Tough New Code Adopted For Rush

A revamped sorority rushing code, meting out stiff punishment for violators, was released yesterday.

The stringent new rules are a result of several charges brought this fall for dirty rushing against several UNC sororities.

The rules were released yesterday by the Pan-Hellenic Council. Two sororities, charged with "dirty rushing" and brought before the Pan-Hel Court during rush, were cleaned by the court. Another sorority, suspected of issuing verbal bids at rush parties, did not appear before the court as charges were dropped after discussion.

Under the new code, a sorority found guilty of verbal or written bidding during formal rush will automatically be docked five pledges. If verbal or written bidding is discovered after rush week is over, the guilty sorority will be deprived of social privileges for fall and winter quarters.

Interpreting this rule, Pan-Hel President Peggy Jean Goode said yesterday, "This shall mean that the sorority can do no entertaining nor accept social invitations from a fraternity as a group."

The new rules adopted by the council Wednesday afternoon call for a workshop for both old and new sorority officers to be held in the spring to discuss rushing rules. The code also requires that the period between the time sorority girls arrive at school and the beginning of rush shall be used by each chapter to "indoctrinate its members in constructive and ethical rushing."

Under the ruling new code will be given a talk about rushing rules before formal rush opens. They will also be given written information before rush about "unethical rushing as well as the Pan-Hellenic rush rules as given in the handbook."

The Pan-Hel Council also stated all cases of illegal rushing during formal rush must be brought up within two weeks of the close of rush.

At Columbia Sophomore Kidnapers Nab Frosh

Special to The Daily Tar Heel. NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—A very surprised and indignant Columbia University freshman turned up at the Chicago Police Headquarters recently.

According to his story, he was abducted by 19 sophomores during "legal kidnaping week" and shipped out to Chicago on a United Airlines plane.

"Legal kidnaping week" is an institution at Columbia that permits sophomores to work their will on any freshmen available. This particular time the sophomores outdid themselves.

The kidnaped freshman was first taken to an apartment where his abductors bound his head with gauze leaving only a slit for his eyes. After taping his hands and putting a overcoat over him, they drove their victim to LaGuardia Field.

The abductors got their freshman on the plane by telling the steward that he was going to Chicago to see a specialist for his severely burned hands and face. After the takeoff the frosh made a big stir for a "severely burned" young man. The steward extricated him from the gauge as he shouted, "Stop the airplane." The surprised stewardess replied, "I can't budge this airplane."

After the plane landed in Chicago, the police telephoned Columbia and were assured that a return trip would be paid for.

NEWS IN BRIEF

AUGUSTA, Ga. — President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower agreed yesterday to meet with President Truman at the White House the week of Nov. 17. Eisenhower took time out from a post-election golf-and-rest vacation here to reply to an invitation he received during the night from Truman. The president proposed the meeting in Washington "to facilitate the orderly transfer of the executive branch of the government to a new administration."

WASHINGTON — President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower probably could count yesterday on a friendly Congress to underwrite the domestic and foreign policy changes mandated by the volcanic eruption of votes that gave him the presidency. It was not so much that the Republicans had gained practical control of both houses as a result of the general's landslide victory.

SEOUL.—The Eighth Army yesterday called off costly South Korean attempts to recapture Triangle Hill and Gen. James A. Van Fleet flew to the scene to determine whether anything could be salvaged from the Allied setback there. To the west, Chinese Reds, blowing horns and howling "kill! kill!" snatched Jackson Heights from Allied troops, but abandoned it a few hours later.

WASHINGTON — Dwight D. Eisenhower's "house-cleaning" in Washington will sweep some 3,000 Democrats out of top-bracket federal jobs. But government personnel experts said yesterday the average "little fellow" on the payroll need not worry about losing his job when the new administration takes office next Jan. 20.

WASHINGTON — President Truman indicated yesterday that he will not make any more major decisions as the nation's chief executive, unless they are absolutely necessary. If world events should force a major presidential decision before Jan. 20, indications are that Truman will not act without approval of President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Spivak Sparks Germans In Big Weekend; Rally At 6

Hometcoming Welcome Mat Is Dusted Off

Concert To Begin Slated For 4:30 With Dance At 9

By Donnie Schoeppe

Take the "sweetest trumpet in the world" and throw in a concert, pep rally, German dance and hometcoming game and the result should be one of Carolina's most gala weekends in years.

It will be Charlie Spivak on the horn from 4:30 until 8 o'clock this afternoon in Memorial Hall. Immediately following will be a Beat Virginia pep rally in the hall.

Approximately 1400 are expected at tonight's formal dance, to be held from 9 o'clock to 1 in Woolen Gymnasium. All coeds have been granted 2 o'clock permission on Friday night with regular hours to be observed Saturday night.

"Interest in this dance soars over previous years probably due to the fact that this is also Hometcoming weekend," said Jim Schenck, German Club treasurer. "Spivak has an excellent reputation for college dances and his concert promises to be highly entertaining."

Featured in the orchestra will be Eileen Rogers, lovely song stylist, Joe Tucker, baritone, and Buddy Yanson, the "gentleman from New Jersey." Spivak and his orchestra have been a regular fall attraction at the Statler Hotel in New York. His music is of the style which seems to appeal to Carolina audiences, Schenck said.

The traditional Germans figure, which will take place at 11 o'clock, will be led by German committee members and their dates. Campus housemothers will serve as chaperones for the affair.

Kickoff for the Hometcoming game tomorrow will be at 2 o'clock. The hometcoming queen will be crowned at half-time.

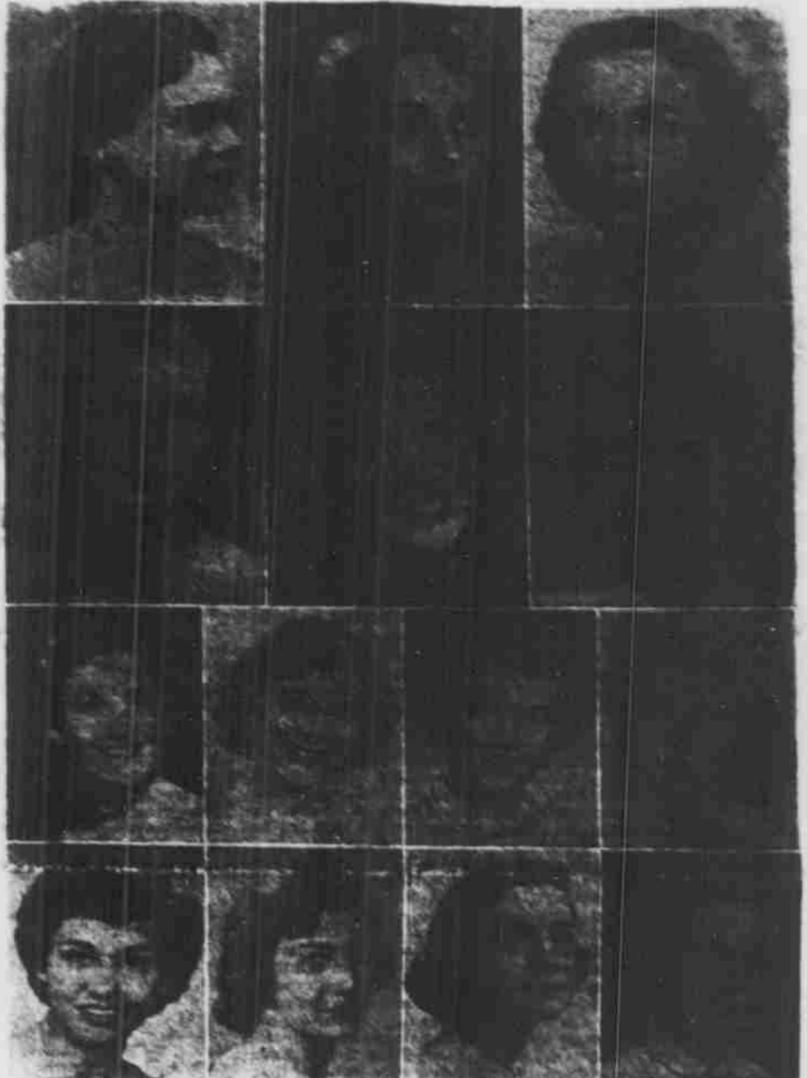

Hometcoming decorations will be judged at 11 o'clock Saturday morning and trophies for winning displays will be awarded before the game. Mrs. W. H. Branch, Ray Jefferies and Claude Shotts will judge displays on the basis of originality and workmanship.

Tarnation editor Tom Alexander said yesterday Tarnation will be published at the end of next week instead of this weekend as planned.

Dr. Getsinger Back In Town

Dr. D. M. Getsinger has returned to Chapel Hill to resume private practice of dentistry at his former location in the Stroud Building over Sutton's Drug Store.

For the past two years, Dr. Getsinger has been with the U. S. Air Force stationed at Scott Air Force Base in Illinois. Dr. Getsinger took his pre-dental work at Mars Hill College and Wake Forest College. He was graduated from the Medical College of Virginia School of Dentistry in 1947 with the degree of Doctor of Dental Surgery. He served one year on the teaching staff of the Medical College of Virginia in the department of Oral Surgery. In 1949 he began practice of general dentistry in Chapel Hill and remained here for two years. In January, 1951 he entered the U. S. Air Force, and since that time has been stationed at Scott Air Force Base, Ill.

Need A Good Head Pogo's Walt Kelly Gets Tulane's Newest Honor

Special to The Daily Tar Heel. NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 6.—Walt Kelly, Pogo's daddy, recently was honored by the Tulane Pogo Club with an L.L.D.—Doctor of Lighthearted Letters.

Kelly appeared here on his nationwide tour of college campuses — advocating "Pogo for President." "One thing in Pogo's favor is that he has more hair than the other candidates. Since there are so many hairs to split in Washington these days, we need a man with a good head on him," Kelly said in his campaign speech.

According to Kelly, Pogo is even more qualified than most candidates for office. Although Pogo wasn't born in a log cabin like most White House residents, he can go one better — "he was born in a log."

As to Pogo's stand on the Swampland oil question, Kelly said that the "big debate is whether or not the swamp is really part of the United States. If the government tries to interfere too much, the Swamp will secede."

around" with the FEPC because "if it don't spell nothing, it don't mean nothing, and we're not too good at spellin' anyway."

Cosmos Will Discuss Politics At GM Sunday

The Cosmopolitan Club will meet Sunday in the Rendezvous Room in Graham Memorial at 4 p.m.

A panel discussion on impressions of the political campaign will be moderated by a member of the Political Science Department.

A special guest will be Mrs. Harold Walters of the League of Women Voters. Members of the club taking part will be representatives from England, Pakistan, India, Germany and Finland.

Modern Man Talk Tonight

A panel discussion, "What Is The Faith of Modern Man?" will be held tonight at 8 o'clock in the main lounge of Graham Memorial.

The panel, sponsored by the forum committee of the Student Union Activities Board, will be composed of Dr. E. Maynard Adams, Dr. Arnold Nash, Dr. Joseph Straley and Dr. William Potest, moderator.

The pattern of the forum will be a statement of each panel member's opinion on the subject, followed by a brief rebuttal, and concluded by a question and answer session between the audience and the panel. A reception will be given after the forum.

Coed Has Polio

Carol Covington, coed from Troy, N. C., was stricken with polio late Wednesday night.

She is in the University Hospital, where her condition was described last night as "satisfactory." Miss Covington is the sixth case of polio on the campus since the beginning of the fall quarter. She is a resident of Melrose Dormitory.
