

Carolina Beats Citadel Behind Pazdan, 5-1

Carolina Nine Plays Yale, Michigan State In Tourney

By Ed Starnes
Carolina's baseball team starts its second round-robin tournament of the young season tomorrow when the Tar Heels meet Yale in the first game of a double header and Michigan State in the second contest of the afternoon in Emerson Stadium.

After a Sunday break Carolina takes on Yale Monday afternoon, and Michigan State Tuesday.

The tournament will bring some of the nation's finest collegiate baseball talent to Chapel Hill. Both the Spartans and the Elis annually rank near the top of the college diamond picture. Carolina tied for the Big Four title last year and has won 5 of 6 starts this year, beating Alabama twice, and Rollins, Virginia, and The Citadel once each. The Tar Heel's only loss was to Rollins in the last game of a Florida tournament similar to the one being presented here.

This is the first year that Carolina has held such a tournament. Trophies will be awarded to the best hitter, pitcher, defensive player of the series, and to the winning coach.

Bill Lore and Chal Port, the Tar Heel's two most effective pitchers, will draw the starting assignments for the first two games.

The infield will consist of Ben Smith at first, Mark Herring at second base, Fred Dale at shortstop, and Bruce Coats at third. Coaches Walt Rabb and Bunn Hearn will start Bill Reeves, Tom Stevens and Wayne White in the outfield. Co-captain Dick Wiess will handle the catching chores.

Gravitte Out

Connie Gravitte, freshman football and baseball player, has been taken to the infirmary with a case of the mumps.

Gravitte was ill throughout the Florida trip and played but a few innings of one game. He had to be removed due to his sickness. The confinement will cause Gravitte to miss at least two weeks of baseball, and most of spring football practice.

Both Teams Make Only Five Hits

by Tom Peacock
Joe Pazdan, earned his third win of the season yesterday by squelching a ninth inning rally and defeating The Citadel, 5-1. Pazdan had a one-hitter going into the ninth, but he gave up four hits and a run to lose his shut-out.

Beaufort Blanton singled for The Citadel to open the ninth, the next man flew out, but the next three men, Rudy Wilcox, pinch hitter Bill Kite, and Jim Proctor all singled, sending Blanton home. Carolina ended the game with a double play, Skeet Hesmer to Fred Dale to Bob Henning.

The Citadel got five hits, as many as Carolina, but losing pitcher Paul Chapman's 12 walks gave the Tar Heels the game.

9 Straight Balls
Chapman threw nine balls before he could get a ball over the plate in the first inning, walking the first four men to face him, and forcing in a run. Wayne White drove another run in on a long fly before Chapman could get out of the hole. Chapman's effectiveness improved as the game progressed.

The Tar Heels scored again in the fourth inning on a walk, sacrifice, and a single. Catcher Dick Weiss walked, and then took second on Pazdan's perfect bunt. Mark Herring, the leadoff man singled Weiss home, but he died on base.

Two More Runs
Carolina earned its last two runs in the fifth inning on two hits and two more walks. Stevens and Smith opened the inning by drawing walks, and then White knocked in his second RBI on a single. Bill Reeves followed with another single to bat in the fifth and last run.

Davidson To Be Here Today For Golfers Second Match

By Biff Roberts
The Carolina golf team will face its second match in three days this afternoon at Finley Golf Course when it takes on Davidson College at 1:30.

A 21-6 victory over N. C. State on Wednesday got the Tar Heels off to a good start and they will be favored to run their win list to two against the Wildcats.

Three golfers, Tommy Langley, Bob Black and Bill Williamson, shot par or better against the Wolfpack and Coach Chuck Erickson will build today's starting lineup around this trio.

Black and Williamson played in the first and second positions Wednesday but Langley shot a 69 against State and may move up today on the strength of that performance. Black and Williamson both had 72's.

The rest of the lineup will be essentially the same as the one which faced the Wolfpack. Lew Brown may move up from fifth to fourth position with the remaining two places going to Jimmy Ferree, George Mountcastle, or Bill Thornton. Ferree and Mountcastle played against State but Thornton has recovered from an infected leg which has held him back and may be ready to go today.

Scott, Brigham Named Track Team Captains

Frank Scott, a senior from Orange, Va., and Gene Brigham, a senior from Augusta, Ga., were elected co-captains of the 1952 Carolina track team by teammates in an election Tuesday.

Scott, a pre-med student, has been the Tar Heels outstanding hurdler for the past two years. He won the 1951 Southern Conference low-hurdles in the Indoor meet, but was unable to defend his title in this year's meet because of a collapsed lung. He was the SC outdoor 100-yard dash champion, and scored 14 points in last year's outdoor championships. Scott took seconds in the 220-yard dash, and the broad jump in that meet, two other events in which he specializes.

Scott was counted on to carry a large part of the Tar Heels hopes into the Indoor Games this past February. His illness kept him from competing and Carolina's chances received a heavy blow.

Brigham is the Tar Heel's top quarter-miler. According to coach Dale Ransom, "Brigham is one of the best quarter milers I've ever had at Carolina."

Meade Made Officer

Bill Meade, Carolina gymnastics coach, was elected to the post of secretary-treasurer of the National Association of American Gymnastic Coaches at their annual meeting at Boulder, Colo., last week.

Meade, a former gym star at Penn State College and head coach of the Tar Heels for three years, was a regional vice-president of the association last year.

The Carolina gymnasts, led by Charlie Hartley and Andy Bell, finished their season in the Southern Intercollegiate meet, taking second behind the champion Florida State team. The Tar Heels had a good margin over third place Duke.

Grid Practice Starts Today

The Carolina football team will begin the experiment of switching from coach Carl Snavelly's old standby, the single wing, to the split-T here this afternoon as spring practice gets underway.

Installing the new offensive formation with Snavelly is George Barclay, an All-American guard here in 1934 and the head coach at Washington and Lee last year.

Barclay has had great success with the split-T and was elected Coach of the Year of the Southern Conference in 1950 after the Generals won the conference championship and competed in the Gator Bowl.

Otto Graham, the All-League quarterback of the pro Cleveland Browns, will be working with the Carolina quarterbacks for a week or so.
