NEWS IN BRIEF

PANMUNJOM, Korea — The Communists defied the United Nations yesterday to break off the Korean armistice negotiations. They bitterly denounced the UN's treatment of war prisoners and arrogantly served notice they intend to use the daily negotiating sessions solely as a sounding board for Red propaganda unless the Allies accept Communist truce terms or suspend the talks.

WASHINGTON — "President Truman's failure to use the Taft-Hartley law in the steel crisis points up our claim of usurpation of powers when he seized the steel industry," claimed John W. Davis, New York attorney, yesterday before the Supreme Court. Davis maintained there was a "lack of necessity" for the action taken by the President since the Taft-Hartley law was on the books.

WHITEVILLE — More Klan arrests may be in the offing following a trial in which three alleged former Klansmen were convicted of assault and two others freed in a flogging case. Solicitor Clifton L. Moore indicated charges are pending in other Klan cases involving some "fairly prominent" residents of Columbus County.

WASHINGTON — Public hearing on a move aimed at unseating Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) opened yesterday. Sen. Gillette (D-Ia) is chairman of the Senate Elections Subcommittee which is conducting the hearings.

RALEIGH — Police Chief S. L. Bagwell of nearby Apex was exonerated by a coroner's jury in the double slaying of Negro brothers Saturday night. Bagwell is hospitalized here with wounds received allegedly when the Negroes cut him in a scuffle following their arrest for speeding.

Dr. Cartledge Talks Wednesday

Dr. Groves H. Cartledge, senior Scientist at the Oak Ridge National Laboratory in Tennessee, and father of Louisa Burns Cartledge, a graduate student here, will be the guest speaker tomorrow night at the meeting of Rho Chapter of Alpha Chi Sigma.

His topic for the lecture is "The Dark Ages and 1952." The meeting will be at 8 p.m. in 206 Venable Hall. Interested persons are invited.

Two More Days

Today and tomorrow will be the last two days for seniors to pick up graduation invitations. The invitations are being distributed in the Alpha Phi Omega room, second floor of the YMCA. Extra invitations are available for those who desire to buy them.

It is requested that friends pick up the invitations of seniors who are out of town.

Saturday Class Action Put Off

Issue Is Dead Until At Least September

Special to THE DAILY TAR HEEL

RALEIGH, May 12—University of North Carolina students could rest easier after the Trustee Executive Committee meeting here today as the question of Saturday classes for the Chapel Hillians was shunted aside until at least September.

The executive unit deferred action on the motion until a later date. This would mean September at the earliest since the committee will not meet again until that time unless called into special session. The full Board of Trustees which meets in Chapel Hill May 26 cannot take action on the measure since motions originating in the Executive Committee must be reported out by this group before they can be acted upon.

The Executive Committee lauded UNC officials for the survey conducted among students to determine what they do with their time on weekends. Chancellor Robert B. House presented the results of the study.

The committee met in the Governor's office.

FLANKED BY A NUMBER of campaign pictures, Ohio's Sen. Robert A. Taft waves to a crowd of supporters as he makes his first visit to the Taft-for-President headquarters in New York City.

Senior Day Plans Listed By President

Plans for the first Senior Day at the University were released yesterday by Archie Myatt, president of the Senior Class.

Myatt said this is the first time that seniors have had a Senior Day and he hopes it will set a precedent and become an annual affair.

The deans of the various schools will meet with their students tomorrow at 11 a.m., except for the fourth year School of Pharmacy, which will meet in the auditorium in Pharmacy School at 10 a.m. with Dean E. A. Brecht.

Dean T. H. Carroll, School of Business Administration, will speak to the seniors in 103 Bingham; Dean O. J. Coffin, School of Journalism, will meet in the Library Lecture room, and Dean Clifford P. Lyons, School of Arts and Sciences, will meet in Gerard Hall.

Coed Bumps Into Burglar

Special to THE DAILY TAR HEEL
BOSTON, May 12—Wielding high-heeled shoes as weapons, a band of outraged Emerson college girls chased a husky burglar from their dormitory after he surprised one of the coeds stepping from her shower today.

Stephany Wagner, 20, East Orange, N. J., had just left the shower and was returning to her room in the dormitory on Boston's fashionable Commonwealth Avenue, when she bumped into the intruder.

Stephany let out a scream and another student, Gloria Monta Blanco, 20, of Woodhaven, L. I., rallied the other coeds on the upper floors and they charged down stairs with angry cries after the scared burglar.

The intruder fled through an open window in Miss Wagner's room to a fire escape and escaped to the street. A checkup disclosed he had taken $60 in small cash from the rooms of a half-dozen girls.

ROTC Units Observe Day With March

The only organized observance here today of the third annual Armed Forces Day will be a street march by the Navy and Air Force ROTC units.

Heading the order of march will be the NROTC Drum and Bugle Corps and the crack drill platoon followed by the Navy unit. The AF ROTC Cadets, next in line, will be lead by the first group, followed immediately by the Color Guard. The 47 piece AF ROTC band will follow the Color Guard, immediately preceding the second group of Cadets.

The NROTC and the AF ROTC march will begin on West Franklin street at Mallette at 2:50 p.m., and will proceed down Franklin to Raleigh street, then up Raleigh to Cameron Avenue, where it will end.

Civic organizations will devote a portion of their regular meetings to commemoration of the day.

Flags will be displayed downtown through the courtesy of the American Legion.

The day has been officially proclaimed by Mayor Edwin S. Lanier of Chapel Hill and Mayor J. Sullivan Gibson of Carrboro. They issued a joint statement calling on community and civic organizations here to make proper observance of the occasion "as an our support of our nation's Arm-expression of our confidence and ed forces in their efforts to maintain the nation's security and promote peace in our land."

Academic Freedom

The answers on questionnaires concerning academic freedom sent to some 600 faculty members are being tabulated and will be published soon in The Daily Tar Heel.

Sponsored by student government, the survey was designed and executed by Jack Phillips, Chapel Hill graduate student in philosophy, and Wyman Richardson, graduate student in statistics from Boston, Mass. They were advised by social scientists.

Solons Name Five To NSA's Confab

by Barry Farber

The Student Legislature last night elected five delegates and four alternates to represent Carolina at the National Student Association Congress next August in Bloomington, Ind.

Wood Smethurst, rising junior from Raleigh, was approved as NSA chairman by the new reviewing committee after the original committee previously had rejected his appointment by President Ham Horton. Smethurst was accepted this time by the Legislature without opposition.

The delegates who will travel to the University of Indiana at Bloomington August 18 are Ken Barton, Andy Bell, Joe Raff, Tom McDonald and Wood Smethurst. Alternate delegates are Joel Fleishman, Ken Penegar, Lou Southern and Max Ballinger.

The National Student Association was formed after the last war by a group of delegates from colleges and universities all over the nation who felt the students of America were lacking an organization which could represent them on a national and international level. The association, now claiming over 350 member schools, serves the academic community in the fields of student government, student and educational affairs.

The final session of the 13th Legislature voted to grant $280 for the publication of the student government booklet "Student Control". A bill to allocate $155 for printing revised copies of the Student Constitution was reported out unfavorably by a committee and defeated on the floor.

A resolution to revise the present system of election districts was postponed for consideration until next fall, after a move to take immediate action failed to gain the necessary two thirds majority.

Wade Mathews (UP) asked that the Legislature act on the redistricting bill at once so residents of Cobb Dormitory would be assured of representation in the fall elections. Julian Mason, SP Floor Leader, defended the committee's report to defer action on grounds that the Elections Committee preferred to retain the bill and there would be ample time next fall for study, consideration and action.

Temperature Near Record

Yesterday's goose-pimpling 43 fell but three degrees short of the low temperature for May 12 set in 1936.

J. W. Posey, meteorologist at the U. S. Weather Bureau, Raleigh-Durham Airport, forecast the same weather again for today with practically identical temperatures. It will become warmer by tomorrow, however, Posey said.

The weatherman said the cool snap was caused by a cold front which passed after the rain stopped Sunday. Sunny and fair with cool nights was Posey's prediction through Wednesday.

Degree Candidates

There will be a meeting of all degree candidates tomorrow afternoon at 4:15 in Memorial Hall to explain graduation procedures.

Dr. J. C. Lyons, faculty commencement marshal, asked all concerned to attend. He called attention to the fact that meeting will be for all degree candidates, not just graduates.

are invited. ... cents until 8 o'clock and 35 cents thereafter. ... they think they have an ideal location, a nice place to spend an evening.
