

Blue Devils Tops In Batting, Pitching

Cavaliere, Davis Pace Departments

For the second year in a row, Duke players have captured the Big Four Baseball League pitching and batting championships.

Figures told yesterday show Duke's righthander pitching star, Bob "Diz" Davis, senior from Pottsville, Pa., won the hurling championship with a 5-0 record, while the Blue Devils' diminutive center fielder, senior Benny Cavaliere of Norristown, Pa., copped the bat title with a .438 mark in 11 games.

Duke also won the team championship by rolling up a 10-2 record. Last year Duke tied with North Carolina for the title and Joe Lewis won the pitching crown and third sacker Tom Powers (both of Duke) won the bat bunting.

Competition

In this year's pitching championship race Davis had plenty of competition from defending champ Lewis, who finished with a 5-1 mark. Undefeated hurlers in the loop besides Davis were Don Marbry of Carolina (2-0) and Jim Stevenson of N. C. State (1-0).

State righthander Lunsford Lewis (4-2) hurled the most innings, 55; allowed, the most hits, 53; and gained the most strikeouts, 35. Duke's Joe Lewis walked the most batters, 32; and he and North Carolina's Chalmers Port allowed the most runs, 26.

Cavaliere was headed by teammate Gordon Clapp (.500) in the bat chase, but Clapp went to bat only 18 times and that was not considered enough tries. Behind Cavaliere were Dick Johnson (.367) and Dick Groat (.364), both of Duke.

Groat Takes Three Titles

Groat won three titles, getting the most hits, 20; the most doubles, five; and the most runs-batted-in, 25. Another promising shortstop, sophomore Johnny Yvars of State, led in home runs, with four, and teammate Eddie Morris had the most triples, three.

Lamont Wins

Jack Lamont was a mighty lucky man yesterday afternoon after he won the prize of a set of four woods in the weekly blind bogey tournament at Finley Golf Course.

Lamont had a net of 70, and was the only golfer to have that score in the tourney which ran for a solid week.

Because of upcoming exams there will be no tourney this week.

Duke Cops Three Tilts In 12 Hours To Win SC Baseball Championship

Duke's favored Blue Devils won the Southern Conference baseball championship as expected Saturday night, but they had to make an amazing comeback to do it. N. C. State's Wolfpack was the runner-up, and up until the next-to-last inning of the final game it looked as though they might walk off with the title.

State had defeated Duke, 5-4 Thursday night to put the Blue Devils in the almost impossible position of having to win three games on Saturday for the crown. The Dukes came through, however, with an 8-4 victory over George Washington in the afternoon and two wins over State that night.

Duke Rallies

Going into the eighth inning of the final game of the double-elimination tourney State held a one run lead, but the Blue Devils exploded for five big runs to wrap up an 8-3 victory and the Conference title along with it.

Joe Lewis, Duke's pitching ace, got credit for the all-important win, while Ed Horbelt, who had already participated in three games in the tournament, was the loser. The winning pitchers in the other two Blue Devil victories on Saturday had been two un-sung hurlers, George Carver and Bill Ward.

Duke coach Jack Coombs was confined to a hospital bed with a kidney ailment, but he listened to his team's final victory over the radio.

The Blue Devils now will advance into the District 3 playoffs. The date of this tournament will be set Saturday.

Kentucky Athletic Policy Under Fire By Conference

(Special to THE DAILY TAR HEEL) LEXINGTON, KY., May 19—The questionable athletic policies of the University of Kentucky will undergo a thorough investigation by the Southeastern Conference. The SEC Executive Committee has ordered loop Commissioner Bernie Moore, former grid mentor at LSU, to look into every phase of the Kentucky athletic program except the much publicized basketball "fix", which has already received a great deal of attention from New York judge Saul Streit.

Within Conference

The investigation will be conducted entirely within the conference, according to Moore, with no outsiders involved. Moore announced that a "fair and unbiased" investigation will be conducted, with the possibility of using professional investigators.

This action was prompted by the University's being involved in the cage fixes, and the investigation was requested by Kentucky officials. However, Commissioner Moore intimated that the matter would have been looked into without a request from school officials.

The Bluegrass institute has been operating one of the most successful athletic programs in the country during recent years. The football teams of Bear Bryant have taken the Sugar and Cotton Bowl championships in successive years, and the cage crews of Adolph Rupp have virtually dominated college basketball.
