Fellowships Offered Girls In Commerce

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. — Two full tuition fellowships of $650 each and the Edith Gratia Stedman Fellowship of $300 will be awarded to young women by the Radcliffe College Management Training Program, a one year graduate course in personnel and business administration, for the academic year 1952-1953.

The program offers six months of class instruction taught largely by the faculty of the Harvard Business School. The curriculum includes courses in human relations, personnel administration, management problems and objectives, wage policies and procedures, marketing, retailing, accounting, labor problems, and others.

Ten weeks of full time field work, arranged in two periods of four and six weeks, in business, government and other organizations enables the student to see the practical application of her academic work.

Graduates of the program now hold administrative positions in business, industry, in government offices, the armed forces, and in educational institutions.

For further information, apply to Mr. T. North Whitehead, Management Training Program, Radcliffe College, Cambridge 38, Massachusetts.

'Tres Seccere,' Points Way To Girl's Success

by Rolfe Neill

In our world fraught with frouth, where we take so little time for the simpler things, we happily note this return to the natural.

The following letter is printed in its entirety as it was copied from a local sorority bulletin board. Accompanying it was a schematic diagram, which unfortunately was not reproducible.

La Resista Corset Co. Bridgeport, Conn.

Let's face it, girls—fashion demands too much from our figures these days. Cover Girl or College Girl, 4 out of 10 are lost in a swish low-out evening gown or a sweater and skirt combination. Most of us seek relief with obvious "falsies."

But, now there's a new—truly revolutionary—bra that a girl can add just the right amount of figure beauty, naturally. It does it very secretly, too . . . that's why our new bra is called "Tres Seccere."

We think your sorority sisters, at least 4 out of 10 of them (maybe even more), will welcome this wonderful news on how to add to their bodies naturally and in a manner that defies detection.

We know the enclosed proof will make interesting reading on your bulletin board.

Cordially,

PEGGY HUNT
