BULLETIN

Special to THE DAILY TAR HEEL.
WASHINGTON, April 30—By promising to break up the paralyzing steel strike, the Government won back temporary control of the steel industry by a one-vote margin in the U. S. Court of Appeals today.

CIO President Philip Murray gave no immediate indication he would call off the strike of his 650,000 workers even in face of today's stay of injunction by the court. The vote was 5-4 for the stay.

"There will be no word going out to the men tonight," Murray said.

The Appeals Court gave the Government until Friday to get its case before the Supreme Court. Deciding in favor of the Government, the appeals group called the steel strike "catastrophic."

Tuesday Federal District Court said the President's seizure was unconstitutional and ordered the mills restored to private ownership.

"Over 95 percent of the factories are idle. The country is losing 300,000 tons of steel a day because of the walkout," the court said in explaining its action.
