

Officer Ranks Now Available To Specialists

Colonel Jesse J. Moorhead, professor of air science and tactics of the Air Force ROTC, today announced that opportunities exist for 700 highly qualified technical specialists to accept direct commissions and immediate active duty in the United States Air Force.

Approximately 250 second lieutenants, 325 captains, 125 majors, and eight lieutenant colonels may be commissioned under this quota. A bachelors degree or higher is required.

There is a major need for 400 college graduates in the field of communications, psychological warfare, procurement, weather and auditing.

Further requirements call for psychological assistants, comptroller, air police, intelligence specialists, crypto-analysts, map reproduction personnel, and laundry officers.

Vacancies exist for approximately 200 commissions in specialties calling for a master's degree or higher.

A particular need in this category are aero mechanics, civil and industrial engineers, meteorologists and electronic specialists. Other fields include physics, armament, advanced management, psychology, and business administration.

Detailed information on requirements may be secured by writing to Headquarters, 14th Air Force, Robins Air Force Base, Georgia.
