Barber Shop Quartet Will Make Debut

The Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America will make its debut on the Carolina campus Friday night when its chorus performs for the Sadie Hawkins Day dance.

The new chapter of the SPEBSQSA was organized last week with the selection of Bob Minter as president and Bill Drummond as secretary-treasurer. Meetings are planned for Tuesday of each week and the only membership requirement is that the individual be a male.

Past barber shop singing led Minter to initiate interest in this revised four-man harmony at UNC. As a member of the "Air Fours" quartet while in the Air Force, he saw the enthusiasm and rise of his quartet in the Dixie district of the SPEBSQSA. Before he was handed his discharge papers, he and the other three harmonizers agreed to stir up barber shop singing interest wherever they were. The fulfillment of Minter's pact is in the establishment of the UNC group.

Once established, the singing group plans to present an annual show plus performances upon request.

Former UNC Prof's Book Out Soon

"Divided We Fought: A Pictorial History of the War, 1861-1865," edited by a former University teaching fellow, will come out tomorrow.

The book, containing nearly 500 photographs and drawings, was edited by David Donald, who was on the staff here in 1942. A native of Goodman, Mississippi, Donald took his A.B. from Millsaps College and received his Ph.D. from Illinois in 1946. He is now an assistant professor of history at Columbia University.

The photographs and drawings were selected by Hirst Milhollen and Milton Kaplan who are associated with the Library of Congress in Washington. These are accompanied by a descriptive text and contemporary eye-witness accounts edited by Donald.

NEWS IN BRIEF

WASHINGTON — After a grim aviation weekend, the nation yesterday counted 88 persons dead or missing in the disappearance or scattered crashes of eight American military planes and three civilian aircraft. Some 31 passengers and crewmen aboard two U. S. Air Force transports are missing; 48 are known dead in the crashes of a military transport, a fighter plane and 3 Navy craft; and nine are dead in the civilian crashes. Air Force planes searched in vain Sunday for a huge C-119 Flying Boxcar which disappeared in Alaska on Saturday with 20 men aboard.

Eisenhower probably will decide this week—after conferences with President Truman and GOP congressional leaders—whether to make a pre-inauguration statement on repatriation of Korean war prisoners. In Washington, Congressional leaders expect Eisenhower and Truman to agree at their conference on a statement telling the world America is united in its quest for peace.

Weapon More Powerful Than H-Bomb Forseen

Rep. Carl T. Durham (D-N.C.), acting chairman of the Joint Congressional Atomic Committee, yesterday hinted that a bigger weapon than the hydrogen bomb is being planned for the future.

"Time doesn't stand still," Durham said. "We'll continue our development program in view of the present international situation."

When asked whether anything besides the hydrogen bomb was used in the Pacific tests announced by the Atomic Energy Commission, Durham said he did not know. He added,

Mobile Unit Opens Blood Drive Today

Today and tomorrow the Red Cross Bloodmobile is visiting Chapel Hill to receive donations to fill the increasing need in Korea.

Bloodmobile doctors and nurses will be in attendance in Graham Memorial from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. during the two-day drive. The quota has been set at 400 pints for the Chapel Hill area.

Prospective student or faculty donors may make appointments by phoning Graham Memorial at 5611 or 9-1881. Donors are especially needed between 11 a.m. and 1 p.m. both days. Junius Fox and Bill Roth, co-chairmen of the blood donation committee are appealing to the patriotism of Carolinians, they said. The recent injury and casualty lists issued from the Pentagon show that war in the Sniper Ridge and Triangle Hill area is at its worst, they point out. Donations from this drive will meet the Korean need.

Donors must be between 21 and 69 years old and in good health. Eighteen, 19, and 20 year olds may contribute with their parents' permission. Individuals giving blood are advised not to eat heavy, fatty foods within four hours of their donation.

Italian Film 'Paisan' Tells War's Impact

"Paisan," an Italian film directed by Robert Rossellini, will mark the beginning of a series of two films sponsored by the Student Union Activities Board.

The film will be shown Wednesday night at 8 o'clock in Memorial Hall.

"Paisan" is the sequel to "Open City" made by the same director in 1945. A 1946 picture, "Paisan" shows the impact of war on a native population and a foreign soldier. Beginning with the landing in Sicily the film follows the American and British armies through the invasion and liberation.

The majority of the dialogue is in English but there are English sub-titles for the German and Italian speeches.

The motion picture was winner of first prize awards at Cannes, Brussels and Venice Film Festivals. Life magazine writes about the film, "The best picture since V-E Day about Americans in World War II."

Series subscriptions are being sold at the main office in Graham Memorial. No individual tickets can be sold. The series price is 60 cents.

Dear, Roberts Spar For Post With Tar Heel

Parties Present Varied Platforms In Late Campaign

By Louis Kraar Carolina students will cast votes today for Legislators, class officers, student council members and the important post of editor of THE DAILY TAR HEEL.

Past fall elections have netted about 20 to 25 percent of students voting. Vigorous campaigns between editorial candidates Biff Roberts and Walt Dear are expected to prime the vote above the usual small number.

Biff Roberts, University Party nominee for the editorial post, is the present sports editor. He has served four years on the staff and writes the column, "Down In Front." Roberts has presented his campaign on the basis of "newspaper experience" and has promised to "put out a good daily—one which will voice student opinion."

Walt Dear, independent and Student Party endorsed, has waged his campaign for the editorship on the basis of independence from parties and impartial coverage. He is chairman of the Publications Board and has been on the staff four years. Dear has been summer editor, feature editor and columnist. He stated, "I am running as an independent candidate because the campus deserves an independent approach to campus problems."

The Elections Board, headed by Jerry Cook has made a special effort to get out the vote with signs telling where and how to vote in strategic campus places. Tonight the board will have about 35 vote counters working upstairs in Graham Memorial. A large blackboard downstairs in the main lounge will keep students informed of the latest count.

Thirty-eight Legislative posts are open in the race. The University Party holds a slight majority at present, and the seats, probably be evenly distributed in the election.

The Student Party has sparked its campaign from a headquarters in Graham Memorial which has coordinated all movements. Posters, statements of party policies and other literature has been distributed.

University Party officials also have issued outlines of party issues, put up posters, and are running an advertisement in The Daily Tar Heel explaining their campaign.

The controversy over Saturday classes, after somewhat overshadowing the campaigns and elections, has become a prime issue. Both parties have taken a definite stand in opposition to them.

The University Party's platform is basically the same as last spring. It emphasizes the carrying out of former promises rather than making new ones. Among the plans they have promised to back are a check cashing service in Lenoir Hall, an infirmary dis-

This Is The News

It happened when President Gordon Gray attended a recent meeting of the Board of Directors of the Ford Foundation in New York.

Some of the men were asking radio commentator Ed Murrow who would be Ike's Cabinet members, as Murrow supposedly was in the know.

"Since the first two advisors have been Lodge and Dodge, I would suppose the next two appointments will be Hodge and Podge," Murrow informed them.
