Negroes Top Athletes, Says Sports Authority

Special to THE DAILY TAR HEEL
EUGENE, Ore. April 24—Dr. Ernest Jok, an authority on sports and medicine, told a physical education fraternity here recently, "If U. S. Negro women athletes were to compete against the Russian women in the 1952 field and track events, the Negroes would be victorious."

Dr. Jok said the black races are superior in a number of sports, among them hunting, sprinting and middle distance running, but are poor in the shotput and long distance running.

The reason for this, the doctor said, is that Negroes can derive less body heat and more mechanical energy from a given amount of energy than whites. He said this was proven with extensive tests given to black and white sharecroppers in Missouri.

"Athletes are fed by surplus energy and when one is undernourished, there is no energy left over for athletics," Dr. Jok said in commenting on the superiority of some nations over others in sports.
