

N.C. Symphony Ending Annual Tour Of State

Rehearsals Set For Greensboro During Weekend

With only a little more than a week to go on its seventh annual tour of the state, the North Carolina Symphony Orchestra wound up its program of nine concerts this week with a free performance for school children in Leaksville early yesterday afternoon.

Rehearsals are scheduled in Greensboro during the weekend, and beginning Monday, the Orchestra will begin another full week of appearances under the direction of Dr. Benjamin F. Swalin.

Two concerts, a children's program and an adult performance will be given in Burlington Monday at 1:45 p. m. and 8 p. m., respectively, both of them in the Walter Williams high school.

Children's concerts will also be given at 10 a. m. and 1 p. m. in the Elon College gymnasium on Tuesday, May 13.

Other appearance next week include two concerts in Salisbury, a children's and an adult's, in the Boyden high school at 2:30 p. m. and 8:30 p. m.; two concerts in Fayetteville high school at 2 p. m. and 8:30 p. m.; and two in Hickory at 2:30 and 8:30.

The Symphony will move on to the western part of the state during the weekend of May 17, and wind up in Asheville May 19 and 20.

Frederick Sahlmann, pianist of Elon College, will be guest soloist at the Burlington adult concert on Monday night.

Ill-Fated Wasp Limp Home For Repairs

Conservative Group Begun At Carolina

A new club was added this week to the long-list of extra-curricular activities here. The North Carolina Conservative Club was formed.

The club is a "serious attempt to form a meeting place for the conservatives on campus," new President Wade Matthews said yesterday.

The charter states the club will "foster political awareness, present speakers, and promote enlightened conservatism," Matthews added.

Houseparty Rules Altered At Williams

Special to THE DAILY TAR HEEL
WILLIAMSTOWN, Mass., May 9—A new set of college rules designed to limit the influx of uninvited visitors on houseparty weekends at Williams College has gone into effect here.

The new rules also are to keep Sunday houseparty activities "small, informal and quiet," and restrict the number of social occasions financed from house funds, Dean Robert R. R. Brooks said today.

Marine Corps Offering Commissions In Summer

Lt. Nate Adams of the Marine Officer Procurement Office in Washington, said yesterday that University male graduates and seniors will have an opportunity to earn commissions in the Marine Corps this summer.

By June 1 the expanding Marine Corps will enroll a total of 1,000 officer candidates, according to Lt. Adams. Candidates begin their training July 14 at the Marine Corps Schools, Quantico, Virginia.

Married or single college graduates between 20 and 27 years old are eligible for the program. Seniors who will graduate at the end of the current semester also are eligible, but must apply before the June 1 deadline.

Married men will receive family allowances as soon as their candidate training begins.
