Poll Shows Students OK Honor System

by the Associated Collegiate Press
Special to THE DAILY TAR HEEL
Most American college students approve of the idea of an honor system for their school, although students at the larger universities tend to think such a system impractical.

The honor system is used in many schools. Students are on their honor not to cheat on tests and examinations, and they are not checked by proctors.

A cross-section of the nation's students was asked: In general, do you approve or disapprove of the honor system for your school? Here are the answers:

1. Approve.....62 percent
2. Disapprove....33 percent
3. No opinion.....3 percent
4. Other.....2 percent

Those who approve sometimes feel the school administration is underestimating its students. "We're not children," says a junior at River Falls State Teachers College, Wisconsin. "We would prove ourselves if some trust were shown in us."

Middle-East Eyes On Israel, Forum Speaker Goitein Says

by John Jamison
David Goitein, minister from Israel to the United States, told a Hill Hall audience last night "The success or failure of Israel will shape the future of the nationalist spirit in the Middle-East."

Goitein spoke in the absence of Abba Eban, ambassador to this country from Israel. Eban was forced to remain in Washington because of an attack of influenza.

Speaking in the Carolina Forum series, the minister described the rise of nationalism in the Middle-East, especially Israel, and explained how that young nation hopes to demonstrate a working democracy to its neighbors.

"When Turkey was thrown over in the first World War," he said, "a vacuum was created that had to be filled. Saudi-Arabia, under Ibn Saud, was the first to carve a state of the old Turkish Empire. Syria and Lebanon eventually freed themselves from France, as did Iraq and Egypt from Great Britain."

"In 1933 when Hitler came into power," Goitein continued, "new hordes of Jews, fleeing to Palestine for refuge, gave added impetus to the movement for a nation of Jews in the Middle-East. Finally in 1948, after a war with the Arabs, we won the right to form our own democracy.

"If we, as a young nation, can find a more equitable way of distributing our wealth, we will be copied by our neighbors. If we can start a flame of freedom in the Middle-East, that freedom will spread to the other countries."

Goitein concluded, "You may ask how we expect to influence world peace when we are not even able to make peace with our neighbor Egypt. Well, we believe that we are closer in May, 1952, to peace with the Arabs than we were in January, 1952."

Head of the UN truce delegation, Admiral Charles Turner Joy turns up his coat collar to avoid the rain as he heads toward the negotiation tent at Panmunjom, Korea. He returned in just a matter of minutes, however, as Gen. Nam II, chief Red delegate, moved that the meeting be postponed until today at 11 a. m.

Slight Loss From 2 Fires

Chapel Hill firemen answered two calls within two hours last night but damage in both instances was slight.

The first call came at 7:45 p. m. The gas line running to an ice box in Lenoir Hall caught fire and was extinguished by the Fire Department. There was little damage.

The other alarm, at 9:10 p. m., was at the University Apartments on East Franklin Street across from Graham Memorial. Flames in an incinerator behind the apartments got out of control and scorched the apartment walls. Damage was negligible.

Alumni Drive Starts Today; Plans Told

Membership Drive Runs Until May 15; Myatt Urges All Seniors To Join Now

Senior Class President Archie Myatt yesterday released plans for the Senior Alumni Drive which will begin today and end May 15.

The Senior Alumni Committee, headed by Al House, will solicit individually through dorms, fraternities, sororities and through letters sent to townspeople, Myatt said.

The Senior Class president said a booth will be in the Y from 10 a. m. to 1 p. m. today through Friday, and May 12-15. "We hope all seniors will join here or through the Senior Alumni Committee solicitations," said Myatt.

If you graduate in summer school, or next year, you can notify the Alumni Association that you want to be classified with the class of 1952, said Myatt.

Formed to promote interest in the University and education in general, the association serves as a liaison between the University and the alumni body. It accomplishes this purpose by keeping up to date files on as many as possible of the 45,000 graduates in every state and 44 foreign countries.

Headed by Alumni Secretary Maryon (Spike) Saunders and Assistant Secretary Edgar Thomas, the association issues the Alumni Review several times each year. Every week during the fall, the association publishes a four page supplement giving a play by play account of the game as well as action shots of the play and complete statistics.

Myatt said membership in the association, which includes a subscription to the Review, is $3 per year. Graduating seniors pay only $1 for their first year's dues and $3 thereafter, he added.

Saunders said, "University alumni in many different states have regular meetings and we want this year's graduates to be

CUSC Elects Sully, Habel To Top Jobs

Tom Sully, a rising pre-law student from Charlottesville, Va., was elected president of the Consolidated University Student Council at its meeting here Sunday afternoon.

Marilyn Habel of Chapel Hill was chosen secretary-treasurer. The secretary-treasurer always is elected from the same school as the president.

Sully replaces Jane Sarsfield of Woman's College as president of the group whose purpose is to promote friendly relations among the three institutions of the Consolidated University. The new president beat Howard Wells of State College in the election for to job.

Sully has been a member of the Student Legislature and is in the University Club, the Dialectic Senate and Beta Theta Pi social fraternity.

"We now have what is in many ways a new constitution," Sully said yesterday. "Next year's council will be in many respects a new organization. The coming year will be similar to the first year of the Council's existence."

"We're going to have to do some experimenting; we're going to set a lot of precedent. We should seek, above all else to establish a working relationship

Six Fraternity Houses Looted Over Weekend

Zeta Psi, SAE's Hit Hardest; No Leads On Thieves

by Jim Hurley
Thieves entered six fraternity houses over the weekend and escaped with an estimated $1,500 worth of clothes and other valuables.

Six rooms on the second floor of the Zeta Psi house were looted. Twenty-four cashmere sweaters, one suit, one pair of trousers, one sport coat, a new set of golf clubs, an electric razor and a wallet which contained no money were reported missing by members. Value of the missing items was set at $600.

Three tuxedos, two dinner jackets, 15 cashmere sweaters, three pairs of pants, two sport coats and one suit were reported stolen from the SAE house. Brothers said the estimated value of the stolen articles was $810.

The thief almost was apprehended when he entered a room in which Jeff Newton was sleeping in the Phi Delta Theta house. One of the brothers at the house said Newton heard someone rustling around in a closet early Sunday morning but thought it was his roommate.

When Newton went to the closet to get a sport coat later in the day it was missing along with a pair of trousers belonging to his roommate. The trousers were valued at $18 and the sport coat at $40. Also missing from the Phi Delta house was a top coat, a light blanket and a "cheap fountain pen."

SAE Alex McMillan, who had a tux and a dinner jacket stolen, stated that he first noticed his clothes missing about supper time Friday.

Eight Zetas and five SAE's reported losses. The stolen articles were taken from dressers and closets in the rooms. Clothes lying on chairs and beds were left untouched.
