

Quarterbacks Star In Blue-White Game

Down In Front

by Biff Roberts

Cool and rainy weather made Kenan Stadium look like there was a regularly scheduled game being played yesterday when the Carolina squad split up into teams and went through the annual Blue-White game. The play of the two teams at times looked like football in the middle of November, too. But then there were those times that you could tell it was still springtime and that Coach Carl Snavely and George Barclay had not yet gotten the running of the new Tar Heel T down flawlessly.

The first play from scrimmage brightened the eyes of the some 5,000 fans who came for the game. And the last play from scrimmage did nothing to lessen the hopes of the 400 or so stalwarts who stayed through the cold rain to watch the T in action.

Most of the fans saw more than they expected. To many it seemed that the Tar Heel offense was co-ordinating like it should in a regular season game. The rain made the ball handling tricky and fumbles were plenty, but considering everything the 1952 edition of Carl Snavely's football team made an impressive showing.

Twenty Day Wonders

You might call the boys the 20 Day Wonders for that's all the time they've had, including yesterday's game, to practice on the T and get it functioning. It was a big switch from the single-wing attack and the boys and coaches did it well.

Carmen Annillo, who had a hard time fitting in when he was here two years ago and transferred to Loyola of Los Angeles last year, looked like the first-string quarterback yesterday. Annillo is technically a sophomore because he didn't play any football at Loyola. That will give him three more years of eligibility and from the way he handled the ball yesterday he'll be mighty useful in the coming years. He made some mistakes yesterday but his handling of the ball and his passing looked good most of the time.

Annillo scored the first touchdown of the ball game on a keep play of two yards after having passed to end Dick Kokornick to set up the tally. He engineered the second Blue touchdown, too, hitting Mickey Young with a 25-yard pass before Young went over the last few yards for the TD.

A Lotta Motta

If there is to be anybody to put Annillo out of the quarterback it will probably be Charlie Motta. The White team had a hard time getting going in the first half but when Motta took over in the late stages, the ball game began to even up.

After the Whites had taken over on a Blue fumble on the second play from scrimmage in the second half, Motta sent the team down to the four in a series of plays. From there he kept the ball and went inside his own left end for the Whites' first points.

Again in the third period Motta showed a fast scoring punch. After John Gaylord had taken a pitchout and run the ball from the 39 to the 12, Motta took over. After a five-yard penalty and a three yard gain put the ball on the 14, the little quarterback kept the ball and went over right tackle for the score. Motta's handling of the ball in the second half was exceptional. He didn't pass many times, because of the rain, so too much couldn't be told about his throwing arm. But if he passes like he works the ball then Coach Snavely won't have any worry about the quarterback position next fall.

Bob and Bull

The Blue team had a pair of fullbacks that would run first string on any team. Bob White, who started the game, and Bull Davidson made like diesels all afternoon and it was a pleasing sight to Tar Heel fans.

White did a lot of carrying in the first half and helped pace both first-half touchdowns. He was especially effective in the early stages of the second half when Annillo sent him through the center of the White line for sizeable gains.

Davidson tied Motta for scoring honors with two touchdowns, the first coming on the game's longest run. With the ball on the Blue 23 yard line in the fourth period, Davidson cracked over guard and tore through a wide hole in the secondary and went on to score on a 77-yard jaunt.

If our fall football futures can be based successfully on yesterday's intrasquad game then there ought to be a few smiling faces around Woollen Gym come September. The team looked good for just having 20 days working at the T. There's no telling what it can do with a little more experience.

Annillo Stars In Blue Win Over Whites and swept his own left end to score. Williams' kick was good and the score stood at 14-7.

After the ensuing kickoff, the Blues took the ball to the 45 where Annillo fumbled and George Norris, White team end, recovered on the 48. Eight plays moved the ball down to the 13-yard line, where Motta on another optional play, slipped inside his right end and did a nice job of running to score. Williams' try for the extra point was wide, and the Blues still had a 14-13 lead.

Davidson Scores Two

On the second play of the final quarter Harold Davidson, on his first running play of the game, broke over his right guard and outran the White secondary for a 74-yard touchdown jaunt. It was the outstanding play of the game.

A fumble set up the Blues' last touchdown. Motta's pitchout to Wallace was high and the ball rolled back to the 36-yard line where a host of Blue-clad players fell on it.

White and Young carried the ball to the 8 on six running plays. Davidson smashed over the middle and romped into the end-zone to score. Foti's kick was no good and the score was 27-13.

White looked very good at the fullback slot. The 180-pound sophomore was a ball of fire on running plays up the middle. He carried the ball on 11 plays and picked up 59 yards for a 5.9 yards average per carry.

Annillo and Motta both looked like veteran quarterbacks. Annillo's passing was very good. He threw 11 times and completed five of them, one for a score.

Both teams did most of their running up the middle and inside the tackles. The wide plays were good for yardage whenever they were used, but the wet ball made long pitchouts dangerous.

Tar Heel Lacrosse Squad Trounces Norfolk NAS, 15-3

The Tar Heel Lacrosse team trounced the Norfolk Naval Air Station team by a score of 15-3 on rain-soaked Navy Field yesterday morning.

Highlight of the game was the play of Dickie Harrall, Dick, who just recently returned to action, broke one school record and tied another. He smashed the individual scoring record for a single game, scoring seven goals. He also tied the record for goals in a single season. He now has sixteen. Both these were formerly held by teammate Walt Ernst. Ernst set the game record against VPI last year. He set the season record last year, too.

The game resembled somewhat the encounter of two weeks ago. However, the muddy field led to bad passes and the slippery ball didn't always go where it was supposed to.

Runners-up in the scoring department for Carolina were Wait Ernst with 3, co-captain Bud Kaufman with 2, and Andy Bell, Wilbur Jones, and Dave Cole each with one goal.

Scorers for Norfolk were Frank Noel, Rollins Wilson, and Barry Massing, each with one goal.

After the game, coach Alan Moore commented "the reserves played well today and I was very happy to see them do so."
