

Golf Team Edges By Kentucky, 15-12

Kentucky team at the wire, 15-12, yesterday afternoon at Finley Golf Course.

It looked for awhile that the Tar Heels might go down to their first defeat in nine matches but Lew Brown and Bill Thornton were able to get 5½ points out of the last foursome to hold on for a slim victory.

It was one of the weaker showings for the Carolina team this season and the Kentuckians, who have lost close matches to both Wake Forest and Duke on their trip here, seemed ready to grab any opening they could find.

Brown and Bob Black were low for the Carolina team with 75's, the team scores running a good bit over the average for the first eight matches. Following them were Bill Williamson with 77, Tommy Langley with 78, and Jimmy Ferree and Bill Thornton with 79's.

The medalist honors for the day went to Jack Kloecker, playing in the third foursome for Kentucky, who had a 41-33-74.

Not one of the Carolina twosomes scored clear cut victories as has been the way in the previous matches. Black and Williamson had 39, and Brown had 38 on the par 36 first nine.

The schedule will nearly be complete after the golfers meet Holy Cross tomorrow and Davidson at Charlotte on Friday. The only dual matches remaining will be home and home series with Wake Forest and Duke.

The Kentucky players seemed to think that the Blue Devils were the best that they had run up against in their spring vacation tour here. Duke defeated the Wildcats Monday at Hope Valley, 21½-5½, but the match was close up until the final holes. Wake Forest also holds a 21-6 victory over the Kentuckians with this match also not being decided until the late stages.

The summaries:

Bob Black (UNC) def. Ches Riddle, 2-1; Bill Williamson (UNC) tied Don Smith, 1½-1½; Black and Williamson def. Riddle and Smith, 2-1.

Tommy Langley (UNC) tied Charles Crabtree, 1½-1½; Jim Ferree (UNC) def. Art Stoll, 2-1; Crabtree and Stoll def. Langley and Ferree, 2½-½.

Lew Brown (UNC) tied Jack Koecker, 1½-1½; Bill Thornton (UNC) def. Bill Holton, 2½-½; Brown and Thornton tied Kloecker and Holton, 1½-1½.

Maryland Here Friday For Dual Track Meet

By Martin Jordan

The Carolina track team will meet one of its toughest opponents and the top team in the Southern Conference Friday when a potent Maryland squad invades Chapel Hill. Broken records may well be the highlight of the afternoon.

The Terps, who hold the Southern Conference indoor and outdoor titles, dethroned the Tar Heels last spring in the conference outdoor meet. Backed by several record holders, the Maryland team is rated as strong favorites in the meet.

Maryland's Jack Unterkofler, last year's shot put champion, is expected to repeat in his specialty. Tom Higgins will lead the list of Tar Heel entries in this event.

Cohen To Run

Marty Cohen, the Terrapin's all-around star, will top the strong list of hurdlers for the Maryland squad. Cohen may also be entered in the broad jump. The quartet of Romas White, Bill Cornell, Bob Bell, and Sonny Bell will lead the Carolina squad in this event.

Terps Al Buehler, Gus Meier, Bob Browning, and John Tibbetts are the strongest links in the Maryland line-up, topping the list of conference distance runners. Buehler won the indoor half mile crown early this year and Browning took the outdoor title last season. Tibbetts is the indoor two mile champion. Bobby Barden is one of the Tar Heels most promising distance men.

Sam Jordan will probably be the best vaulter of the day. Sam tied for first in the indoor meet this year in the pole vault event and has been making some good leaps this spring in competition. Buehler is the Terps leading vaulter.

Strong In Sprints

The Tar Heels are strong in the sprint events with Frank Scott and Jeff Newton carrying the load in the dash events. Carter and Cohen will probably be the Terp entries in this division.

Bill Walker of Carolina and Buddy Barnum of Maryland will be running close for a first in the javelin event.

The meet will be held Friday afternoon at Fetzer field and should prove to be one of the best this season.

Skeet Hesmer sacrificed the runners to second and third, and shortstop Fred Dale, who had tripled and singled, came up to receive an intentional pass from Bennett. With the bases full and third baseman Bruce Coats due to hit, Carolina coach Walt Rabb sent Herring in to pinchhit for Coats. Herring hit the second pitch and slapped a hard ground-single to right that scored Wiess, score at 3-3. Jim Smith, who giving the Tar Heels a 4-3 win.

Davidson scored once in the ninth inning to get a 3-3 tie. Right fielder Fred Stowe hit a ground ball to first base that Ben Smith fielded perfectly, but Smith let the ball fall out of his glove just as he crossed the sack. Johnny Gray and Arnold Whisnant both popped to Coats at third, and Gerry Morrow came in to pinch hit for left fielder Jack Branch after Stowe had stolen second base. Morrow hit a long, hard single to center field, scoring Stowe from second with the tying run and forcing Carolina to take its raps in the bottom of the ninth.

The Tar Heels jumped to a 1-0 lead in the second inning on two errors and a single.
