

Tar Heels Meet Clemson In Woollen Tonight

Seek Fourth SC Victory Of Season

By Tom Peacock
 The Carolina basketball team plays its last game before the Christmas holidays here tonight at 8:00 against the Clemson Tigers in a Southern Conference contest. The Tar Heels will be favored to take their fourth straight win of the season in as many games, but Clemson, with a veteran team, could easily upset Carolina. The Tigers have virtually the same team that finished an excellent season last year with a 17-7 record. Clemson will be without the services of John Snee, last year's high scorer, but the rest of the squad is intact.

Vayda Leads
 Leading the Tar Heels will be freshman Jerry Vayda of Bay-oree, N. J., who has scored 58 points in Carolina's three games. Vayda was high scorer for Carolina in its first two starts with 21 points against The Citadel, and 17 against Washington and Lee. Co-captain Vince Grimaldi edged out the six-foot, three-inch forward for honors against Richmond, 21-20.

Carolina's freshman coach, Frank McGuire, who hasn't lost a game as the Tar Heel pilot, will go along with the usual starting lineup tonight. Co-captain Jack Wallace and Vayda at forwards, Paul Likins at center, and Grimaldi and Bob Phillips at guards.

Lost Two
 Clemson has lost two games to powerful Georgia and has defeated Presbyterian this year. Coach Banks McFadden's charges will be opening their Conference slate against Carolina. The Tigers hopes rest with Tommy McCullough, John McGraw, Marvin Robinson, Sunny Mooror, and Joe Murray, all senior veterans. Billy Yarborough of Walhalla, S. C., a McFadden discovery, is an outstanding freshman on the Clemson team.

Trailing Vayda in Carolina scoring by 19 points is Grimaldi with 39 for three games, and center Bud Maddie is third by two with 37. Wallace is next with 29, and reserve Ernie Schwarz has scored 20.

Without Three
 Carolina, playing without the services of three probable starters because of academic troubles, will depend largely on speed, height, and a tight, man-to-man defense to stop the Tigers.

The Tar Heel jayvee squad, coached by Buck Freeman, will play a preliminary game with Raleigh High School at 6:30. The jayvees defeated Wake Forest's jayvees in their last outing.

The Carolina gymnastic team will present a special show tonight during the half. Tickets are on sale at Woollen Gym.

Heels Tie Duke, 2-2, In Chess

The U.N.C. chess team tied Duke, 2-2, in its first match of the year.

Tar Heel Kit Crittendon defeated Duke's Bill Chapman on first board to give Carolina an early lead, and Doug Kahn added another point for the Tar Heels by taking Marcello Mollinay Vedia in a short match on second board.

Duke rallied on the bottom two boards, with Blue Devil Bill Crowder defeating Robert Hubbard, and David Lane stopping Carolina's Bill Beard, to tie the score.

In Carolina chess club activity, Mike Rauhut defeated Joe Levin, 2-0, to win the club-sponsored tournament.

 ed through UNC. Nothing not previously known is expected in the report, as the report itself will be merely an elaboration of one prepared last Spring for the Trustees, at their direction.

State College last week released a similar report through its chancellor, J. W. Harrelson. Harrelson called on all Big Four schools to make public their scholarship setups. His plea seemed to be aimed at ferreting out the amount given to athletes.

Medics, Sigma Chi Lead Mural Teams

Med School and Sigma Chi took first place honors in the organizational point totals for the fall quarter in intramural play.

Leading point winners in both tag football and wrestling, Med school ran away from its nearest competitor in the dormitory division with 337.07 points. Emerson was second in the division, with a total of 277.64, while Law School came in with 255.84 points and third place. Ruffin was only other dorm to finish with more than 200 points, 218.47, to their credit.

The point race in the fraternity division was more closely contested, however, with the winners taking a 27 point advantage over second place Zeta Psi. Sigma Chi racked up 358.58 points to 331.82 for Zeta Psi. Third place Phi Gamma Delta recorded 328.34 points, while 311.05 went to fourth place Sigma Nu. The remainder of the fraternity teams finished with less than 233 points.

In taking their point title, Med School teams led the point makers in two divisions—160 to their credit in football and 115.07 in wrestling. The only division which they failed to carry was in volleyball play, which was won by the Law School, who amassed a total of 130 points.

Emerson, the second place dorm in the point totals, tied for second in football and wrestling and took down second spot honors going away in the volleyball bracket. They were tied by Manley in football with 122.67 points for each dorm, and played to 43.97 stalemate with Ruffin in wrestling.

Sigma Chi did not win a single division in the fraternity bracket, although they amassed the largest

Air Raid
 Woollen Gym air wardens requested that all paper air planes be kept in their hangers during tonight's game with Clemson. Gym officials also asked that students curb the booing of officials that has been evident during the past three games.

Irv Holdash, Billy Hayes Named By Armed Forces Press Service Poll

Two former Carolina stars, Irv Holdash and Billy Hayes, have been selected for the Service All-Star football team which was chosen by the Armed Forces Press Service. Both Holdash, All-America center, and Hayes, star full-back, graduated in 1950.

Hayes was named to the full-back position on the offensive team while Holdash was placed at the center slot on the defensive unit. Hayes, now with the Marines at Paris Island, played four years of varsity football at UNC and participated in two bowl games, the Sugar Bowl in 1948 and the Cotton Bowl in 1949, in which he starred. Holdash played for the Army at Ft. Eustis, Virginia.

After starring in the Cotton Bowl in 1948 in which he gained 107 yards rushing and completed two passes, Hayes led the Tar Heels offensively through the 1950 season. Holdash, who had his best year of varsity ball in 1950 was named to many All-America teams.
