

UNC's Scott To Miss SC Indoor Meet

Loss Of Champion Hurdler May End Tar Heel Streak

Sprinter Frank Scott, only defending champion on Carolina's championship indoor track team, will have to miss the Southern Conference Indoor meet here next Saturday due to a partially collapsed lung, thus making a repeat win almost impossible for the Tar Heels.

Scott

Scott, holder of the 70-yard low hurdles title and one of the finest sprinters in the South, was told yesterday by infirmary officials that they "don't anticipate his being able to run." He entered the infirmary last Saturday, and remained there until yesterday when he was allowed to attend classes. He returned in the afternoon and is not likely to be able to leave until Monday.

Tar Heel Winning Streak

The Tar Heels go into the meet with a streak of three straight victories in the war-time Invitational Meet and three consecutive victories in the Conference Indoor Games. Coach Ranson anticipated a difficult job in keeping the title from the strong Maryland and Duke teams, and the loss of Scott could well throw Carolina behind both teams in scoring.

Last year in the Indoor meet Scott won the low hurdles in 8.9 and took third in the broad jump with a leap of 21' 3 1/2". He was beaten only by Henry Poss of Duke and Jack Moody of Carolina. Poss will be back this year, but Moody has graduated.

Former Scholastic Star

Scott is a senior pre-med student from Orange, Va., and was a great scholastic star while competing for nearby Petersburg High. He won five events in the state high school track meet during his senior year. Scott has one year of eligibility left, but will probably not compete next year while in medical school.

More bad news came yesterday when middle distance man Gordon Hamrick entered the infirmary with a severe sinus condition. Hamrick will probably be able to leave by early next week, but his performance in the meet will likely be impaired by his sickness.

Cagers Play State Tonight

The Carolina basketball team will take another try at old man hex tonight when it meets N. C. State's Wolfpack in Reynolds Coliseum in Raleigh.

Tar Heel coach Tom Scott said, "We haven't won yet. It's the fifteenth time—but we're still trying," he added as an afterthought.

A Scott-coached team has never beaten the Wolfpack. In the two team's last meeting it seemed as if Carolina had finally found the winning method. The Wolfpack pulled up from an 11-point deficit midway in the last half to tie the game at the end of the regulation period and win in an overtime. are ready to go. We're in pretty good shape too. Grimaldi had a cold but is a lot better now. That will help."

"The team would like to win. We're decided underdogs, but are playing for an upset."

Campus Interviews on Cigarette Tests

No. 35..

THE LARGEMOUTH BASS

Always a sucker for attractive bait, our aquatic brother went off the deep end and got caught on the quick-trick cigarette hook! But he wormed his way out when he suddenly realized that cigarette mildness can't be tossed off reel lightly. Millions of smokers have found, too, there's only one true test of cigarette mildness.

It's the sensible test—the 30-Day Camel Mildness Test, which simply asks you to try Camels as your steady smoke on a day-after-day, pack-after-pack basis. No snap judgments! Once you've tried Camels for 30 days in your "T-Zone" (T for Throat, T for Taste), you'll see why...

After all the Mildness Tests...
