

Baseballers Upsets Blue Devils, 13-9

Tar Heels Beat Duke First Time

by Buddy Carrier

The vaunted Duke Blue Devils had one of their rare off days yesterday, and Carolina's baseballers made the most of every opportunity as they took a 13-9 victory over the Southern division conference leaders on Emerson Field.

The Tar Heels were outhit by the visitors, 14-10, but they capitalized on seven Duke errors and the wildness of the four Blue Devil pitchers in capturing the win. Curveballer Chal Port went all the way on the mound for the Tar Heels, and managed to prevent the Duke batting power from exploding for a big inning, although he was in trouble a good deal of the way.

Two Hits Apiece

Skeet Hesmer and Ben Smith each collected two hits in four tries to lead the victors at the plate, while little Benny Cavaliere had two for four for the Blue Devils. Every man in the Tar Heels lineup hit safely at least once, except shortstop Fred Dale, who pulled a muscle in his throwing arm and was forced to retire in the fifth inning, and Harry Lloyd, his replacement.

The game started off with a bang in the top half of the first inning, when the visitors scored three times on a walk, an error, a single, and a tremendous two run homer by leftfielder Red Smith. Smith's blow cleared the right field fence about 400 feet from home plate.

Carolina got one of these runs back in their half of the inning, and added three more in the second, but the Devils held on to the lead with a pair of tallies in their second turn at bat. The winners went ahead by seven to six in the fourth, however, and were never headed.

Big Inning

The Tar Heels' big inning was the sixth, when they scored five game-clinching markers. Nine men batted in this frame, with the runs being scored on a total of three hits and three errors. Ben Smith led off with a single, and went to second on Connie Gravette's sacrifice. Dick Wiess walked, then went to third on an error by third sacker Bill Donivan, on Bill Reeves' grounder, Smith scoring. Port poked a single into left, scoring Wiess, and Reeves came in on Hesmer's one bagger to the same spot. After Lloyd fouled out, Port crossed the plate on a bobble of Mark Herring's grounder. The last run of the inning was scored when Herring and Hesmer pulled off a slick double steal. The lucky thirteenth tally came in the eighth on triples by Gravette and Reeves.

MANGUM MEDAL

The Mangum Medal oratory contest has been postponed until Thursday, May 15, to give interested persons more time to submit applications. Any senior who will graduate by fall of 1952 is eligible for the competition. Applications should be submitted to Bill Walker at the Delta Psi house.

Tennis Team Defeats Springfield Squad, 9-0

Special to THE DAILY TAR HEEL

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., May 9—The Carolina tennis team captured another win yesterday as they defeated a not-to-strong Springfield squad 9-0. The Tar Heels took all nine matches and the win gives Carolina a 22-2 record for season competition.

Del Sylvia, Carolina's top netter defeated Will Summers of Springfield 6-2, 6-3 in the first singles match of the afternoon. Del looked good as he completely outplayed Summers, Springfield's best man.

In the second singles match Herb Browne racked up a 6-4, 6-2 win over Ed Newton. Browne was pushed to take the first set but rallied in the last three games to drop Newton.

Bob Payne had little trouble with Jeff Resnick as he gained a win of 6-1, 6-2 and Bill Izler defeated John Connors 6-1 in both sets.

Sam Handel, who has shown up exceptionally well for the Tar Heels on their Northern trip, had the easiest time of the day as he defeated Bob Lake 6-1, 6-0. Ronnie Kerdasha took the last singles match with a 7-5, 6-2 win over Charles Butt.

Sylvia and Handel put the first doubles match in the books as a win for the Tar Heels. The number one Carolina doubles team defeated Newton and Lake of Springfield 6-0, 6-1.

Brown and Payne teamed together to hand Butt and Summers a 6-2, 6-1 drubbing and Milton (See TENNIS, Page 8)
