

Ann Van Kirk To Reign As May Day Queen

MISS ANN VAN KIRK

Stunning Ann Van Kirk, who locally proved herself a gridiron Texas terror but who wants to become a merchandise buyer, will reign over Carolina's May Day and a court of thirteen on May 11.

She was chosen in recent balloting by coeds. Her maid of honor will be Joyce Evans, a Tri Delt sorority sister from Harrellsville. Miss Evans also is the Sweetheart of Sigma Chi fraternity.

As UNC's May queen, Miss Van Kirk will represent the University at the Azalea Festival in Wilmington this weekend.

Winning beauty titles is nothing new to winsome Miss Van Kirk, for she was chosen last fall for the 1951-52 Yackety Yack Beauty court. While attending Mary Washington College before transferring here, she was in the freshman May court.

Miss Van Kirk, a native of Orange, Tex., proved herself as the outstanding quarterback in the recent Pi Beta Phi-Delta Delta Delta Powder Bowl. She was awarded a trophy for her football prowess.

An English major, the May queen hopes to go into merchandising as a buyer after graduation this June. Her hobbies include sports and reading.

Wanda Lou Philpott, May day chairman, yesterday said plans are incomplete for the pageant. They will be released upon completion, she said.

Attendants to the queen will be Katherine Blue, Raeford; Betty Bowles, tSatesville; Frankie Strosnider, Goldsboro; Cosy Powell; Mel Stribbling, Clarksdale, Miss.; Patty Starr, Plymouth; Joan Charles, Seagirt, N. J.; Betty Lou Worthington, Ayden; Barbara Chantler, Wilmington, Del.; Nancy Baird, Dallas, Tex.; Peggy Brown, Randleman, and Jackie Quesenberry, Waynesboro, Va.

Students To Sit With Dates At Tilts

New Ticket Setup Begins Next Fall Urge Cooperation

Students get to sit with "import" dates at football games beginning next fall under a ticket setup announced yesterday by the Athletic department.

Woollen Gym officials have been working on a plan for about six months which would enable students to sit with their dates at the games. The scheme was made possible, an official explained, when a new tax law went into effect recently which removed the tax on complimentary tickets.

To get a ticket for their dates, students first must go to the window at the Athletic office and pay the regular price. They will be given a coupon which may be exchanged at the student ticket booth the day of the game.

The seating arrangement will be restricted to the student section but will include the card section, the athletic official said. "As long as students cooperate we will try to work with them on it," he pointed out. "However, if they try to take advantage of us by using the privilege for parents, friends, or the like we'll have to alter our plan."

Wilson

"Wilson," the movie biography of the 28th president of the United States, starring Alexander Knox and Sir Cedric Hardwicke, will be presented tonight at 7 p.m. in Memorial hall by the Y.M.C.A. and Hillel.

This film places emphasis upon the president's career during and after World War I and especially his bid for a strong League of Nations.

Dr. Frederic Cleaveland of the political science department will lead a film forum after its showing.

This is the fifth of the Y-Hillel film programs this year. All of the showings are open to all students and faculty members without admission charge.

Planetarium Opens Easter Show Tonight, Is Best Yet

Praised by Manager Anthony Jenzano as "more beautiful than ever before," Morehead Planetarium's Easter program opens tonight at 8:30.

"Easter, the Awakening," incorporates the special effects and efforts of many people over a period of several years, according to Jenzano. The scenes cover a combined length of approximately 100 feet of the chamber's perimeter and range in height up to 20 feet, he added.

Sequences include "agony in the garden," "crucifixion," "sepulchre," and "resurrection." Also included in the scenes is an altar with candles and a stained glass window.

The Planetarium manager said showings will be held at 8:30 p.m. on weekdays, 3, 4, and 8:30 p.m. on Saturdays, and 2, 3, 4, and 8:30 p.m. on Sundays. Admission price is 38 cents for students and 50 cents for the public.

Derby Is Set For April 10

The annual Sigma Chi Derby, known more informally as the battle of the coeds, will take place Thursday, April 10, in Kenan stadium at 3 p.m.

Jack Keating and Bill Williamson, co-chairmen, and Donnie Thomas, publicity chairman, made the announcement yesterday.

Highlight of the derby will be the crowning of Miss Modern Venus of 1952. Chi Omega Betty Bowles won the event last year.

Preliminary events will consist of various types of competition among eight coed organizations. Included in the activities will be pie throwing and obstacle races. Winners will be awarded trophies.

The afternoon's spectacle will begin with a parade at Chapel Hill high school at 2 p.m. Admission to the crowning and other Kenan stadium festivities is free.

Petition Deadline

Deadline for spring elections is 11 p.m. Thursday, Elections Board Chairman Erline Griffin yesterday reminded prospective candidates.

The petitions may be submitted to her in room 217 Spencer, to Lew Southern in room 216 Alexander, or may be turned into the Student Government offices in Graham Memorial.

Anyone may file a petition for office provided it is signed by 25 people eligible to vote for that office and is approved by the Dean of Students office to indicate academic eligibility.

Chairman Griffin also called a mass meeting of all candidates, party chairmen and persons interested in tending polls for the election at Memorial hall next Monday night, at 7 o'clock.

UNC Offered Special Tickets For Ice Show

Students are being offered special rates for tonight's performance in the Coliseum at Raleigh of the Hollywood Ice Revue starring Barbara Ann Scott.

Tickets may be obtained from 9 a.m. until 6 p.m. today at the main office, Graham Memorial.

Coupon number 50 in the UNC spring athletic passbook must be redeemed when purchasing a ticket. Although performances continue through Saturday, the special rate is for tonight only.

The reductions follow: $3 ticket for $2; $2.50 for $1.75, and $2 for $1.50.

Weaver To Address Di At Inaugural Tonight

Fred Weaver, dean of students, will be guest speaker for the inauguration of spring quarter Dialectic Senate officers at 8 o'clock tonight.

The ceremonies, to be held in the third floor New West building Di hall, will see Edward M. Smith replace John Sullivan as president. Smith, who has held the Di offices of clerk, critic and president pro-tem, is a member of Phi Eta Sigma, Rho Chi, the Debate Council and is president of Everett dorm.

Mezzo Soprano Here Tomorrow

Sophia Steffan, mezzo-soprano of High Point now studying at Juilliard School of Music in New York tomorrow will give a concert in Hill hall at 8:30 p.m. Admission will be free.

Sponsored by the music department, Miss Steffan's program will include lieder, arias, Greek folk songs, and contemporary American art songs. Miss Linda Casky of Greensboro will be accompanist.

Miss Steffan recently appeared in High Point in the title role of "Carmen" with the Grass Roots Opera Company.

Other officers to be inaugurated tonight are Charles Huggins, president pro-tem; Gerald Parker, clerk; Ken Penegar, critic; Wayne Thompson, sergeant-at-arms; and John Schnorrenberg, chaplain.

Dean Weaver, who recently received a Carnegie fellowship to conduct a study of undergraduate life at various colleges, has now concluded one portion of his studies and will resume his traveling on the first of next month. Topic of his address tonight has not been announced.

A graduate of UNC, class of 1937, he was appointed dean of students.

Field Day For Greek Week Posiponed Until Tomorrow

Yesterday's wet weather rained the Greeks out today.

Arthur Spaugh, Greek Week chairman, said the field day scheduled for this afternoon has been cancelled and instead will be held tomorrow at 3:45 p.m. on Navy Field. He asked the individual fraternities to substitute another work or study period for the time originally set aside today for field day.

Slated for today is a meeting in Gerrard hall at 7 p.m. where Roy Holsten, Assistant Dean of Students, will talk. "In the Name of Freedom," technicolor campus movie, will be shown the pledges.

The second day of Greek Week ended last night with stunt night in Memorial hall. Loving cups were presented the two fraternities with the best skits.

Greek Week continues tomorrow and ends Thursday night with a Lenoir hall banquet at which Dr. I. G. Greer will speak.
