

Netters Leave On Road Trip

Carolina's winning tennis team left yesterday on a tour of the North, with William and Mary College in Williamsburg, Virginia slated for its first stop.

William and Mary is always strong in Southern Conference play, and the Indians were hypothetical Virginia champions last year. The Tar Heels are still slight favorites to take the match however.

The team's parting shot on the Carolina courts was a resounding 9-0 win over Washington and Lee Thursday, and Coach John Kenfield was pleased with the shooting of the whole team. Kenfield had a few problems, especially with the third doubles, but he feels the team has shown improvement.

The netters will finesse all the states between Virginia and Massachusetts, and on Tuesday, May 5, they will play Massachusetts College at Amherst. The team will come back to Virginia May 13 to play the University of Virginia, and then go to the Southern Conference Championships at Davidson.

ond run of the inning. Wiess singled for Carolina's third consecutive hit with two away, scoring Bridger and giving the Tar Heels a 9-0 lead.

Bruce Coats led off the eighth with a long line drive to right center, and scrambled home standing up for a homer and Carolina's last run of the game.

The win gives Carolina a 6-6 record in Conference play for the season. Ports hurling job was the best Carolina has seen this year, and coach Walt Rabb was pleased with the heartening amount of hits the Tar Heels collected. Only Dale and Gravitte, usually Carolina's best hitters, went without a safety yesterday.

Sports Day To Be Held On May 14

by Martin Jordan

The annual Big Four Sports Day program has been planned by the murals office and preparations for tryouts have been made for the big event to be held on May 13. The program will consist of competition in softball, horseshoes, tennis, handball, volleyball, golf and table tennis.

Duke, Wake Forest, State, and Carolina will have their best intra-mural teams and individual stars entered in the meet, which will be held here at Chapel Hill. The Sports day will come as a climax to this year's murals program.

The Tar Heel murals office has made plans for softball tryouts, which will be held on field number 5 from 4:00 to 6:00 on Monday, May 5. Many players, representing the numerous fine teams in both intra-mural softball divisions, are expected to tryout for positions on the Carolina team.

Horseshoe tryouts will be held at 7:00 Wednesday night of next week, and tennis tryouts are scheduled for 4:00 on next Monday and Wednesday.

Tryout schedules have not been released by the intra-mural office for handball, volleyball, golf and table tennis. The tryouts will
