IFC Elects Froelich, Kalb To Two Top Posts

Carolina's fraternities chose Jake Froelich of Beta Theta Pi as their president at a meeting of the Interfraternity Council Monday night.

Froelich, a Business Administration major from High Point, has been president of the German Club for two years, is a past president of his fraternity, and is a member of the Minataurs and Gorgon's Head Lodge. He was appointed to fill a vacancy on the Student Council winter quarter. Froelich served as Vice President of the IFC this year and was in charge of the IFC-sponsored drive to clean up the Y Court.

The IFC named Barry Kalb, Zeta Beta Tau, Vice President; John Boushall, Phi Delta Theta, Secretary, and Don Seifert, Phi

Gamma Delta, Treasurer. These officers will serve terms lasting until next spring.

The seven members of the IFC Court will be Lew Brown, past chairman of the court, Sigma Chi; Phin Horton, Delta Psi; Wood Smethurst, Alpha Tau Omega; Dan Olsen, Kappa Sigma; Arthur Spaugh, Beta Theta Pi; Bob Gorham, Delta Kappa Epsilon, and Myrin Banks, Sigma Phi Epsilon.

Student-Prof Grading Plan May Be Tried

"This quarter students may be able to grade their instructors," Henry Bowers said yesterday in regard to student ratings of teachers that has been planned by Bowers' Cabinet.

According to this plan, the students, at the end of each quarter would rate their instructors of that quarter on several different bases. The details of the questions were not given.

Then, the student would hand these ratings into the teacher unsigned and they would finally go to the Dean of the different schools. This, at least, is the plan as it is set up now, however, Bowers said the Committee is investigating plans to have the students hand the questionnaires in at some common place instead of to the instructors themselves, since, handing them in to the instructors might hinder a true grading.

If the plan cannot be put through this quarter, it will very probably go into effect next quarter, however, plans are being speeded up as much as possible so the student-teacher system can go into effect this quarter.

Benefit Variety Show To Be Presented Thursday Night By Campus Entertainers

Glittering search lights, a blaring loud speaker, and a throng of eager theatre goers will mark the opening of the Campus Chest fund benefit show at Memorial hall Thursday night at 8:30.

This show, the entire proceeds of which go to the Campus Chest fund, is the variety high light of the season.

Admission is by presentation of a stub showing that the bearer has donated at least two dollars to the Campus Chest fund. The donations may be made any time this week including the night of the show at the door.

John Flood, director of the show, is being assisted in his duties by the noted author and dir-

First Medical Alumni Day To Be Observed Here Today

The first annual Medical Alumni Day will be held here today under the auspices of the School of Medicine Dr. W. R. Berryhill, dean of the school announced yesterday.

The program, which will have a full schedule of events, is expected to attract some 200 alumni from North Carolina and neighboring states.

All medical alumni of the University are invited, including those doctors who took their undergraduate work at Chapel Hill and their medical training elsewhere, Dr. Berryhill said.

The program has been arranged to include several tours of the new Teaching Hospital, a roundtable discussion during the morning, a luncheon at the Carolina Inn, introduction of new medical faculty members, a business session and a dinner at the Carolina Inn that night.

William B. Umstead of Durham, a past president of the general Alumni Association, will address the dinner session, beginning at 6:30.

Registration will be at 9 a.m. following which there will be a tour of the new hospital. At 10:30 will be a roundtable discussion of the educational service functions of the Medical School in the state. Discussion leaders will be Dr. Samuel H. Proger, New England Medical Center, Dr. W.T. Sanger, president, Medical College of Virginia, Dr. Kinloch Nelson, also of the Medical College of Virginia, Dr. John A. Ferrell, executive secretary, State Medical Care Commission, and Dr. Charles M. Caravati, of the Medical College of Virginia.

Dr. William M. Coppridge, Durham, president of the Medical Alumni Association, will preside at the luncheon at 12:30. Graduates of the University School of Medicine, Raleigh, from 1902 to 1910, will be introduced.

Vote On Family Style Meals At Lenoir Set Friday, Sat.

One of the issues in the presidential campaign last spring came to the forefront again today when Henry Bowers announced that ballots would be placed in Lenoir hall to see if students desired family style meals.

Last spring, presidential hopeful Ben James included this as one of the things he would work for if elected. He also introduced the idea in the legislature.

The ballots will be placed in Lenoir hall Friday and Saturday. Student interest and desire will be decided from the ballots cast.

The plan as it now stands will provide the participates with 3 meals a day. They will receive 2 eggs, bacon, cereal, juice, toast and coffee for breakfast and a meat two vegetables salad drink and desert for the two other meals.

According to the present outline, it would cost the student $45 per month with no rebate plus being paid in advance. The system now being operated at the Monogram Club, which is similar to the proposed one for Lenoir, costs $60 per month.

Bowers stated that 200 students were required to participate before the plan could be tried.

Valkyrie Meet, CPU Supper

The Carolina Political Union will hold a supper meeting tonight in one of the upstairs rooms at Lenoir Hall. It is urgent that all members attend.

Plans for the Valkyrie sing will be discussed by the chairman at 5 p.m. today in Roland Parker Lounge 2.

Maurice Julian Listed Among Tax Evaders

Monday, in another of its "get-tough" actions, the government returned 23 indictments charging 21 North Carolinians with attempting to evade income taxes.

Among those indicted were a former state senator, George T. Penny of Guilford County, six doctors, and others prominent in business. Secretary of the Treasury Snyder recently issued a directive to "get tough" with alleged evaders.

Among those indictments filed was one against Maurice S. Julian of Chapel Hill. Julian is charged with having failed to file a return for 1948, in which year he had a gross income of $21,877.56. He is further charged with filing joint returns with his wife for 1949 and 1950, listing their tax due as $691, while the total tax due on their net income in the two year period was $6,102.80. Julian is the proprietor of the College Shop on Franklin Street here.

The date of the first case is not known, but it is believed that some of the cases may come up at the June term of Middle District Court at Greensboro. Bonds are expected to be posted by those indicted later this week.

The six doctors indicted were Judge B. Davis of Fuquay Springs; L. A. Warrick of Goldsboro, R. A. Allgood and W. C. Verdery, both of Fayetteville, Thomas P. Brinn of Hertford, and James Keever of Hickory.

Among businessmen indicted was Theodore Samet, president of Southland Hosiery Mill, Inc., at Greensboro. Two Charlotte men, Sam Schwartz and Harry Schwartz, were also indicted.

Other indictments were filed against George D. Washburn of Shelby, individually and as president of Washburn's Inc., C. T. Day of Greenville, Roland L. Styron of Oriental, Collier A. Turnage of Washington, Simon B. Hill of Goldsboro, John B. Hinnant of Wilmington, Luther A. Meares of Whiteville, Philip B. Chase, Jr. of High Point and Jor R. Fowler of Mt. Airy.

French Play To Be Given In Original

LeVerre d'eau by Eugene Scribe is to be presented in the original by the campus Theatre Francais group on March 20 and 21 in the main lounge of Graham Memorial.

Le Verre d'Eau, THE GLASS OF WATER, is the most famous play of this popular French playwright of the nineteenth century. This production will mark the 100th Anniversary of the famous play's first production in the United States. It will be performed in the modified style to spend an evening.

Lady Quints' Benefit Tilt Tonight At 8

Students and townspeople will have a chance to see some fast-moving basketball played by 10 lovely beauties tonight at 8 o'clock in the high school gym.

It will be a benefit game for the American Heart fund drive, now being conducted in Orange County. Facing each other on the court will be the White Phantoms and the Red Devils, two women's basketball teams from the Western Electric league in Burlington.

No admission will be charged, although the spectators will be asked to contribute according to their desires.

Regular men's rules will be followed throughout the game with roving forwards and regular guards. Each squad contains 12 girls.

The teams were picked recently as the two outstanding girls teams in the league. Drive Chairman Bill Alexander said yesterday, "I feel the spectators will be seeing a fine game and be contributing to a good cause at the same time. I hope to see a big crowd attending tonight."

Going Fast

Senior Class invitations and calling cards will be sold through Saturday of this week and only three days early next quarter at a table in the lobby of the Y building. You may purchase your invitations from 2-3 on Friday and from 9-1 Saturday.

This is the only time Class of 1952 members will be able to buy invitations, so hurry, hurry, hurry—they are going fast, Frank Allston said yesterday.

The Grail is the only official agency for your invitations. All proceeds from sales go into the Grail Scholarship fund. Sales are cash on the line and the price of calling cards also includes the
