feature of the Planetarium instrument here."

"Superstition or Science" will continue through Monday night. On Tuesday "The Heavens Tonight," the next show, will open at 8:30.

Press Club Meet Set For Tonight

The UNC Press Club will meet tonight at 7:30 in Roland Parker lounge 2 for a general business session. President Leo 'Buddy' Northart urges all members and prospective members to attend this first meeting of the quarter.

Previous meetings scheduled for this quarter were postponed due to other activities on campus.

The Press Club, in cooperation with the Carolina Forum, brought to the campus John Scott, Time editor and former foreign correspondent.

Other speakers are scheduled for the remainder of the year, but no definite plans have been completed at this time, President Northart said.

Northart further stated that the No Doubt, World Reknown, Se. date, Okeefenokee, and Great Dismal Swamp Luncheon, Palavering, and Marching Society would meet in the Rathskellar after the Press Club meeting.

Planetarium Attendance Increased

The attendance at the current Morehead Planetarium show, "Superstition or Science," the last six days has increased more than 300 per cent over the first six days, Anthony Jenzano, Planetarium manager, announced today.

Total attendance to date, he said, is 2296 adults and children.

Many visitors after seeing the demonstration have suggested superstitions familiar to themselves which had not been included in the performance, Jenzano said. "Some of these superstitions have been exposed in the presentation and have contributed to its in-

Especially popular with the public, Jenzano pointed out, "is the new, majestic, extra slow rate of annular motion introduced into the Zeiss instrument particularly for this performance. With it, we are able to track gracefully the sun, planets and moon through their various phases. Serious consideration is being given to establishing this improvement as a permanent teresting nature," he said. "This
