

BVP Dormitory Not To Be Closed Soon

Men living in Battle-Vance-Pettigrew dormitory can stop worrying about losing their rooms to the extension service or the Public Health school—for a while anyway.

Housing Director James E. Wadsworth yesterday said the idea is "just scuttlebutt." (This means "rumor"—Wadsworth is an old Navy man.)

"No such directive has come to me from South Building. Of course, if South Building decides that this move is necessary, B-V-P or any other dorm may be used by one of these groups," he said.

The dormitory picture as a whole is unusually good, Wadsworth said, and he expressed the opinion that nearly all rooms may be reduced to two occupants soon. With the opening of Cobb dormitory in September, almost all pressure will be relieved on the men's dorms, the housing director added.

Cobb's 213 rooms will accommodate 440 men. The giant H-type building, has 165 double rooms, 36 triples and 12 singles. It is located next to the Monogram Club.

Wadsworth reminded dormitory residents they have the option of reserving space for the summer and fall terms. A room does not entitle the occupant to that space in the fall, he said. Room reservation deposits must be made with the University cashier, Room 01 South Building, not later than May 1. If such deposit is not made, no room will be reserved.

of corporate worship led by the conference chaplain. Rethinking faith will be the purpose of the series of morning platform addresses and study groups will follow.

The workshop, another feature of the assembly, will provide new techniques for enriching and vitalizing local association programs from leaders who are experts in their field.

Three early afternoon sessions for discussion of concerns of the YMCA movement will be held and at this time the YWCA will elect its regional council and the YMCA its conference planning committee.

Besides the workshops and study series there will be tournaments, hikes, swimming and demonstrations of new ideas in creative music and games.

Cost of the Blue Ridge Assembly will be about $31.00, including registration, accident insurance, room and board.

For further information concerning the conference, interested students should write to either the National Student YWCA, Southern Region, 63 Auburn Avenue, N.E., Atlanta 3, Georgia, or the Southern Area Student Council of YMCA, 796 Standard Bldg., Atlanta 3, Georgia.

To Drill

One of the featured half-time attractions at the intra-squad football scrimmage in Kenan stadium Saturday will be an exhibition by the champion NROTC crack drill team.

Under the guidance of Midshipman Walter Travis Porter, Elizabethtown, the team consists of about 25 precisionists.

Among the spectators will be about 4,000 North Carolina high school students who will be guests of the University.

Exchange Program Speeded In Effort To Promote Peace

Special to THE DAILY TAR HEEL
NEW YORK, April 15—In a vital effort toward world peace the international exchange program has been stepped up so not only more people, but more nationalities of people, are being exchanged now than ever before.

Exchange of foreign students, if well planned, can help bring fast and specific results for some of the crucial problems faced by peoples today. Urgent needs around the world for improvement of industry and agriculture, health and education lie behind the current strong interest in special exchange programs for advanced personnel.

Kenneth Holland, President of the Institute of International Education said: "The exchange programs are being increasingly fostered as a means of providing personal experiences of combat world-wide communist propaganda offensives and developing mutual understanding between the United States and foreign countries."

Major developments in the past year reported by the institute include the expenditure of more money on exchange scholarships and travel grants for more than

Nehru also added, "contact between persons at a young and impressionable age is one of the most valuable means of removing international misunderstanding and leading the formations of friendships that cut across the barriers of race and nationality."

The institute received major administrative grants last year from the Carnegie Corporation, the Ford, the Rockefeller, the Commonwealth, the Grant, and Doris Duke foundations. One hundred and nineteen colleges and universities in the U. S. are contributing associates of the institute as are a number of business corporations.

ROTC Cadets To Face Service Immediately

Lt. Colonel Jesse J. Moorhead, professor of air science and tactics of the AF ROTC unit said yesterday that all non-veteran cadets scheduled to graduate and receive commissions on June 2 will be ordered to active military service within a period of not less than 60 days nor more than 120 days from date of graduation.

Of the 99 seniors participating in the AF ROTC program, at least 64 are expected to graduate on June 2.

Explaining that veterans are exempted from mandatory active duty, Colonel Moorhead said that 24 of the cadets in the graduating class of 64 are veterans. The veterans, who must have served at least a year in one of the armed forces prior to their attendance at the University, may request active duty if they desire it.

Orders assigning cadets who have applied for Flying Training, technical training, or language training are expected sometime in May. However, if assignment orders have not been received on such cadet applicant prior to phase of dentistry.

graduation on June 2, he will be given an interim duty assignment pending the receipt of orders sending the applicant to school.

Local Prof Talks At Dental Meet In Birmingham

Dr. William W. Demeritt, professor and head of the department of pedodontics in the School of Dentistry, was guest lecturer before members of the Alabama State Dental Society at its 83rd annual meeting in Birmingham this week.

Dr. Demeritt, who is one of the nation's authorities on dental problems of children, discussed various procedures which, he says, should be common practice to dentists in this country, such as preventive information to parents, topical application of sodium fluoride, and the most modern technical advances in this phase of dentistry.

The discussions will be sponsored by the University Interfaith Council and the Philosophy department.

Born in Germany, he studied at the University of Vienna and did graduate work at Princeton and Union Theological seminaries after coming to the United States shortly before World War II.

Enter Meet

The rifle and pistol teams of the NROTC are entered in the Secretary of the Navy trophy matches which are held annually among the 52 NROTC universities and colleges throughout the nation.

These matches, considered to be the most difficult of all the annual matches fired by the local teams, are regulated by the National Rifle Association and must be completed by April 26.

T-Sgt. John A. Quinn, USMC, team coach, yesterday said he thought the teams will do well in the competition.
