

CAROLINA CAROUSEL

Deenie Schoeppe

Trips to South Carolina and recoveries from last weekend seem to head this week's activities, along with petition signing and quite a few pinnings.

ATO Fletcher Green, Chapel Hill, has parted with the pin. Now wearing it is Peggy Henderson of Randolph Macon.

Phi Delt Luke Hill, Raleigh, was recently pinned to Bob Page, Phi Delt of Plainfield, N. J.

Phi Kappa Sigs are giving advance notice... they're going to christen that brand new bar of theirs right after the Duke float parade... the whole campus is invited to the ceremonies.

Sincerest get-well wishes are extended to the Sigma Nu's after their party at the Washington Duke last weekend.

Kappa Sigs recovered enough from their last weekend to go to the game at South Carolina.

Tri Delt had dinner and a party at the Legion Hut with the Sigma Chi's Thursday and will be entertained by the Zeta Psi chapter next Tuesday. Tri Delt and their dates enjoyed dinner and a party at the Legion Hut last night.

Coeds making their debut in Atanta recently were Mary Leigh Hendee, ADPI, and Flo Carter, Phi Mu.

PIKA's entertained campus housemothers last week at the house. Dinner was served and each guest was presented with a corsage.

SPE Beil Littlejohn, Morganton, is pinned to Janet Merritt, Chapel Hill girl.

Another recent pinning is that

AK Psi Hears Charlotte Man

Carl G. McGraw, president of the Union National Bank of Charlotte recently spoke to the combined alumni homecoming and pledge banquet of Alpha Kappa Psi, national professional fraternity in business administration, held in the Chapel Hill Country Club.

He called for the nation's future businessmen to accept the "challenge" of leadership and to overthrow the prophets of defeatism.

McCraw, selected as Alpha Kappa Psi's honorary member for 1952, was introduced by fraternity president L. R. Jordan as being a leader of his community with a lifelong record both in business and civic activities.

Immediately following the banquet a dance was held in honor of the 21 new pledges and their dates. The music was furnished by the Duke Cavaliers.

Jule Rousseau Named New Pika President

Jule Rousseau of North Wilkesboro has been elected the new president of Tau chapter of P Kappa Alpha.

Other new PIKA officers are Clayton Jackson, Tarboro, vice-president; Gordon Hamrick Shelby, treasurer; Matt Wood Enfield, house manager; Woodie Fearing, Manteo, dining room manager; Bryan Sutton, Goldsboro, social chairman; Sonn Cobb, Atlanta, Ga., intra-mural manager; Tom McMillan, Rocky Mount, historian.

Dr. Holmes Chairman Here For Sorbonne Celebration

Dr. Urban Tigner Holmes, Kean professor of Romance philology, will serve as chairman of UNC's participation in the international celebration of the 700th anniversary of The Sorbonne of the University of Paris.

Carolina is one of three academic centers which have been invited to participate.

The celebration here will take the form of a subscription luncheon in the Morehead Building in February. The second program will follow in Chicago in April, and the third in New York in December, 1953.

On the local committee in addition to Dr. Holmes are President Gordon Gray, Dr. William M. Dey and Dr. Jacques Hardre of the Department of Romance Languages, and Anthony F. Jenzani, manager of the Morehead Planetarium.

Dr. Holmes said the committee hoped "all those interested in medieval studies will join in making this an outstanding event."

Rare Books Will Be Exhibited In Trailer

Rare books and manuscripts dating back to 3500 B. C. will be shown Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday in a trailer behind the Library.

The exhibit is given by the publishers of the Book of Knowledge, and is sponsored by the University Extension Division and the School of Library Science.

The exhibit will be open from 9 a. m. to noon and from 2 to 5 p. m. each day.

Slocum Thrilled By Marine Band

"One of the greatest thrills of my life came when I had the pleasure of conducting the United States Marine Band in Washington, D. C.," Earl Slocum, director of the University Band said yesterday.

The United States Marine Band will give a concert here in Memorial Hall Tuesday night at 8 p. m.

"I have nothing but the highest praise for the Marine Band," Slocum continued. "Their standard of performance is on the same high level as the finest symphony orchestra."

The program by the 154-year-old organization will consist of the overture from "Le Roi d'Ys" by Edouard Lalo; "Fetes" by Claude Debussy; "Marche Troyenne" from "The Taking of Troy" by Hector Berlioz; "Annie Laurie" by Arthur Pryor; "Irish Rhapsody" by A. Francis Pinto; selections from "The King and I" by Richard Rodgers and "The Lord's Last Supper."

The Marine Band has several "firsts" on its record. It was the first official band to represent the U. S. Military services, the first band to broadcast over radio and the first military band to give a series of television concerts.

Founded in 1789 by an act of important official functions at the nation's Capitol. It has played for every inauguration since Thomas Jefferson's.

Special to THE DAILY TAR HEEL GREENSBORO, Nov. 14—Columbia, Princeton, and Rochester universities will provide the key speakers for the sixth annual Harriet Elliott Social Science Forum at Woman's College on November 21.

"Tensions in the Middle East" is the theme for the forum, condensed this year to a one-day event.

The forum will open at 10 a. m. with an introduction by Chancellor Edward K. Graham. "Conflicts within the Middle East" will be the morning session topic.

Round table discussions are scheduled for 3 o'clock in the afternoon, during which time the forum speakers will conduct informal and individual discussions. The group will reconvene at 8 p. m. for the final session, the "Middle East and the West."

The speakers include Dr. Cornelis Willem de Kiewit, president of Rochester university, who will act as moderator; Jacob C. Hurewitz, professor of government in the Near and Middle East Studies Program at Columbia University School of International Affairs; and Dr. T. Guyler Young, Professor of Persian language and history at Princeton.

Wood Artist To Talk Here

Miss Clare Leighton, wood engraving artist and author, will speak at 3:45 p. m. Thursday at the Bull's Head Bookshop tea.

The public may attend the talk, which will be held in the Assembly Room of the Library.

Miss Leighton will talk about the new Wedgewood plates that are decorated with her engravings of New England scenes.

One of the pupils of the English engraver and religious sculptor Eric Gill, Miss Leighton has visited Chapel Hill before to find out about the native crafts and customs of this area. She now lives in Woodbury, Conn.

Polio Victim Mother Of Seven-Pound Boy

The first birth at the new North Carolina Memorial Hospital was reported Thursday. The child, a boy, is the son of a polio victim.

Hospital authorities reported Mrs. Loren G. MacKinney, wife of a hospital pediatrician, gave birth to a seven-pound, nine ounce boy at 1:23 a. m. The baby appeared to be normal.

Mrs. MacKinney, formerly of Buffalo, N. Y., was stricken with polio Aug. 20 while she and her husband were visiting his parents here.

New Courses In Philosophy To Be Offered

Two new Philosophy courses are to be offered in the Winter quarter.

Philosophy 57, under Professor Cavaros, takes up the Medieval philosophy of the West with special attention to St. Augustine and St. Thomas Aquinas, and the great but little known Christian philosophers of Byzantium.

This course is perhaps somewhat unique in that it deals with Byzantine philosophy. Philosophy 129, which will be taught by Professor Emery, is titled The Development of American Philosophy. The gradual emergence of systematic American philosophy from its matrix in earlier theology, social and literary thought. Chief emphasis on the late nineteenth century.

This course will be given for the first time in the Winter quarter, not the Spring quarter as the catalogue states.

Dr. Gillin Will Talk To Cosmopolitan Club

Dr. John Gillin, world famous authority on Latin America, will be the guest speaker of the Cosmopolitan Club tomorrow afternoon in the Rendezvous Room of Graham Memorial at 4 o'clock.

Gillin will discuss the cultural aspects of South America. Movies will be shown of Lima, Peru, where Gillin was with the American Embassy during the last war. Students from Latin America will furnish music for the program.

Members of the club and students are invited to attend.

Alert Alarm To Sound Here Monday At 8

A Civil Defense alter alarm will be sounded at 8 p. m. Monday at the Town Hall.

The alarm is to acquaint Chapel Hillians with the alert and will be given in a series of blasts which are easily distinguished from the fire alarm, officials said.
