

Duke Scores Twice In 9th, Wins, 4-2

Dale, White, Triple; Only Hits Off Duke's Joe Lewis

By Tom Peacock

The Duke Blue Devils scored two runs in the ninth inning here yesterday to break a 2-2 tie, and give themselves a 4-2 win over Carolina and undisputed first place in the Big Four standings.

Joe Lewis held the Tar Heels to two hits, while Duke collected eight safeties in the contest. Lewis, voted Most Valuable player in last year's Southern Conference Tournament, had little trouble with the Tar Heels, and at one time he retired nine men in a row. A walk, triple, and a balk gave Carolina its two runs in the third inning, and only one Tar Heel reached second base for the rest of the game.

Cavaliere, Gibbons, Score

The Blue Devils were hitting almost everything Port showed them to the outfield, but Carolina staved them off from the third to the ninth. Duke left fielder Red Smith hit a hard single to right with one out in the ninth, and third baseman Johnny Gibbons followed with a tainted inside-the-park home run to break the tie. Gibbons homer was a line drive that hit on the left field foul line and rolled all the way to the fence and under a shrub in foul territory. Gibbons was rounding third before Wayne White could find the ball in the foliage.

Duke center fielder Benny Cavaliere led the Blue Devils off in the first inning with a triple, and scored on a grounder to second base, giving Duke a 1-0 lead. Bill Werber singled, but Smith grounded out to end the inning.

Cavaliere singled to open the third, his second consecutive hit. Dick Johnson singled him to third, and he scored on a ground ball to the pitcher for the second Duke run of the game.

Dale Triples

Fred Dale tripled with a man on base, and Lewis committed a balk to send Dale home and give Carolina a 2-2 tie in the third. Mark Herring walked to open the inning, and Dale followed with his triple, a 375-foot clout to right center field. Fred Holt walked, and then Holt and Dale pulled a successful double steal, but their effort was unnecessary as Lewis had committed a balk. Carolina's only other hit of the game was a triple by Wayne White in the fifth inning. White's hit went to the same spot that Dale's had, but White tried for a homer and was tagged at the plate.

Lewis was in trouble only one other time during the game, when he walked three men in the second to fill the bases. He got out of the jam nicely by getting the Carolina hitters out on a pop-up, grounder, and a strikeout.

Carolina Capsules

On successive days here recently a member of a famous baseball family played on Carolina's Emerson Field. Dickie Harris, son of the Washington Senator manager, Bucky, is Wake Forest College's regular shortstop and played here one day. The next afternoon Connie Mack, III, played with the University of Pennsylvania baseball team.

Carolina's shuttle hurdle relay team of Sonny Beall, Bobby Bell, Romas White and Bill Cornell won the event in the Carolina relays recently in the good time of 61.7, just two-tenths of a second off the Relays record.

Carolina's one-mile relay team could have walked to a victory in the freshman division of the Carolina Relays this year. The Tar Heels had the only team entered.

Lehigh Match Opens Heavy Week For UNC Tennis Team

Coach John Kenfield's Carolina tennis team, riding on a 12-match winning streak, gets to the heavy end of the slate starting this week.

Starting with Saturday's Lehigh University match here, here is no let up for the Tar Heel netters. Next week the powerful Presbyterian College team comes here, followed by Kalamazoo and Duke, a couple of strong opponents. Then its Rollins and Davidson College April 22 and April 26.

Coach Kenfield expects the toughest matches to come from Duke, Rollins, Davidson and Presbyterian. Those clubs, plus William and Mary and Virginia later in the season, are capable of knocking off the high powered Tar Heels.

Despite the loss of Buddy Ager, Southern Conference singles champion, Bob Luxenberg, who teamed with Ager to cop the loop's doubles crown, and veteran Heath Alexander, Kenfield has another fine Tar Heel team.

Hard hitting Del Sylvia is pacing the Tar Heels. He has dropped but one match, playing in the number one position, and that loss came at the hands of Stan Drobac, Michigan State's great ace.

Playing number two is Herbie Browne, a promising freshman from Columbia, S. C., who is one of the Tar Heels' finest prospects. Browne has shown steady improvement. He came here with a solid tennis background. Last year he won the National Inter-scholastic championship.

Bobby Payne, another freshman who comes from Sylvia's home town of Richmond, Va. has taken over the number three position and is undefeated in singles play. He's the former Virginia high school champion and teams with Browne to form a strong young doubles tandem.

Bill Izlar, a junior from Miami, Fla., is a good doubles player and plays the number one match with Sylvia. He holds down the fourth singles position. He is big and powerful and will be a strong contender with Sylvia for the Conference doubles championship.

A pair of freshmen round out the lineup with Sam Handel, an ex-GI from Philadelphia, playing in fifth position and Ronnie Kerdasha, North Bergen, N. J., newcomer, playing sixth. Handel has shown flashes of a strong tennis game and has had good ex-

UNC Chessmen Lose

The Carolina chess team, playing a match with Columbia University, lost the first of a series of three matches here Tuesday.

Columbia, the National Inter-collegiate Champions, defeated the Tar Heels, 1½-½, with Carolina's Kit Crittenden getting a draw with Eliot Hearst for the only Carolina point.

Jimmy Sherwin, the intercollegiate champion, defeated Tommy Makens of Carolina, making 28 moves in the last three minutes to take a piece that Makens had left unprotected.

Lacrossmen Play Lehigh Here Today

Lehigh University's experience stickmen come here this afternoon at 3:30 for a lacrosse match with Coach Allan Moore's Carolina team.

The visitors will be the fifth intersectional team to appear here this spring. The Tar Heels opened the campaign two weeks ago with a victory over Georgetown University but have dropped successive matches to Williams, Dartmouth and Yale by one-sided scores.

A pair of Tar Heels has been carrying the scoring burden, with Dick Harrall, a freshman from Towson, Md., and Ted Dawes, a junior from Baltimore, scoring 13 of the Tar Heels' 20 points between them.

Harrall is one of a handful of Tar Heels who have had experience in the old indian game. He played four years in high school and captained his high school team last year. He paces the team with seven goals.

Dawes has a year of varsity and a year of freshman experience here. He won a letter on last year's team which won one and lost five matches. He has hit the nets for six goals.

perience while Kerdasha has been typically erratic as a yearling.

Have you made a "Pig" of yourself yet? Someone asked us how long we would continue to serve a "Pig's Dinner." Our answer was: "Just as long as there are folks who like to make Pigs of themselves."
