POLITICAL NOTABLES TO ADDRESS STUDENTS

Gordon Gray Pleads Case For Physical Improvements

Requests Million For Student Union

By John Jamison

RALEIGH, Sept. 29—"For some strange reason the State has done little for student activities at Chapel Hill," said President Gordon Gray here this morning in presenting the 1953-54 budget requirements of the Consolidated University.

Gray, speaking before the Advisory Budget Commission, pleaded the case for the physical improvements needed at the three institutions.

He recommended for the University at Chapel Hill a $1,200,000 allocation for a student union building, pointing out that up to now facilities for student activities at UNC have been provided from private funds and are seriously insufficient because of increases in enrollment since their construction.

An auditorium-armory capable of accommodating the entire student body, was recommended at $1,500,000. This building would provide an assembly hall for the Student Entertainment series and lectures to the student body sponsored by various organizations on campus.

As it was presented today, the proposed budget for the Consolidated University totals over 18 million dollars.

Gray complained with special vigor about the seats in Memorial Hall. "Those seats are the same ones which were used in the first building to occupy that site. They are now about 67 years old." Forty-six thousand, one hundred dollars has been recommended for providing new seats for this auditorium.

The budget request submitted today will be studied in detail by the Commission. This group will make any changes in the recommendations which seem necessary and will present the revised request or the total request to the General Assembly in January.

Should the projected budget pass the Advisory Budget Commission and the General Assembly construction of the various buildings still would probably not get under way until July 1, 1953, the beginning of the next fiscal year.

Chief items regarding permanent improvements at Woman's College were an art building, $950,000; General College classroom building, $750,000; addition to the music building, $478,000, and a new dormitory, $500,000.

Another item for WC was termed "security measures in Market St. Woods Area, $60,000." This would include moving the main campus entrance to Market Street and surrounding the woods with some type of growing fence.

"This would give the Woman's College campus an integrity which it does not now enjoy," Gray said.

Improvements recommended for State College included a General College classroom, $780,000; military science building, $600,000; an addition to Thompson Gymnasium, $500,000, and facilities for the School of Design, $540,000.

A total of $2,538,000 was requested for the Division of Health Affairs at Chapel Hill. Chief item in this division would provide $1,010,000 for a new pharmacy building and equipment.

No Drinking

Coeds are reminded to observe the Interfraternity Court rule prohibiting the drinking of alcoholic beverages on fraternity property.

Phin Horton, spokesman for the IFC, yesterday said although there were no reports of violations this past week-end, the IFC thought it best to remind coeds of the rule.

'They Got Oil'

Aldai's Not Demos' Only Funny Boy

As spokesman for yesterday's budget request before the Advisory Budget Commission in Raleigh, President Gordon Gray was obliged to say a few words about his own salary.

Upon the advice of a Trustee committee, Gray pointed out to the commission that he was offered a salary of $17,500 to become president of the consolidated University. His present salary is $12,360. This was mentioned along with a request for general increases in the salaries of top-level administrators in the University.

In the course of his explanation Gray pointed out that Dr. Logan Wilson, vice-president of the University, will receive a salary higher than any mentioned in yesterday's meeting when he becomes president of the University of Texas.

Gov. W. Kerr Scott was heard to say, "They got oil in Texas."

Night Spot Getting Set To Reopen

The Carolina Club will reopen tonight after a $1,500 fire closed its doors last Wednesday morning.

Don Forbes, co-owner, pointed out yesterday afternoon that the Chapel Hill Fire Department is not permitted to leave the city limits, so the owners, along with a host of helpful neighbors, hooked up a garden hose and extinguished the blaze, but not before it had done considerable damage.

Forbes said 300 feet of ceiling in the main room have been replaced along with the cash register and a number of signs that were melted during the fire.

To celebrate the reopening tonight, couples will be treated to all the drought beer they can consume during the evening. A price tag of $2.48 was attached to the offer.

Frosh Have 2 More Days

Managing Editor of the Yackety Yack Bob Colbert was pleased yesterday for the first time in weeks—some freshmen actually showed up in coat and tie to have pictures made for the 1953 year-book.

Tomorrow is the last day for freshmen to have pictures made. Time for the settings tomorrow is from 2 until 9 o'clock in the Rendezvous Room of Graham Memorial.

With the freshmen down and the rest of the student body yet to go Colbert will be faced with the same old problem—nobody comes around to have their picture made.

NEWS IN BRIEF

NEW YORK—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's headquarters announced yesterday that he will make public his entire financial situation. The Republican presidential candidate thus accepted an implied challenge from Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois, the Democratic presidential nominee, to bare the status of his finances. Stevenson made public Sunday his income and tax payments for the past 10 years. (See related picture on page four.)

WASHINGTON—Former Atty. Gen. J. Howard McGrath denied yesterday a Congressional charge that he sabotaged the administration's anti-corruption drive last spring. McGrath was ousted from President Truman's cabinet a few hours after he had summarily fired Newbold Morris as chief corruption hunter. A House Judiciary subcommittee has been trying ever since to find out just what happened.

ABOARD TRUMAN TRAIN — President Truman yesterday bitterly denounced Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's charges of corruption in government by calling him a "front man for an unholy crew" of lobbyists using that issue as "a political football." Truman tore loose with one of his most scathing attacks on the Republican presidential nominees in a whistle stop-speech at Fargo, N. D., where he told a train-side crowd they'd better hesitate about returning the Republicans to power if they "want to avoid a third world war."

PARIS—Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway disclosed yesterday a serious lack of Allied air base facilities in Western Europe and put the major share of the blame on France. The Allied commander in chief said that even by next summer the Allies will not have the "rock-bottom minimum" of airfields needed for defense against any Russian attack.

SEOUL, Korea — Rampaging American Sabre jets knocked down two Communist MIG-15 jet fighters yesterday and damaged two more in a force of 150 which tried desperately to halt Allied fighter-bomber strikes in North Korea. Yesterday's air victories brought the Sabres' September toll to 60 MIG's destroyed, seven probably destroyed and 55 damaged.

No Murderers Among Them

Chapel Hill Policemen Search For 10 Escapees

A search for 10 convicts who sawed their way out of the Orange County prison camp near Hillsboro Sunday was concentrated yesterday here and in Durham.

None of the 10, one of whom is a Durham man, had been captured by early yesterday afternoon.

An all-night search through the rural countryside failed to turn up new traces of the fleeing fugitives who pulled a perfectly-executed Sunday night break.

Police here and at Durham maintained close watches at bus and railroad stations. Authorities expected the fugitives to make for Durham and Chapel Hill

Good Book's Gonna Be Better

New Version Of Bible Will Say Things So All Can Understand

By Tom Parramore A new version of the Bible will take the dullness out of Scripture study.

The lowdown on the new edition was heard yesterday from Dr. Bernard Boyd, head of the Religion Department here. He spoke to a YWCA Cabinet meeting.

The most striking change in the new edition, which goes on sale today, is that it largely is in poetry, Dr. Boyd said. He said the reason for this is that "we become poetic in the endeavor to express feelings and truths which are so deep as to be nearly unexpressible."

"I become poetic when I talk of Jesus because it is the strongest thing I know. Just so for a Jeremiah or a Luke. They were talking about eternal truths which refuse the limitations of mere prose."

Dr. Boyd's talk included a discussion and evaluation of the new Bible. He blamed the dullness of present day Bible study partly on professors, partly on students for not being able to transfer a written page into a living experience, and partly on the editors of our present Bible who have made pages too thin, printing too small, and form too unintelligible for clear understanding.

He said that changes in the new Bible have been made only to clarify ambiguous statements.

"It says things in the kind of words you and I hear everyday," he commented.

Dr. Boyd opened his lecture by urging "practicing the pre-cedence of God" despite the multiplicity of college interests. He said other interests should not be disregarded but that religion should be primary. He also suggested the beginning of a program of regular Bible reading, which would be infinitely easier with the new version.

"There are only three religious alternatives for the modern man," Boyd stated. "These are Buddhism, Mohammedanism, and Christianity."

He went on to explain that Christianity was the only logical choice of the three, since the other two religions do not necessarily depend on the existence of a God, and that we must believe in an omnipotent if we accept the fact that we live in "an intelligent and intelligible universe. The Bible is the book which is the special medium of the divine revelation", Dr. Boyd added.

Two Hospitalized With Injuries

Kappa Sigma pledge and a fraternity brother remained in the hospital here last night after being seriously injured Saturday night in an automobile accident on Highway 54 as they returned from Greensboro.

Kappa Sigs reported Charlie Spillane, Savannah, Ga., and Hal Farrell, a pledge from Graham, were injured when their car wrecked about 12 mile from Chapel Hill. Two others riding were not seriously hurt, the fraternity spokesmen said.

198 Coeds Attend Rush Week Kickoff

One hundred and ninety eight new coeds attended the Panhellenic Tea Sunday afternoon, indicating their desire to go through rush.

The tea officially opening sorority rush week at UNC was held from 4 to 6 o'clock in the main lounge of Graham Memorial.

Traditionally a dressy affair, the tea was attended by Dean Katherine K. Carmichael, Panhellenic advisers, members of all sorority advisory boards and Panhellenic representatives from each sorority on campus.

Yesterday was scheduled as a day of rest with individual rush parties beginning today and ending tomorrow. Each sorority will

Danziger Welcomes German Profs, Guests

Seventeen German exchange teachers and other guests were welcomed by the Danzigers with food and German songs yesterday in the Old World Restaurant.

The group is at UNC under the exchange teacher plan of the United States Office of Education. Four of their seven months in the United States will be spent in Chapel Hill as special observers.

have three parties tonight and tomorrow night. All girls are invited to these first parties.

Invitations will be picked up throughout rush at the Panhel post office in the Horace Williams Lounge, Graham Memorial. At the time invitations are picked up, rushees also may sign up for the time at which they wish to attend each party.

Thursday and Friday there will be five parties, so one sorority must be omitted. Three of these parties will be on Thursday night and two on Friday night.

Saturday is a day of rest and four parties are on the agenda for Sunday. By decreasing the number of parties in this gradual way, Panhellenic hopes to give both rushees and sorority members plenty of time to make decisions, its officers say.

Next Monday there will be only three parties followed by a day of rest on Tuesday. On Wednesday and Thursday, Oct. 8 and 9 there will be a dinner party each night, and on Friday Oct. 10. All girls intending to pledge a sorority will sign preferential lists on which they will write their first and second choice. Preferentials will also be signed at the Panhel post office.

Estes Kefauver Will Speak This Winter

Franks, McCarthy, Lehman, FDR Jr. Also May Come

Some of the country's top political notables will bring students a personal report on current affairs in speeches scheduled to be given here this year.

Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, Senator Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.), Senator Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn.), French Ambassador Henri Bonet and Secretary of Army Frank Pace are some of the well-known figures who will speak in Chapel Hill under the auspices of the Carolina Forum.

The kick-off speech of the year will be October 21 or October 28. The speaker has not been chosen, Forum Chairman Ken Penegar said yesterday, but will be either Secretary of Navy Dan Kimball; Assistant Secretary of Defense Anna Rosenberg; Vice-Admiral Turner Joy—recent negotiator for the Korean truce talks, or Admiral William Fechteler, Chief of Naval Operations.

Pace will be in Chapel Hill on December 4; Humphrey will speak sometime in January, and Charles E. Wilson, former defense mobilizer, will talk, on January 22.

The former First Lady, who spoke here in February, 1950, will return again this February. Kefauver, defeated candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, will be here in late January or early February. Bonnet and the Assistant Secretary of State for the Far East Dean Rusks will also speak here during winter quarter, said Penegar.

Sir Oliver Franks, British ambassador, Senator Henry C. Lodge, Jr. (R-Mass.), Senator Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.), Senator William Benton (D-Conn.), Senator Herbert H. Lehman (D-N.Y.), Senator Irving M. Ives (R-N.Y.) and Congressman Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr. (D-N.Y.) are tentatively scheduled for this year, Penegar said.

Men's Dorms Elect Tonight

Nominations for men's dorm officers will be made tonight at dorm meetings, IDC President Paul Somerville said yesterday.

Candidates for officers of president, vice-president, secretary-treasurer and inter-dormitory council representative will be selected tonight. Dorm elections will be held next Wednesday.

Officers of IDC were elected last spring. They are President Paul Somerville, Conner; Vice-president Bill Acker, Ruffin; Secretary W. D. Gerley, Graham; Treasurer John Ingle, Graham.

Ring Sale

Sale of official UNC class rings will be held Thursday from 2 until 4:30 p.m. in the Y Lobby.

Ralph Craver, Grail ring chairman, yesterday requested all seniors to place their orders promptly to facilitate delivery.
