Will Herberg To Talk Here On Dec. 1, 2

By Tom Neal Jr.
Free lance journalist... author... contributor to labor, social research and theology... this is Will Herberg.

He will speak on campus on Dec. 1 and 2, the Monday and Tuesday following Thanksgiving holidays, under the auspices of the local Inter-Faith council.

"... Almost every one who has heard Herberg speak agrees that this energetic man is one of the most interesting individuals he has heard," Jim Haney, president of the Inter-Faith group said yesterday.

Herberg has written widely on social, political and religious subjects. Among his publications are "The Ethics of Power," "Labor Unions," "The Jewish Movement in the United States," "The Political Theory of American Socialism," "Theological Issues of the Hour," "The Theology of Reinhold Niebuhr," "Franz Rosenzweig's Judaism of Personal Existence."

His recent book, "Judaism and Modern Man: An Interpretation of Jewish Religion," has been hailed by Niebuhr as a milestone in American religious thought. Herberg is at work on a study of the relation of religion to the social sciences.

A graduate of Columbia University, Herberg is now a labor consultant and director of research in a large AFL labor union.

Herberg's key address during his two day series of talks here will be Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock. His public lecture in Gerrard Hall is entitled "Communism — Democracy — Religion."

In addition to the Gerrard Hall lecture, Herberg will speak in several classrooms, at a faculty-student seminar and to the Hillel Foundation.

Ken Myers, Hillel representative to the Inter-Faith council is in charge of Dr. Herberg's program. Exact hours and topics of each talk will be released soon.

Iran Courageous In View Of U. S. Policy 'Mistakes' an opportunity to hold Iranian good will, he declared.

The discussion brought forth a picture of a great revolution now taking place in the East, where millions, lately freed from colonial rule, are in active search of help in solving their problems. The experts debated rather cautiously the great question of whether the East could in the end embrace the West, in view of the proximity and power and persuasive propaganda of Russia.

Dr. Young said, "We must remember that industrialization in our own country was slow and painful... We must see that it cannot be developed in small nations overnight."

Dr. Hurewitz said, "One advantage to us is that the United States is actually giving help, concrete help, under the Point Four program, whereas Russia is only talking, propagandizing."

Dr. Young demurred slightly, "Despite the value of the Point Four program, we must realize that we cannot make a sound foreign policy of dollars—in fact, economic factors may be less important in the East than psychological and political factors. A flood of dollars, in some instances, may actually worsen conditions."

Open Evenings

In Your Church

By Tom Neal Jr.

Baptist
The local Baptist Church will observe Thanksgiving with a Harvest Home service this morning at 11 o'clock and with a Thanksgiving dinner for all the congregation at 7 p.m. Tuesday. The service this morning will include special Thanksgiving music by the choir, and a sermon on the Thanksgiving theme, "Give God the Glory" by the pastor, the Rev. Samuel T. Habel.

Christian Science
A special service on Thanksgiving day will be held at 11 a.m. in New West Lecture Hall by local Christian Scientists. Topic of the lesson-sermon is "Thanksgiving." As a part of the regular service, laymen of the church will offer brief testimonial remarks appropriate at the Thanksgiving season.

Congregational Christian
The United Student Fellowship will continue its discussion "What We Can Believe About God" this morning at the regular meeting, from the viewpoint of science and its phenomena that cannot be explained.

Student recreation, discussion and supper will begin at 6 p.m.

Jewish
A supper and program hour will be observed at the Hillel House tonight at 5:45.

Quakers
"Ministry in Silence" will be discussed at the Religious Society of Friends meeting this morning at 11 o'clock. Jack Phillips will be discussion leader for the program which is held in Graham Memorial.

Lutheran
"Nothing But Thanks" is the title of the Thanksgiving sermon, which will be delivered at the Lutheran Church today by the Rev. E. C. Cooper, pastor of the church. Special music for the service will include "Now Thank We All" by the chorus choir under the direction of Billy Chance.

Methodist
An interpretation of "Praying Hands" will be the theme of the worship program tonight at the Wesley Foundation meeting. Jeanette Chance is in charge of the program. Following supper, election of Wesley Foundation officers will be held. Vacancies will be filled for offices of president, vice president, secretary and treasurer.

No Wesley program is planned for next Sunday, November 30. However, the regular schedule will be followed throughout the week.

Presbyterian
Guest minister this morning at the Presbyterian church is the Rev. William M. Currie, Associate Pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in Greensboro. Mr. Currie will preach at both the 9:45 and 11 a.m. services. Presbyterians from Greensboro have been invited to worship with the local congregation this morning.

The local congregation and student groups will have their regular suppers and study sessions to night. The students will be led by Dr. Arthur Fink, Dean of the School of Social Work. Topic of discussion is "The Christian Citizens Concern for the Welfare of Others: How Can He Put This Into Action?"

The congregation will be led in its study on the Westminster Confession of Faith by Dr. McMullen, Acting Pastor. Both groups open their meeting with a supper at 6 p.m.

Unitarians
The Unitarian Fellowship will meet tonight at 8:30 in Gerrard

Hall for a discussion on questions raised following Dr. A. Powell Davies' recent talk here. The public is invited.

35 Paintings Of Old Salem In Morehead

By Elizabeth Napier
Thirty-five paintings of Old Salem, described as a faithful record of the quaint physical characteristics of this early American village and "graphic evidence of the steadfast character and Godly spirit of the Moravians," are now being exhibited in the Morehead Building.

Created in oil by Mrs. James A. Gray Sr., Winston-Salem, widow of the North Carolina business and civic leader and philanthropist, who died recently, the exhibit of scenes from Old Salem, now in the process of restoration, will be seen in the North Gallery of the Morehead Building through January 2.

Commenting on the exhibit, Controller and Vice-President of the Consolidated University William D. Carmichael Jr., said "Old Salem is in the soul and in the heart of Mrs. Pauline Bahnsen Gray. It is in her every day life, just as she is in the every day life of this historic community. Old Salem is in her blood. She is the daughter of a Moravian physician, Dr. Henry T. Bahnsen, and the granddaughter of a servant of God and the Moravian Church, Bishop George Frederick Bahnsen."

Controller Carmichael said Mrs. Gray, using a style and technique suited "to the quaintness of Old Salem, has achieved a unique album. Her pictures convey, even to those who do not know Old Salem, some of the understanding of why the Moravians cherish it so dearly and why thousands of people of many faiths make the pilgrimage, each year."

Old Salem Cemetery is hallowed ground for Mrs. Gray," Controller Carmichael explained. "There are the graves of her forebears. There, her husband, James Alexander Gray, is buried. It is a place of peace and majesty. There one knows that he stands at the Gates of Heaven."

student body, will deliver the invocation. It will be followed by a hymn, "Thanksgiving," by John B. Dykes. Anna Beeson will read the scripture, taken from Matthew 27:39-43. It will be followed by "Adoramus Te" and "Diademata."

Ken Penegar will introduce Mr. Currie and Virginia Hall will give the benediction. The postlude will be Eslava's "Postlude." Thomas Sibley will be organist and music will be by the Men's Glee Club. Other hymns include "St. Theodulph" by Melchior Teschner and Thompson's "The God Who Gave Us Life."

NANCY GREEN of Chapel Hill in her role of the mayor's wife in Gogol's classic farce comedy, "The Inspector General," to be presented by the Carolina Playmakers December 3-7 at 8:30. Tickets are now on sale in Swain Hall and at Ledbetter-Pickard in Chapel Hill.

Emmons Gets Program Job At Morehead

Richard H. Emmons, formerly with the engineering department of Goodyear Aircraft Corporation, Akron, Ohio, has been appointed program chairman at Morehead Planetarium.

He already has assumed the duties of this newly-created position. Formerly an instructor of mathematics and astronomy at Kent State University, Kent, Ohio, Emmons took his undergraduate degree at the University of Southern California. He received his master's degree from Kent State University.

Emmons assisted with observations at Perkins Observatory with their 69-inch diameter telescope while attending Ohio Wesleyan University and made the 13-inch telescope used at John Carroll University in Cleveland, Ohio. He supervised the production of approximately 75 telescopes and a small planetarium while sponsor of the Kent State University Astronomy Club.

Opportunities in Optometry

Optometry is a profession offering special advantages to ambitious young men and women. Its scope is constantly expanding. Eighty per cent of the Nation's millions depend upon the Doctor of Optometry and his professional skill in conserving vision. There is a shortage of optometrists in many States.

The Doctor of Optometry possesses the dignity of being a professional man. He renders an essential service to the health and well-being of his community. Substantial financial rewards are obtainable almost from the beginning of his practice.

U. S. Department of Defense and Selective Service grant optometry students the same consideration accorded medical students.

The Doctor of Optometry degree can be earned in three college years by a student having sixty or more semester hours of Liberal Arts credits. Such students will be admitted at mid-year by Chicago College of Optometry.

Chicago College of Optometry is centrally located in the heart of the world's greatest center for teaching in the healing arts. It is nationally accredited and is splendidly equipped. Clinical facilities are unsurpassed. For catalog, address Registrar—Chicago College of Optometry, 2307 No. Clark St., Chicago 14, Ill. Ad.

The case of the Unapproachable Alumnus

OR
How Do You Get That Gift Horse to Open His Mouth?

Once there was a Wealthy Alumnus who was also a Soft Touch. Tie an Old School Tie around your neck and he'd give you his shirt to go with it.

One day he realized that this habit of always saying "Yes" to the Big Question was costing him a Pretty Penny. So he became a Hard Man to Get To. Letters, phone calls and personal visits all encountered a secretary with a face like a flint and a 4-word vocabulary. ("He's out of town.")

This was Rough on the Old School, but nobody had a solution—until the football coach, a Brain in his own right, came up with a Magnificent but Simple Idea. He dashed down to the Western Union office and dispatched a Telegram saturated with Old School spirit and dedicated to the theme that unless some Noble Soul came through pronto, the eleven would be playing barefoot and jerseyless.

The ice jam was broken. A Fat Check arrived the next day. Today things are back on a Normal Financial Basis.

There's nothing more practical than using Telegrams to Handle Barriers and get to the Guy (or the Gal) you want to talk to. When you want something... Cash from Home, a Date with a Dreamboat, an Interview with the Man who does the Hiring... it pays to Make your Bid via Western Union.
