

Moore Expects 'Fairly Good' Lacrosse Team This Season

By Martin Jordan
Coach Al Moore will be looking for a better lacrosse season this year when the infant sport begins a tough twelve game schedule with Georgetown March 29.

The Tar Heel stickmen will be hard pressed to improve their last year's record of one win in six starts this season as they are scheduled to meet some of the best teams in the nation.

Coach Moore said that he "expects" a fairly good team, but we will meet some very strong competition." Yale, Williams College, Dartmouth, and Duke top the list of powerful opponents. Moore said that "with a tough schedule the team will learn more than I can teach them."

The team is still shy of experience but a larger squad than last year's has reported for practice. The absence of co-captain Art Greenbaum, who has left school, will possibly weaken the team, but a host of new-comers plus eight returning lettermen may develop into a winning team.

Andy Bell, the other co-captain, Dave Cole, Bill Davis, and "Husky" Kaufman are the returning lettermen on the midfield unit.

Walt Ernst and Ted Dawes will be back from last season topping the list of attack men. Dick Pillsbury, who played in the spring of 1950 but left school last year, will return to strengthen the attack unit. Jack Fields is the only defensive man returning from last season.

The loss of goalie Nick Sowell, an honorable mention on the All-American lacrosse team last year who graduated, will also weaken the team, but Lou Floyd, a soccer goalie, has shown much promise in filling the gap left by Sowell. Freshman Don Gladstone has also shown much improvement in practice as a goalie.

Coach Moore is hoping for more recruits during the next few days of practice. He said that "experience is not a prerequisite and we definitely need more men."

The Carolina tennis team will defend the Southern Conference title this year.

The Carolina baseball team split the Big Four championship with Duke University last season.

Chalmers Port, Carolina pitcher, was selected on the 1951 All-Conference baseball team.

Duke, W. Va. Will Meet In Tournament

(Special to The Daily Tar Heel)
RALEIGH, March 6 — West Virginia, Duke, N. C. State, and George Washington moved into the semi-final round of the Southern Conference basketball tournament being held here in Reynolds Coliseum.

West Virginia took an easy win over William and Mary in the opening game by a 77-64 score. All-American Mark Workman scored 30 points for the Mountaineers.

Duke beat Maryland 51-48 in the other afternoon game as Dick Groat threw in 21 points.

George Washington upset favored Clemson in the first game of the night session, 78-65. The Colonials were never led during the game.

N. C. State fought all the way to beat a surprising Furman Palladins, 73-68. Frank Selvy tossed in 27 points before fouling out with 3 minutes left in the game to lead both teams in scoring. Bob Speight got 26 points for State.

The 1952 tournament is the first in a number of years that North Carolina State is not picked to dominate the play. State is no better than an even choice to win, and Duke and West Virginia are ranked with the Wolfpack. State has won the classic five years in a row.

State's All-Southern Conference guard and captain, Lee Terrill, will be making his last appearance in a State uniform unless the Wolfpack wins the tournament, and receives a bid to the NCAA tourney. Terrill is a senior, and has played for State for three years.

Many of the experts are picking Duke to win the tournament on the strength of its 13-game winning streak. The Blue Devils ended their season last Friday night with a 94-64 win over Carolina, with Groat scoring 48 points. This tournament also ends the college career of the great Groat.

If State and Duke meet in the tourney it will be a rubber game, as the two teams have split this year.

Better Balance Is Expected From 1952 Team—Kenfield

By Tom Peacock
"Our chances this year are good," Carolina tennis coach John Kenfield said yesterday. "The team is better balanced than last year's, with more power in the lower three singles places."

Coach Kenfield continued his analyzing of the team by saying "We don't have that first burst of power we had last year with Heath, Alexander and John Ager playing. We gained some good freshmen, however, and I like my singles line up! Del Sylvia, Herb Brown, Bob Payne, Sam Handel, Bill Izlar, and Ronnie Kerdasha all look good in singles play. It hurt us when Ken Luxenberg was drafted."

"My big problem is my third doubles team," Kenfield stated. "I think Izlar and Sylvia and Brown and Payne are two good teams, but goodness knows where another is coming from. The first two combinations seem to be the best because the two juniors and two freshmen will be playing together."

Brown, Payne Please
Kenfield was pleased with the showing of Brown, Payne, Handel, and Kerdasha, his four best freshmen, and with the improvement of Del Sylvia in pre-season practice last fall. He said, "It was unfortunate that Sylvia's injury kept him out of our only pre-season match. We lost to Virginia, 5-4, but five of the six singles men had never played in a collegiate match. I don't think the match will be representative of our season."

Coach Kenfield released his schedule, which begins March 19 against Brown University at Chapel Hill. "I think it is a fine schedule," he said. "It is well balanced and is exactly what I wanted with one or two exceptions." He was elated to make six matches with Harvard, Williams College, and Dartmouth on the 31st of March, and April 1 through 5. "All of these six contests will have 10 doubles and five singles matches instead of the usual six and three. This enables us to look over all of our boys in action early in the season."

The team takes a road trip north early in May, and Coach Kenfield is anxious to fill an open date he has May 9. He expressed regret that Carolina did not meet Yale University this year. Carolina and Yale each won the match last season, but the Eli

(Special to The Daily Tar Heel)
LEXINGTON, Va., March 6—The University of North Carolina wrestling team coached by Sam Barnes arrived here tonight to take part in the annual Southern Conference wrestling tournament which will be held tomorrow and Saturday.

The seven-man squad is made up of Harry Pawlick, 123 lb.; Earl Kendrick, 130 lb.; Eddy Hanes, 137 lb.; Tommy Stokes, 147 lb. Tommy Coxe, 157 lb.; Harvey Bradshaw, 167 lb.; and Bob Mangum, 177 lb. The Tar Heels will have no heavyweight entered in the competition.

Maryland is the favored team in the tournament, but West Virginia has a tough squad which could easily upset the Terp powerhouse. The two least experienced teams to be present at the tournament will be Duke and Carolina.

The Tar Heels team will be represented by four sophomores two freshman, and senior Tommy Coxe, captain of the Carolina squad.

Carolina has a record of 1-9 in conference competition but the team is expected to climb in the standings next year with a host of experienced men returning. Coach Barnes has been wrestling twenty men this year and reports that "since we were expected to lose this season, I have been letting all the guys get some experience."

We take off our hat to Mother!

Maybe it's true that it's Dad who pays, but from experience we can assure him his money is in good hands when Mother buys the groceries.

For Mother, without doubt, is America's greatest purchasing agent. She knows what she likes and wants. And at A&P we make it our business to see she gets it.

If she doesn't, we'd like to know about it — and the reason why. Hoorah for Mother! — and Dad, too.
