

Carolina Cops Four Firsts In Relays

Sam Jordan Wins Pole Vault, Bill Walker Takes Javelin

By Bill Peacock

Maryland, Princeton, Duke, and Carolina came off about even in the Carolina Relays here yesterday, but the Tarps took three relay first places, more than any of the others, and indicated that they will have a strong defense of their conference outdoor title.

Carolina took two relay firsts, as many as Princeton and Duke, plus two individual firsts, but one of the relay first places was the freshman mile relay which was uncontested. There was no scoring in the meet, with all awards being on an individual basis.

The Tar Heels finished first in the 430-yard shuttle hurdle relay, doing very well and missing the record of 61.5 seconds by only two seconds. The record was set by the team of Bob Morrow, Bill Albans, Jack Moody, and Bob Taylor, an indication of its quality.

Running for Carolina were Romas White, Bill Cornell, Sonney Beall, and Bobby Bell. They were in front all the way, but were pushed hard by runner-up Maryland.

Sam Jordan, who took Carolina's only first place in the conference indoor games, took the pole vault with a good effort of 12 feet, 9 inches. Teammate White got a tie for second with Butler of Maryland and Fred Mewhinney tied for fourth.

Bill Walker, a senior who had never before competed in collegiate track, was a surprise winner for Carolina in the javelin throw. Walker's throw of 181 feet, 4 1/2 inches topped runner-up Hoffman of Maryland and Tar Heel Bobby Bell.

The outstanding performance of the day was turned in by Buz Taylor of Princeton, who broad jumped 24 feet, 2 inches to easily better Bill Albans' old record of 23 feet, 1 1/2 inches set in 1950. Joel Shankle of Duke and Morty Cohen of Maryland both topped Carolina's Frank Scott in this event. Scott's practice has been limited since a lung collapse in February.

Dartmouth Netters Improve, But Lose Again To UNC, 9-6

Dartmouth improved over its Friday showing, but still could not match the Carolina tennis players here yesterday, losing 9-6.

The wind kept both teams from playing its best, but the showing by the Big Green was an improvement over their 11-4 loss of Friday. As has been the case in all of Carolina's 15-point matches, the opposition has gained its points in the lower positions.

The Carolina tennis will be looking for its 11th straight win of the season tomorrow against State in a match played on the Wolfpack court.

Coach John Kenfield did some experimenting with his lineup as Carolina won its tenth straight match of the year. Still looking for three strong doubles teams, he moved Bill Izlar from the number one team and played him with Johnny Booker, an experienced doubles player.

The results were not too successful, with Izlar and Booker losing to Bill Bullen and Stew Stearns, 7-5, 4-6, 6-2. The new number one doubles team of captain Del Sylvia and number four
