

Cagers Play N.C. State Here Today

Terrill Leads Favored 'Pack Against UNC

by Ed Starnes

The Carolina basketball team which lost an earlier game to N.C. State in the Dixie Classic by a 58-51 score will attempt to get some revenge at 8 o'clock tonight when it takes on the Wolfpack in Woollen Gym.

The Tar Heel five has had a three day layoff since its last game and is in top physical shape. In past years coach Scott has had to use subs for his regulars who have been injured.

Carolina goes into the game with a 6-2 conference mark and an overall record of 10-6, while the Wolfpack boasts a perfect 7-0 loop record and 11-5 won-lost mark in all games.

State Is Favored

State will be favored over the local cagers tonight, but the Tar Heels will have a good chance of topping the high-flying Red and White team from Raleigh.

Coach Scott's team has been coming along nicely since the first of the season and although it hasn't been too impressive against some of its foes, the Tar Heels have shown steady improvement.

The success of Paul Likins at the center spot has had a lot to do with Carolina's victories. And some improved play by substitutes Bob Phillips, Jippy Carter, and Ernie Schwarz also brighten the picture.

Vince Grimaldi has finally found the range of the basket and Jack Wallace seems to be hitting regularly. Teaming those two with Al Lifson, Carolina's freshman scoring sensation, will give the Tar Heels a good scoring threat.

State Has Big Edge

State has won the last 13 games between these two clubs, and trounced Carolina 71-58 in Raleigh last season and 68-53 here. In both games Carolina played without Hugo Kappler, its top man who was sidelined throughout most of the season with injuries.

Bobby Speight, Mel Thompson, and Lee Terrill are the top scorers for the Wolfpack. Coach Everett Case has had trouble finding two other men to fill out his starting lineup.

Bill Kukoy will get the nod as one of the forwards and Dickie Tyler and Bernie Yurin will divide the other guard spot.

Tonights game will be a high mark on Carolina's race for a position in the annual Southern Conference tournament to be held in Raleigh on March 6-8.

Carolina	Pos.	N. C. State
Wallace	F.	Kukoy
Lifson	F.	Speight
Likins	C.	Thompson
Grimaldi	G.	Yurin
Deasy	G.	Terrill

FORWARD BILL KUKOY AND guard Lee Terrill, Wolfpack captain, are two of the finest players on the championship State team. Kukoy, a junior from Gary, Ind. is averaging 10 points per game for the Wolfpack and is a good rebounder. Terrill excels as a floor player and foul shooter and was voted the outstanding player in the Dixie Classic.

Chess Club Ties Duke, 2-2

The first match of the season for the UNC Chess Club was played Thursday against a strong Duke team. The result was a tie, each team scoring two points in the four-man match.

On board one, Duke's Chapman drew with Kit Crittenden of UNC after a tussle which saw the Carolina player three Pawns ahead at one stage. Since Crittenden had used too much time on the opening stages, and under the time control had only one minute for seven moves, he agreed to a draw by repetition in a position which would normally be a winning one.

The game on board two was one of many visititudes. Makens of UNC first had the advantage, then lost it. This happened several times, when finally Duke's Crowder made the next to the last blunder and won the sole victory his team scored.

Huntly, of Duke, faced Kahn in the third board match. This game had an early finish when Huntly had to leave for Duke in order to take an examination that night. The position, which was about even, was agreed a draw.

Evans, UNC fencing instructor, defeated Sarles on board four. Evans managed to isolate all his opponent's Pawns when the Duke player blundered away one of them and Evans was able to score.

Thus the match was tied at 2-2, each team scoring one win and two draws apiece.

JV Cagers Meet Wolflets Tonight

The junior varsity basketball team will play State's Jayvees tonight at 6:15 o'clock in a preliminary to the feature game between the Carolina and State varsities.

Both team's have good records and have lost to Duke's Jayvees. Coach Vic Bubas' Wolflets have won seven of eight games this year while Carolina, coached by Earl Ruth, has won six and lost eight.

The Carolina team is led by Floyd Propst, Chuck Ellenwood, Skip Winstead, Buell Mosier, Joe Moser, Albert Long, and John Dittmar.

CHESS TOURNEY

All persons interested in entering a chess tournament should see Kit Crittenden in 104 Alexander Dorm or register in 315 Woollen gym by next Tuesday.

The first game of the tournament will be played Thursday at 7:30 p.m. at the weekly meeting of the UNC Chess Club in room 301-B Woollen gym.
