Yale University this year. Carolina and Yale each won one match last season, but the Eli couldn't work Carolina into their schedule this year. On the slate is Michigan State, which handily won the Big Ten Championship last year. Kenfield may add Wake Forest and Furman to the schedule.

Rain Slows Team

Rain has kept the tennis team from practicing as much as Kenfield would like, but he doesn't think it will hurt the squad. The varsity courts are being refinished now, and Coach Kenfield hopes the team will get at least a week's practice on them before its first match.

(Special to The Daily Tar Heel)
CINCINNATI, March 6.—A hopeful report on the use of urethane in the treatment of leukemia was given this afternoon by Dr. Wayne Rundles of Duke University Medical School at the second national Cancer Conference here.

Urethane has been found particularly useful in three types of leukemia, Dr. Rundles said, but he warned about troublesome side effects that frequently occur.

However, he described urethane as a "comparatively safe chemical" to use.

STUDENTS ISSUE BOOKLETS

Harold Wood and Horace (Skip) Mann, graduate students in Carolina's Department of Physical Education, have issued a mimeographed booklet concerned with promotion and publicity in an intramural sports program.

The project's promotional ideas are adaptable to both high school and college intramural or physical education programs. It contains detailed sections on press publicity, the student newspaper, the bulletin service, sports clinics, record boards, posters, radio talks and other special features.
