

WEATHER

Fair and warmer with 58 high today. Yesterday's high, 48; low, 27.

The Daily Tar Heel

U N C LIBRARY SERIALS DEPT. CHAPEL HILL, N. C. 8-3-49 SSL Your chance to be a parliamentarian. See edit on page 2.

VOLUME XLI—NUMBER 25

CHAPEL HILL, N. C. WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 22, 1952

FOUR PAGES TODAY

Schedule Released For UN Day Friday

International Festivities Include Movies, Two Presentations By German Students

A complete schedule was announced yesterday for the annual United Nations Day celebration here this Friday.

State Leader To Address Demo Group

Mayne Albright, prominent State Democratic leader, will address a campus "Stevenson for President" rally here next Monday.

Sponsored by the local Young Democrats Club, the rally will be held in Gerrard Hall at 7:30 p.m. Albright's talk is expected to deal generally with the "Advantages Offered by the Democratic Party to the Young Citizen."

Dorms May Be Liable For Lodgers

The Interdormitory Council Monday night passed a resolution to establish a committee to investigate the feasibility of holding dormitories responsible as a group for the actions of their residents.

If the recommendations of the committee are approved, dormitories may be subject to fines or suspension of social room privileges for infraction of IDC rules.

Elected members of the IDC Court for this school year were Harry Faggart, Bud Moon, Wiley Kennedy, Gene Cain, Harry Pearsall and Mack Hoover.

The court has primary jurisdiction in cases involving violation of regulations governing University residence halls.

Baxter Miller, Gerald Parker and Al Braxton were elected to meet with the Dance Committee for the purpose of selecting a person to represent the IDC on that committee.

Members were advised by IDC President Paul Somerville that the success of the court remained in their hands.

The court can send a violation's case to the Men's Council if it thinks the violator warrants suspension from school.

Last Day

Interviews to select UNC's delegation to the annual North Carolina Student Legislative Assembly are being held tonight from 8 to 11 o'clock in the Men's Council Room of Graham Memorial.

Twenty-one delegates will be chosen to represent Carolina at the three day assembly scheduled Nov. 20-22, in Raleigh. Today is the last day for interviews.

JOHN KARSTVER, 65-year-old Pittsburgh man did not like taxes, so he burrowed himself a home under the sidewalk and there he's lived for the past 20 years, avoiding work and taxes. Shown at left is Karstver's underground home, and on the right he is shown at his latest address—the Pittsburgh jail.—UP Telephoto.

Students May Cheer Team By Telegram

Stay-at-home-students are being offered the chance to cheer the team at Notre Dame this weekend.

The University Club in cooperation with the Chapel Hill Western Union is sponsoring a drive to have group telegrams with member's signatures on them.

The club will solicit dormitory and fraternity and sorority groups through Friday. The groups may word their own telegrams and a fee of five cents per signature will be charged.

Western Union will operate a direct circuit to Notre Dame and the telegrams will be transmitted and delivered to the team tied in blue and white ribbon.

Any group not contacted is asked to phone The Daily Tar Heel office at 9-3361 or 9-3371.

SP Chooses Nominees For Junior Class

The Student Party's nominations for Junior Class officers were announced yesterday by Chairman Ken Barton.

Junior Class nominees are Wade Matthews, president, Ellen Wood, vice president, Bill Bullock, secretary, Martha Bridges, treasurer, and Jim Cocherham, social chairman.

Don Geiger and Bill Brown were nominated from the dormitory district. Representatives elected to temporarily fill vacancies pending the Fall elections were Allen Bader, Harold White, Baxter Miller, Skip Nelson, and Jim Haney.

Entry Deadline Nears For Yearbook Queens

Twelve girls will be selected for the 1953 Yack Beauty section Nov. 20 in Memorial Hall.

Deadline for entries is Nov. 5. Each organization may sponsor as many entries as it wishes. Applications must be accompanied by a $5 fee.

But Not For Long?

Marilyn Leaves Them Sitting In Phone Booth

Special to THE DAILY TAR HEEL. STORS, Conn., Oct. 21—It all started when Lambda Chi brother, Robert van Hagen casually commented in the fraternity lounge, "Wouldn't it be something if Marilyn Monroe came to our winter formal?"

Within 20 minutes a group of 14 Lambda Chi's had pitched in from a nickle to a dollar and a half each and the coast-to-coast wires were humming with a call to the Hollywood star.

With the co-operation of a friendly operator, van Hagen called the 20th Century Fox movie studios and was referred to her agent, who gave her home number. After over two hours of phoning, he finally managed to deliver a message.

He stated that Miss Monroe had been elected sponsor of the Lambda Chi Frosty Ball to be held in December and he would like to know if she could make it. Then he waited as the message was delivered. . . .

Miss Monroe was making a movie and could not come to the phone. However she asked van Hagen to call the next afternoon and she would speak to him personally.

The latest development: van Hagen's meals will be served in the telephone booth until the call comes.

NEWS IN BRIEF

WASHINGTON — Republican leaders said yesterday nothing short of a "personal apology" to General Eisenhower will make amends for President Truman's "unfortunate attempt to introduce bigotry" into the election campaign.

WHISTLE - STOPPING WITH TRUMAN — President Truman yesterday described Republican claims that his administration has been "outrageous" as an "outrageous falsehood."

SEOUL — Two Chinese battalions charged Sniper Ridge through mud and driving rain last night, but the Reds failed to break through murderous streams of South Korean machine-gun and rifle fire.

TAIPEH, Formosa — Chinese Nationalist leader Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek yesterday urged the United States to let his US-equipped troops invade Red China.

WASHINGTON — Soft coal mine operators urged their striking miners to come back to the pits yesterday and end a mass protest walkout that mushroomed when the government chopped 40 cents off the workers' latest pay raise.

LONDON — A former Soviet Russian army colonel asserted yesterday that Premier Josef Stalin has abandoned a plan to go into semi-retirement because his leadership and prestige are needed to carry out new Communist party plans.

Playmakers To Open Tonight With 'Death Of A Salesman'

The Pulitzer prize-winning drama and Broadway hit, "Death of a Salesman" opens at the Playmakers Theater tonight at 8:30.

Arthur Miller's play is the story of an old, broken salesman's realization of his insignificance.

The play also opens the 1952-53 Carolina Playmaker's season. It will have a five night run ending Sunday. Thomas Patterson of the Playmaker staff is directing the production.

William Trotman, Winston-Salem, is cast in the role of Willy Loman, the salesman, and Mary Long, Chapel Hill, plays his wife. The parts of their sons will be taken by James T. Pritchett, Lenoir, and Donald Treat, Waterbury, Conn.

Other members of the cast are Milton Beyer, Alden, N. Y., as Bernard; Anne Miller, Albany, Ga., as the woman; Walter Creech, Chapel Hill, as Charley; John Bonitz, Jr., Greensboro, as Howard Wagner; Jan Carter, Washington, D. C., as Jenny; Paul Anisko, Elizabeth, N. J., as Stanley; Mary Helen Crain, Durham, as Miss Forsythe, and Judith Taylor, Laurenceville, N. J., as Letta.

William I. Long, Playmakers technical director, supervised the building of an entire two-story house on the stage. Long has been technical director here for several years and has had nine seasons with "The Lost Colony."

The lighting is being done by Norma Cartwright and Claude Garren.

Approximately 150 new students were admitted to the dress rehearsal last night.

Tickets are still available at Swain Hall and Ledbetter-Pickard, or after 7:15 at the theater.

Humor Mag About Ready

Tarnation, campus humor magazine, will be out for Germans weekend, Editor Tom Alexander said yesterday.

The 32 page campus comic publication will be chock full of cartoons, jokes, poems, photo features and comic advertisements. It will be full sized and have a two color cover.

"In order to keep the quality of the magazine up to par, we need more subscriptions," said Alexander.

Subscription blanks will be distributed to men's dormitories in an effort to increase subscriptions. Many Woman's College and St. Mary's students have subscribed to the magazine, Alexander said.

Constitution Copies Are Now Available

Copies of the revised constitution are available to all interested students, Attorney-General Phil Horton said yesterday.

The revised constitution contains all the amendments and is fully up to date.

Half-Grown Larva . . .

Prof Solves Mystery Of News-Making Worm

By Jody Levey The mystery of the worm turned yesterday.

Dr. C. D. Beers of the Zoology Department identified the news-making worm as the "half-grown larva of the yellow swallow-tail butterfly."

The query from Hamlet, which made the news last week, was addressed to the "Worm Department, UNC" and read, "Wish you would satisfy our curiosity and wonder why it was found in my house." Enclosed in the envelope was a slightly mashed worm.

BIFF, JIM PRITCHETT of Lenoir, recoils under attack from the umbrella of Uncle Ben, Harry Davis of Chapel Hill, in a scene from tonight's season opener by the Playmakers, "Death of a Salesman." Curtain time is 8:30 at the Playmakers Theater and tickets still are on sale at Swain Hall and Ledbetter-Pickard.—Photo by Kai Jurgensen.

Speakers Laud Ike As America's Last Hope

Asserting that this nation has moved faster and faster toward 100 percent Socialism and Communism under the New Deal and Fair Deal policies, Dean Malcolm McDermott of the Duke University Law School said in an address here Monday that only the election of General Dwight D. Eisenhower to the presidency can preserve the American system of free enterprise.

Dean McDermott was the principal speaker at a Citizens For Eisenhower meeting held in Gerrard Hall under the sponsorship of the local group of Eisenhower supporters.

The rally was attended by 150 to 200 townspeople, students and faculty members. Ham Horton Jr., Winston-Salem president of the student body, who is chairman of the local Eisenhower Club, presided. He said another rally would be held next week.

Other speakers, in addition to Dean McDermott, included Jesse Page Jr., Charlotte, State Chairman of Citizens For Eisenhower, Harold Young, State Chairman of Citizens for Eisenhower in New Hampshire, and Capt. (ret.) E. E. Hazlett, Chapel Hill, U. S. Navy.

Captain Hazlett, who said he has been a close friend of General Eisenhower for 60 years, read part of a recent letter from the General in which Eisenhower said "I have always been guided by what, in my opinion, would be best for the nation as a whole, rather than by what might appear to be the most popular thing to do under any given set of circumstances."

Page declared that "the candidacy of General Eisenhower is the future hope of America. Our generation has darn near sold this nation down the river, and our young folks have become quite suspicious. We have let all sorts of wild economic dreams lead us away from our good old solid Americanism for which so many of our forefathers fought and died. It we don't return our government back to the social, religious, and economic freedom, we will be lost."

"The Americans for Democratic Action and the CIO are playing for keeps."

Page, who said he had voted the national Democratic ticket all his life 1940, said that all indications now are that this state will give Eisenhower a majority Nov. 4. He said that "Senator Willis Smith is going to vote for Eisenhower, and in the final analysis, and when the curtain is behind him, Bill Umstead is going to vote for Ike."

Dean McDermott said that "I am a real Democrat—I learned my democracy at the feet of that great Democrat, Woodrow Wilson, and worked actively for him." He said that Wilson and Franklin D. Roosevelt had warned against the dangers of centralization, "such as we face today," (See IKZ, page 4)

No Bum Steer

Special to THE DAILY TAR HEEL. RALEIGH, Oct. 21.—Gordon and Bowman Gray had a lot of bull at the N. C. State Fair last week—enough, in fact, to win a blue ribbon award.

Brookberry Karl, a bull owned by the UNC President and his brother, took first place in the N. C. junior championship. Another of the brother's entries, Sawaga Improvements Nettie, won first place in the female guernsey division.