SEATED BEHIND A HUGE pile of thousands of telegrams received by Republican National Committee in support of Senator Nixon, Wayne J. Hood, executive director of the GOP National Committee predicted in Washington that General Eisenhower would respond "to the will of the people." Governor Stevenson (below) was reported yesterday to have used a fund of $100,000 or more to supplement the salaries of appointed Illinois state employees. Stevenson thus far has refused to comment.—NEA Telephotos.

NEWS IN BRIEF

CHARLOTTE—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, making his second bid for Southern votes, will cross North Carolina twice today, addressing thousands of Tar Heels at Charlotte and Winston-Salem. Final preparations for the Ike visit were rushed to completion yesterday at state Republican headquarters. Workers, who already had draped Charlotte's Trade and Tryon streets in red, white and blue bunting, put finishing touches on the speaker's platform and temporary seats in Memorial Stadium. More than 20,000 Eisenhower backers are expected to crowd the stadium this morning at 8:30 o'clock.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill.—Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson, silent on political funds and G.O.P. "vindication" sessions, took a look yesterday at Dixie campaign schedules and chances of patching up political troubles in the Southland. Stevenson aides told a reporter that through the middle weeks of October the Illinois governor will be jumping back and forth from his Springfield base to key spots both in the South and in the Midwest.

NEW YORK—The Scripps-Howard newspapers said yesterday in a dispatch from Chicago that a former Illinois state official had told about a political fund of $100,000 or more obtained by Gov. Adlai Stevenson. The dispatch said this was in addition to the political fund which Stevenson says was used to supplement the salaries of appointed state employees.

WASHINGTON—Russia's new ambassador told President Truman yesterday the Soviet Government is "striving to maintain friendly political, economic and cultural relations" with the United States. The envoy, George N. Zarubin, presented his credentials to Truman at the White House in a three-minute face to face meeting.

Blood Needed

The refrigeration unit on the Hospital blood bank cut off Wednesday night with the resulting loss of 32 pints of blood. Joseph P. Greer, Assistant Director of the University Hospital, said yesterday.

Hospital authorities, eager to replenish their depleted stock as soon as possible, asked anyone interested in donating blood to call the blood bank at telephone 9031, extension 321, as soon as possible. All blood donated will be credited to the donor's account at University Hospital for a period of three years.

Tarnation Has Meet, Hears Editor

Two ingredients for the success of humor magazine Tarnation are contributions and hard work, said Editor Tom Alexander at yesterday's organizational meeting in Graham Memorial.

The new Tarnation came one step closer to reality when 60 students turned out in an attempt to determine the talent available.

Alexander announced a meeting for writers, both those present and others interested, at 3 o'clock this afternoon in the Tarnation office, ground floor of Graham Memorial.

Publication date for the first issue is scheduled for the middle of November. The deadline for contributions is October 15.

The present staff includes Jim Lindley, business manager; Wallace Prigden, advertising manager; Miss Mickey Rouse, exchange editor.

Texas Team Arrives Here For Big Game

Bob Phillips and John Patsevouras, representing the Monogram Club, met the University of Texas football team when it arrived at Raleigh-Durham airport yesterday at 4:35 p.m.

Saving Soldiers' Lives

UNC Helping In Korea

The University is helping to save our soldiers' lives in Korea. A series of experiments are being conducted by the Physics Department here to furnish data toward the development of stronger armor for our men and equipment. Dr. A. V. Masket is supervising the work in conjunction with the Naval Research Laboratory in Washington.

By means of ballistics equipment and cathode ray oscillographs, a complete dynamical history is obtained that tells the penetration story of special hand-made bullets fired into different armor types. Currently being tested are plates of special treated steel and plastics as well as combinations of the two. Measurement of speeds at intervals of one-millionth of a second are now being recorded and studied. Dr. Masket also is working with

by Bob Slough
Bring your own PJ and meet at the YMCA tonight at 7:30.

There's going to be a parade (not a party) and the PJ is pajamas (not drinks). Nevertheless, Head Cheerleader Bo Thorpe still expects plenty of spirit for the kick off pep rally of the 1952 football season.

"For years our cheering section has been great," Thorpe said yesterday, "and this year it's going to be even better."

Plans call for the parade to form at the Y Court at 7:30 and then move off for a snake dance of pajama-clad students down the main street of Chapel Hill.

"Carolina is the greatest place in the world and we want to let everybody know it," Thorpe said. "Believe me, we're going to have a heck of a good time doing it."

Thorpe said there will be a card stunt demonstration for new students at the pep rally in Memorial Hall immediately following the parade. "The pep rally will be over soon enough for students to go to the Coed Ball," he said.

Other features of the rally will be a clown stunt by Tommy Temple and Johnny Holland, and music by the University Band.

"We've already had two pep rallies for freshmen orientation and they really had the spirit," Thorpe said. "When we blend this new spirit with the old, it should be a great mixture," he added.

"New students should not worry about doing the card stunts because there will be plenty of old students to help them," Thorpe said.

Assisting Thorpe this year will be Sue Carter, Linda Smith, Teensy Matthews, Barbara Sanford, Johnny Poindexter, Clyde Camp, Tommy Rogers, Harry Aycock, and Donnie Thomas.

IFC Warns New Men Of Silence

Some 600 Carolina freshmen and transfer students who expressed a desire to join social fraternities this week are now remaining at a conspicuous distance from their prospective brothers in observance of an 18-day "strict silence" period.

An Interfraternity Council handbook, edited by Lewis Ken Penegar said yesterday. Organized last April, SUAB grew out of recommendations made at the student government clinic held at Camp New Hope.

The purpose of SUAB is twofold, said Penegar. The Coordination Council, one of 12 branches of SUAB, is composed of heads of every student organization, meeting periodically to schedule events and avoid conflicts. A calendar giving dates and hours will be published by SUAB, said Penegar.

The second function of SUAB is to get more students in direct participation in campus activities centering around the student union. The individual activities cards filled out by new students are the first step in this program.

"SUAB needs volunteer workers to carry out its program," said Penegar. A meeting for all interested will be held at 4 o'clock this afternoon in the SUAB office in Graham Memorial.

A new student must visit each fraternity from which he has received an invitation on the first or second night of the rushing period.

A rushee must observe the regulated hours of rushing.

Marcello Harrer Is Named Women Students' Adviser

Miss Marcella C. Harrer of Chapel Hill has been appointed personnel adviser to women in the Dean of Women's Office to succeed Mrs. Emery B. Denny Jr., who resigned earlier this month.

Miss Harrer has been assistant personnel adviser since January, 1950, working with the interviewing program and advising women students and on student activities. Before joining the women's office staff, she was secretary to the vice-president of

Frosh Tell Board Likes And Dislikes

A new wrinkle in extracurriculars appeared in orientation of new students this week.

Individual activities cards were given to all new students by the Student Union Activities Board.

All campus organizations are listed on the cards and new students checked those which interested them. SUAB is now tabulating the cards and will give the names of interested students to each organization, Chairman Ken Penegar said yesterday.

Morehead Has Exhibit On Student Unions

A collection of photographs of student union buildings at various schools throughout the country will be on exhibit in the display room of the Morehead Planetarium until next Wednesday.

Graham Memorial is sponsor of the exhibit, which aims to show students what facilities other schools have in this line. The exhibit is in connection with efforts to obtain a new student union building here at Carolina.

SUE STOKES

Secretary Sue Stokes Back At Y

A familiar face to many UNC students is that of Miss Sue Stokes, a '49 graduate who has returned to her former position as assistant secretary of the YWCA.

Miss Stokes, just back from 15 months in Europe, replaces Miss Dickie Ennis, now with the YWCA at Louisiana State University, Baton Rouge.

While in Europe Miss Stokes spent 11 months in Naples, Italy, and made trips to England, France, Switzerland, Greece, Spain and Morocco. Previous to her travels she served as assistant secretary of the Y and worked with the Y-Teen organization in Chapel Hill for two years.

As a student at UNC, Sue was president of the Interdormitory Council and a member of Women's Honor Council, Valkyries and the Y Cabinet.

Hey Frosh, Only Four Days Left

Freshmen have just four more days to have pictures taken for the 1953 Yackety Yack, said Managing Editor Bob Colbert, yesterday.

The last day freshmen can have pictures made is next Wednesday. From October 2 to October 8, sophomores will be photographed and from October 9 through October 15, juniors will have pictures made. The schedule calls for seniors to have pictures made from October 16 through October 22.

Men should wear coats and ties and women should wear white blouses. All pictures will be taken in the Rendezvous Room between the hours of 2 and 9 p.m.

Still Short, Some Rooms Available

The campus housing shortage is improving somewhat, Housing Officer James E. Wadsworth said yesterday.

He pointed out that nearly 100 rooms had been made available during the day by the evacuation of unauthorized occupants.

Conditions are not yet satisfactory, however, Wadsworth said. He has been able to do nothing to ease the crowded basement of Cobb Dormitory, and has been forced to place small groups in the basements of Alexander and Joyner.

Wadsworth added that a man will be assigned to guard the belongings of the occupants of Cobb basement during the football game Saturday.

He requested the cooperation of the students in reporting all room changes to the Housing Office.

Grail Dance Set Tomorrow

The Order of the Grail will hold its first dance of the fall quarter tomorrow night in the Naval Armory from 9 until 12 o'clock.

Tickets for the dance, which will be informal, will be on sale in the Y Court throughout today, and at the Armory door tomorrow night. The prices are 75 cents per couple and $1 each for stags.

Music will be furnished by the Duke Ambassadors. Featured with the band will be Miss Jean Tew, who won the Miss Durham title this year, and has been heard on recordings from WPTF's "Our Best To You."

Extra Yacks Now Sought

Don't throw in the towel yet. If you didn't get a 1952 Yackety Yack and still want one, you can get it soon.

Editor Hugh Gale yesterday said the Yack will purchase 1952 annuals for $3, two-thirds of the actual cost. As soon as the Yacks are purchased, Gale will announce when students can get them.

The purchasing was authorized by the Publications Board Wednesday night at its first meeting of the year. The board also approved of a seven column Daily Tar Heel to run on an indefinite experimental basis.

Student Union, Social Rooms Also Included

Intramural Field And Tennis Courts Among Main Items

By Jody Levey
A new student union building and an armory-auditorium with seating capacity for the entire student body are included in a $7,000,000 budget request for permanent improvements to be submitted Monday.

Another large item in the budget is the $198,000 to complete the dorm social room in existing buildings and to renovate men's dorms.

The budget will be presented by President Gordon Gray and Controller William D. Carmichael, Jr., at the Advisory Budget Commission meeting in Raleigh Monday, South Building officials said yesterday.

Other big items on the proposed budget are a new Institute of Government building, an addition to Peabody Hall and equipment, an intramural athletic field and tennis courts.

Bringing the total of improvements on the main campus to about $5,665,000 will be the renovation of Bingham Hall, excavation for basements of Murphy, Swain, Saunders, Peabody and Hill Halls to provide more classroom space, seats for Memorial Hall, a water tank, equipment for the new chemistry building and fire escapes on six buildings.

Improvements totaling $2,538,000 will be asked for the Division of Health Affairs including a new pharmacy building, a new public health building, an addition to clinic space in the hospital, remodeling medical library and third floor of the Medical School building, equipment for the new wing now under construction and for the cancer research laboratory.

The Executive Committee of the Consolidated University of North Carolina Board of Trustees approved a budget September 8 for the 1953-55 biennium. The State Legislature will vote on the budget when it meets in January.

Ceylon Offers Scholarships

The University of Ceylon in Peradeniya is now offering two fellowships covering tuition, board, and double room to graduate students for the academic year beginning June 1953.

Fields of study suggested to candidates for the fellowships are Pali and Buddhism, Indian Philosophy, Economics, Geography, History of Ceylon, and Sociology.

Applications, on forms to be secured from the U. S. Student Program of the Institute of International Education, must be filed, with all supporting documents, not later than January 15, 1953.

DTH Meeting

The Daily Tar Heel will hold a staff meeting for interested students Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the Roland Parker Lounges, second floor, Graham Memorial.

Managing Editor Rolfe Neill yesterday asked those interested in any phase of journalism to attend the meeting.
