Scott Spurs Completion Of New Road By June

Special to THE DAILY TAR HEEL
RALEIGH, March 27—Gov. Scott, proud ex-officio father of the University's new medical center in Chapel Hill, has written contractors working on the Durham-Chapel Hill road asking them to complete the job in time for the medical school dedication in June.

Dr. Henry W. Jordan, chairman of the State Highway commission, told the Daily Tar Heel today that "very good progress" is being made on the new boulevard which will be about three and a half miles shorter than the present 12 mile road.

Dr. Jordan said the recent wet weather had hampered some of the construction. He added, however, that he expected both the new boulevard and the by-pass at Glenn Lennox apartments on Raleigh road to be completed by late June, thus complying with the governor's request. This would be in time for the medical school's dedication.

Paving contract on the road was let this week.

Gov. Scott was anxious that the landscaping along the road and the by-pass also should be completed. Another highway official expressed doubt that this would be finished in time for the dedication.
