

The Daily Tar Heel News In Review

STANDING IN THE PULPIT of the Seward Avenue Baptist Church, Topeka, Kan., Albert Johnson, 23, confesses the details of a bank robbery he committed four years ago. The repentant gunman, who faces a ten-to-fifty year sentence in the penitentiary, told reporters he would try to convert inmates if he were sent to jail, then added, "I hope I will be granted leniency."

SULTRY MYRIAM Pettacci will soon return to the Italian screen. She is the sister of Claretta Pettacci, sweetheart of Benito Mussolini, who was killed by a mob along with the dictator during the closing days of World War II.

JOHN FOSTER DULLES is greeted by Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower on the former's arrival at SHAPE headquarters in Paris. Ike had just returned to his headquarters following a farewell visit to troops under his command in Western Germany. Dulles has been mentioned as Ike's Secretary of State should the General win the presidency.

LABOR'S Philip Murray (left) of the CIO and management's Arthur B. Palmer of Bethlehem Steel don their hats on leaving the White House after the collapse of the steel talks.

How Advertising Helps You Get MORE FOR YOUR MONEY

Advertising
 ... brings you news about better products you need
 ... tells you where to get what you want when you want it
 ... makes lower prices possible through mass production and mass selling

Yet Picture How Little All This Costs

For instance, advertising big-name brands of bread costs less than the wrapper. Any other method of selling would cost the manufacturer more and therefore raise the price. Otherwise he wouldn't use advertising.
