

Evans, Nauss Threaten Record In 1500-Meter Here Tonight

Opens 19th Annual SC Swim Meet

The 19th Annual Southern Conference Swimming Meet gets under way tonight in Bowman Gray Pool at 8 o'clock with the gruelling 1500-meter freestyle the only event in the first day of the three day meet.

The meet will continue all day tomorrow and will be completed Saturday afternoon. There will be no team competition, and all places will be determined on an individual basis.

The 1500 should be a tight race and there is a fine chance that last year's winner, Mae Jones of Virginia Tech, will finish not better than third and either Frank Nauss, the freshman star at State, or Carolina's Donnie Evans might break the record set by Jimmy Milton in 1950.

Nauss, who is considered a fine Olympic prospect for this event by Wolfpack coach Willis Casey, swam the 1500 in an exhibition recently in 19:23.1, as compared to Thomas' record of 19:36. Evans has never swum the "metric mile" in competition, but has done 19:50 in practice, and should be able to better that.

Jones won last year with a time of 21:07 which may be good for no better than fourth place this year. He got off to a slow start this year due to illness, and was beaten by Cecil Milton in the 440 in the Carolina-Virginia Tech dual meet. Larry Shannon, Carolina freshman, also came in ahead of Jones in that meet and is a threat again.

Bill McCready of VMI and Whitey Mellin of Duke are two others who will probably finish among the leaders. Both boys have been beaten in dual meets

Gene Brigham, Tate Go For 440 Record

A new record may be set in the 440-yard run Saturday night in the Southern Conference Indoor Games as a big field of fast runners will be gunning for top honors. Defending champion John Tate of Duke missed the record of 50.9 by only seven-tenths of a second last year.

Tate, who is improved, will be hard pressed by Stewart Johnson of VPI and Gene Brigham of Carolina in what should be one of the best events of the meet. Johnston has been clocked at 49.1 seconds in practice sessions this winter which is nearly two seconds below the record set by Brown of Duke in 1942.

Brigham, the Tar Heel sprinter, placed third in the meet last year and has shown much improvement also. Besides Tate, Johnston, and Brigham there will be two strong entries from the favored Maryland team in the 440. Phil Stroupe and Thornton Coss will represent the Terps and are expected to make an excellent showing.

Carolina, winner of the Indoor Games twelve times, holds five of the individual records.

JV Swimmers Win Fourth Straight

Carolina's jayvee swimming team won its fourth straight meet of the season here yesterday by downing Raleigh High School, 44-30. Coach Bob Ousley's men took seven-out-of-nine events.
