

Cagers Play Deacons Here Tonight

UNC Seeks Revenge For Earlier Loss

by Ed Starnes

Wake Forest's Demon Deacon basketball team moves into Woollen Gym tonight in an attempt to repeat its victory over Carolina earlier in the season.

Led by Dickie Hemrie, the sensational freshman center, the Deacs handed Carolina a 55-53 overtime defeat three weeks ago for the Tar Heels first Southern Conference setback.

"Hemrie is a good boy," coach Tom Scott said. "He's a very good center, they'll be tough to beat."

Hemrie Averages 19.5

Hemrie ranks fifth in the nation in field goal percentage with 125 in 250 attempts. He has scored 951 points in 18 contests for a 19.5 average. The 6-foot 6-inch kid from Jonesville, N. C., is also fifth in the nation in rebounds with 303, averaging 15.7 per game.

In the game over at Baptist Hollow, Carolina successfully stopped Hemrie, but Ray Liptas scored 22 points to sink the Tar Heels. Alton (Tunney) Brooks, team captain and only senior in the starting five is another high scorer for the Deacs.

"We'll have to beat someone to get into the SC Tournament. We don't have a cinch game left," the mentor said. The Tar Heel cagers have lost two straight conference games and a defeat tonight would drop Carolina from its present sixth place spot into a tie for eighth place. With every game remaining on the schedule a loop contest, Scott's crew will have to make every game count.

Duke Beat Deacs

In its latest outing Wake Forest dropped a 90-69 game to Duke, but Hemrie stole the show from Dick Groat by outscoring the All-American, 32-31. Scoring 22 points in the first half, Hemrie paced his team to a 39-38 halftime score, only to have the Blue Devils turn the game into a rout in the last period.

Carolina coaches Pete Mullis and Earl Ruth saw the contest and said: "It was anybody's game up until the last five minutes."

Carolina plays Duke here Friday night, then goes to Morgantown, W. Va., to play West Virginia, a club Scott calls "the better team of the conference. Returning home Carolina plays The Citadel the following Friday and Furman on Saturday.

'State Had Too Much Depth For Carolina Cagers' -- Scott

The Carolina basketball team found out Saturday night that their first five men can beat the State starting team, but they can't match the Wolfpack in depth.

"State's strength is their depth," said Carolina coach Tom Scott after the game. "Our defense was good, but we just didn't score enough. Anytime you hold State to 53 points you've done a good job."

"Our offense sorta went fluey in the fourth period. We only scored 5 points in the last 15 minutes of the game. We were too hot and tired. We had our best chance to beat State; I thought we might have done it when (Bobby) Speight fouled out."

"State hit on 11 free throws in the first half which kept them in the game. We missed 15 free throws and that hurt us. But along the fourth quarter we were standing back just not doing anything. I don't know the cause of it (the fourth period slump) was, but we weren't doing anything."

The Tar Heels played a hard game and just couldn't keep pace with the State substitutes, Dick Tyler, Pete Sacknowski, and Kim Buchanan. Carolina did well on the backboards, especially the defensive backboard. Howard Deary and Al Lipton got 14 rebounds and Paul Likins got 10. The heat was an important factor in the Carolina team's slump. The players were perspiring so much that the officials had to use two balls and a towel was required to wipe up spots on the court where the players fell.

A Woollen Gym official explained that the large fans which cool the floor could not compete with the packed stands which had been partially full since 6:30. The windows could not be opened because it interferes with the blowing system.—BILL PEACOCK.

Students Must Turn In Duke Coupons

All students who wish to attend the Carolina-Duke basketball game here Friday night must turn in their pass-book coupon for a ticket tomorrow and Wednesday at the Woollen Gym ticket office.

Tickets will be available to the general public at game time or in advance for the home games with Wake Forest tonight and Duke Friday.
