

Tar Heels Play Rollins, Alabama In Doubleheader

The Tar Heels play Rollins and Alabama in a double-header today and end the Florida tour with a single game against Alabama, tomorrow.

The first home game of the season is Saturday when Carolina meet Virginia at Emerson Stadium. The Cavaliers have all but three returning regulars from last year's team which won the Virginia baseball title. Mel Roach, freshman football star, will be the number one candidate for a first string position. Twice All-State first baseman in high school, Roach will inherit the second base spot for UVA.

On March 29 to April 1, the Tar Heels play a round robin tournament with Yale and Michigan State. On the 29, Carolina meets both Yale and Michigan State. Coach Walt Rabb's crew meets Yale again on the 31, and the Spartans on April 1.

This is the first year that the two northern schools have met Carolina in this round-robin affair. Special entertainment has been planned for the visitors.

Trophies will be awarded to the tournament's best hitter and pitcher, the best defensive player, and the winning coach. This is also the first year that such trophies have been awarded.

"Some of the best college baseball in the country will come to Chapel Hill, we believe, in this series," Coach Rabb said of the tournament. Both of the visiting clubs are annually among the nation's top collegiate teams.

Spring Quarter Hopes High After Two Losing Seasons

by Bill Peacock

Carolina sports fans, after two disheartening quarters which produced only one winner—swimming—are looking forward to spring quarter which promises to be by far the best of the year from a won-loss standpoint.

Tar Heels watched with anguish during the fall quarter while the football team failed to live up to expectations and won only two of 10 games. The soccer team* started off in grand style, winning its first four games but collapsed and finished behind Maryland and Duke in the conference race.

It was the same story in the winter quarter with the basketball team which started off with a great burst of power and was considered the "dark horse" of the conference. But the team went into a nose-dive and lost nine of its last 11 games the last five in a row.

Wrestlers Lost Nine

The wrestling team won its first match, but went into winless in the next nine. And the final insult was the Southern Conference Indoor Games, in which the champion Tar Heels finished behind both Maryland and Duke, and just a fraction of a point ahead of VMI.

The single winning sport—and that was indeed a winner—was swimming, which saw Coach Dick Jamerson's men win all 12 meets and finish first in the unofficial scoring in the conference meet.

The big winner of the spring will again be Coach John Kenfield's tennis team which opens its season against Brown University here tomorrow. An indication of the team's strength may be gathered from Kenfield's conservative summation of the team: "We'll have more depth this year." Last year the Tar Heels won the conference title, had the top two singles players and the top two doubles teams.

Sylvia Leads Team

The source of the optimism are such fine players as captain Del Sylvia, second in the conference singles last year, Herb Brown, the national scholastic champ. Sam Handel, an experienced ex-GI from Philadelphia, and Bobby Payne, the Virginia scholastic champion. The last three boys are all freshmen.

The baseball team which opened its season yesterday, has only two starters missing from last year's team which won 16 and lost 10. Shortstop and third base, the positions vacated by graduation, each have two or more top-flight men ready to fill in.

The track team will be troubled by inexperience this year, but pole vaulter Sam Jordan, quarter miler Gene Brigham, hurdlers Romas White and Charlie Scott and dash man Harry Brown form a strong nucleus.

Golfers Open Season Against Wolfpack Here

An attractive 15-match schedule has been arranged for the Carolina golf team with 12 matches to be played on the Tar Heels' own Finley Course here.

Director of Athletics R. A. Fetzer released the schedule today which includes Kentucky and Purdue University as new inter-sectional foes.

The Tar Heels open the slate here March 26 against N. C. State in a Southern Conference match and lay nine more home matches before their first road trip. Davidson, Amherst, Williams, Virginia, Michigan, Ohio University, Purdue, Kentucky, Holy Cross, Wake Forest and Duke will also be met on Finley Course.

Davidson, Duke and Wake Forest will also be played away.

Last season Coach Chuck Erickson's team won 15 of 16 matches and finished second in the Southern Conference. They also captured the Sandhills Intercollegiate Invitational championship early in the season.

The schedule:

May 1—Southern Intercollegiate, Athens, Ga.; 9—Duke, Durham; 12—Wake Forest, Raleigh; 16—Southern Conference Championship Tournament, Winston-Salem.
