

BODY

"John Brown's Body" is reviewed. See p. 2.

The Daily Tar Heel

U.N.C. Library
Serials Dept.
Chapel Hill, N. C.
8-31-49

WEATHER

Occasional showers with 56 high. Yesterday's high, 59; low, 49.

VOLUME LXI, NUMBER 71

CHAPEL HILL, N. C., SUNDAY, JANUARY 11, 1953

FOUR PAGES TODAY

Town Choral Group To Give Concert Friday

The Chapel Hill Choral Club, under the direction of Joel Carter, will present its first concert of the season Friday at 8:30 p.m. in Hill Hall.

The public is invited and there will be no admission charge.

The club, composed of townspeople, faculty and students, will feature a number of local soloists and the University Symphony Orchestra. The program will comprise three works, the Bach Cantatas No. 105 and 102 and the Handel "Dettingen Te Deum."

Bach's Cantata No. 105, "Lord, weigh us and just us not," written for the ninth Sunday after Trinity, is based on the text of Psalm 143. The Cantata No. 102, "Now Thank We All Our God," is one of Bach's best known, and contains the chorale melody of the same title, and is still used as a Protestant hymn.

Handel's "Dettingen Te Deum" is a work of pomp and splendor. Written for performance at the English Royal Chapel and St. Paul's to celebrate the British victory over the French at Dettingen, 1743, in the War of Austrian Succession, was received with enthusiasm by the English people.

The text is drawn from the "Book of Common Prayer" of the Church of England. Unusual brilliance is given the work by the use of high trumpets throughout most of the choruses. The first trumpet part will be performed by Gerald Einhorn, University freshman from Norfolk, Va., who will use the special high trumpets in D acquired by the Music Department for this performance.

Faculty Elected To High Posts During Holiday

A number of University Faculty members who attended meetings of scholarly organizations during the holidays were elected to important offices or appointed to committee chairmanships.

Dr. Sterling A. Stoudemire, chairman of the Department of Romance Languages, was elected chairman of the Spanish 18th and 19th Century section of the Modern Language Association of America, which met in Boston.

Dr. W. L. Wiley, professor of French, was elected secretary of the French Renaissance section.

Dean Clifford P. Lyons of the College of Arts and Sciences was elected to the Executive Council of the Modern Language Association, and Dr. Richmond P. Bond of the English Department was elected chairman of the English Group for "the Age of Johnson." Dr. Robert A. Pratt, also of the English Department, was elected chairman of the Association.

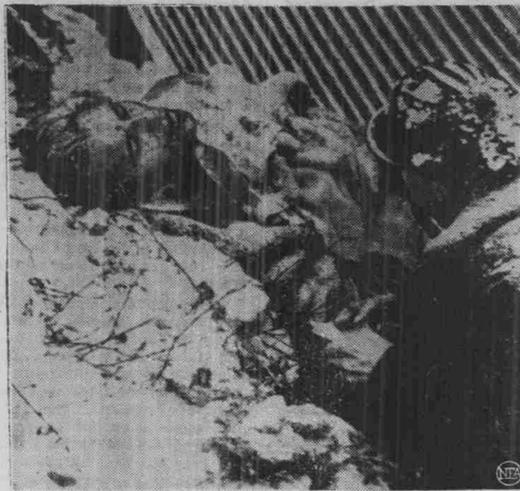

Dr. Walter Allen Jr. of the Classics Department, was reelected chairman of the Monography Committee of the American Philological Association.

Dr. B. L. Ullman, chairman, Classics Department, was elected to membership on the nominating committee of the American Philological Association. He is a former president of the association.

Panel Monday

A panel discussion and forum "A United States of Europe?" will be held tomorrow from 5:30 to 7 o'clock in Lenoir Hall.

Moderator for the discussion will be Dr. J. C. Lyons of the Department of Romance Languages, who has toured Europe many times. Panel members who will present points of view from several European countries are Dr. Jacques Hardre, professor of French, France; Alfred Descloux, graduate student from Geneva, Switzerland, on Switzerland; and Helmut Deicher, German student, on that country. Ted Shevco, formerly of Yugoslavia, will introduce the panel members.

PENED UNDER THE TRAILER of his heavy truck is Gerald Massie, shown talking with a police officer after his truck collided with an automobile near Black River Falls, Wis. The driver of the car was killed instantly in the collision, and Massie himself died while enroute to a hospital.—NEA Telephoto.

Horton Is Silent On Solon Agenda

By Louis Kraar

President Ham Horton and his cabinet met Friday behind locked doors "to discuss the method of carrying out the administration's program," according to Horton.

Topics discussed in the meeting indicated that most basic campus issues were talked over in three-hour sessions.

Results of the meeting will be announced in the form of President Horton's address to Legislature at its opening session Thursday. Horton's talk, which is expected to be a "state of the campus" type speech, will probably outline the cabinet's plan for legislative action this quarter.

Horton said that allowing press representatives to sit in on the meeting would keep legislators from being the first to hear the cabinet's plans. His reply to questions concerning the nature of the issues discussed was a flat "no comment."

Actually, the cabinet's plans have no authority other than advising Legislature. Early indications of Horton's program show that it may be received warmly by both parties. Since the Student Party has legislative majority, University Party administrators are faced with the problem of presenting a program that will be fairly acceptable to both parties.

Members of the cabinet are Ed Gross, Virginia Hall, Phinn Horton, Jim McLeod, Martin Jordon, Sol Cherry, Jack Stillwell, Harry Phillips, Wade Matthews and George McLeod.

Jack Stillwell, Martin Jordon, Harry Phillips and Wade Matthews did not attend the meeting.

'Life' Exhibit Being Shown At Morehead

A new exhibit of some 50 photographs, some of them in color, on 18th century England, which was assembled by editors of Life Magazine, is exhibited in the Morehead Building and will continue through Jan. 23.

"Eighteenth Century England," title of the exhibit, is based on the article by that name which appeared in Life's History of Western Culture series. Much unpublished material has been added to the exhibition, however, and the result is a colorful panorama of that age of contrasts.

England of the 18th century saw daily life turned into an "art" of great elegance, and at the same time saw the drab beginning of the age of industrialism. Life editors point out. "It calls to mind not only the gentlemanly precepts of Lord Chesterfield and the stateliness of country houses, but also the ferment and squalor of London where a tenth of England's population lived," they say.

Houses May Map Own Plans To Comply With Fire Orders

BA School's Moving Date Set In Feb.

The School of Business Administration next month will move from its cramped quarters in Bingham Hall to a handsome battery of three new buildings across the way.

In design, the new school is similar to the Manning-Saunders-Murphy triangle on the opposite side of the mall that runs from South Building to the Library. Construction work began in 1950, but because of strikes and shortages of building materials completion was delayed.

The central unit of the three buildings will house the school's administrative and faculty offices, seminar and conference rooms and an auditorium with a seating capacity of 450.

The Business Foundation, of which Dr. I. G. Greer is executive vice-president, will have its headquarters office in the central building.

The other two buildings will contain a few offices and classrooms and laboratories for the specialized fields in business administration: accounting, statistics, personnel management, production management, finance and marketing.

The University Placement Service, now located in South Building, will be moved to the south classroom and laboratory building of the School of Business Administration. The University's Records and Registration office, Student Aid and Student Loan Fund offices, and Personnel office, which are also now in South Building, will be moved to the north classroom and laboratory building.

This shift will alleviate to some extent the crowded conditions in South Building and will facilitate registration of students. Archer House, which has been used by the registration office for some time, will not be used for this purpose after the move.

The North Carolina State Board of Certified Public Accountant Examiners, a State agency, will have headquarters in the north building of the group.

None of the buildings has been named as yet. This job falls to the Trustees.

The School of Business Administration has enjoyed a steady and substantial growth and has attained high rank among institutions providing training for business leadership since it was organized in the fall of 1919 under the direction of D. D. Carroll, who served as Dean from that time until he retired in 1950.

Dr. Thomas H. Carroll took over the deanship in 1950, coming here from Syracuse University where he was Dean of the College of Business Administration. He had served as Assistant Dean of the Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration prior to military service.

Originally called the School of Commerce, the school has grown from headquarters in a single office in Alumni Hall to its new three-building unit. Outgrowing its (See BA SCHOOL, page 4)

Local Official Must Approve Any Substitute

By John Jamison

There are "other ways" for fraternities and sororities to comply with the local interpretation of the state building code than the specifications handed down by the State Insurance Department.

These alternate plans would be devised by the individual houses, subject to the approval of P. L. Burch, Chapel Hill building inspector. What are some of these "other ways"? Burch refused to answer "hypothetical questions."

Rather, he said, he would prefer to tour each house and then decide whether or not the substitute plans were adequate.

The State Insurance Department expects the houses to be "reasonably safe."

The Chapel Hill Board of Aldermen was asked, "What would be done in case the hazards are not removed within the 90-day period?" The board expects the fraternities and sororities "to make bona fide and prompt effort to correct the hazards listed in the inspection report."

Chapter presidents met Thursday night with the town officials at which time Mayor E. S. Lanier pleaded "negligence in not making fire inspections of the fraternities and sororities—and other boarding houses—long ago."

The mayor continued, "Naturally 'condemnation' of your houses jolted you and led to just ordinary, human speculation about the municipality's motives. I want to assure you and the public that not one of the municipal officials had or has any desire whatsoever to 'persecute' you or to 'discriminate' against you in any degree at all—nor are they willing to let you sleep in quarters which might trap you into a screaming death from fire."

The town's aim, as the mayor sees it, is to make the houses "reasonably safe and in compliance with the spirit of the State's laws for safety."

Honorary Unit In Education Holds Smoker

The Beta Theta chapter of Phi Delta Kappa, honorary educational fraternity, recently launched its 1953 season with a smoker held at the home of Dr. Gordon Ellis, professor in the School of Education.

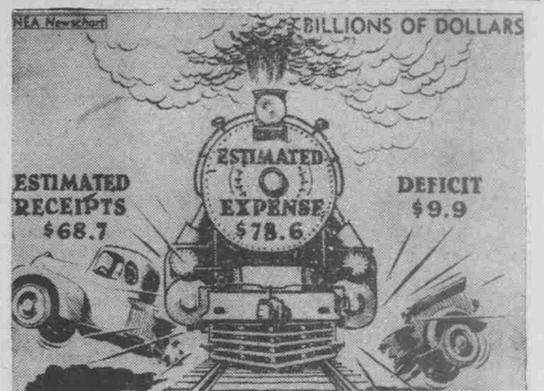

The fraternity, which meets regularly throughout the year to promote professional interest in educational leadership, research and service, voted on new membership of approximately 20 candidates from among the North Carolina men currently engaged in educational study, most of whom are enrolled as students at the University.

As a special feature of the evening's entertainment, a travelogue was shown of the 16 German school teachers who came to this country in September to observe American educational institutions. Six of the German teachers were present at the smoker and one of their number, Willi Boller of Hesse, Germany, showed pictures he had taken of his party since their departure from Europe.

The Germans were introduced to the fraternity members by Prof. Wilmer R. Jenkins of the School of Education, coordinator of the German teacher project for this state.

HOLSTEN IS FATHER

An 8-pound, 3 ounce future college boy was born at 4 a.m. yesterday to Mrs. Roy Holsten, wife of the assistant dean of students. The name: Robert Bruce Holsten. Mother is fine at Duke Hospital. Father is happy, R. B. being his second boy.

THIS NEWSCHART SHOWS Federal governmental receipts, expenditures and deficit as presented in the fiscal 1954 budget submitted to Congress by President Truman. Fiscal 1954 runs from July 1, 1953 to June 30, 1954. The estimated deficit for 1954 is $4.03 billion more than the $5.8 billion deficit estimated for the current fiscal 1953, which ends on June 30.—NEA News Chart.

New Deficit Budget

	June 30, 1953	June 30, 1954
Fiscal Year Ending
Spending	$ 74,593,000,000	$ 78,587,000,000
Income	68,697,000,000	68,665,000,000
Deficit	5,896,000,000	9,922,000,000
Public debt at end of year	263,900,000,000	273,800,000,000

THE NEWS IN BRIEF

SEOUL—Three hundred UN warplanes dealt the Communist war machine a devastating blow yesterday with a bomb, bullet and plane attack on a vital supply line between North Korea and Manchuria. F-84 Thunder jets dropped thousands of pounds of bombs on five rail bridges and four road bridges just north of Sinanju, one of the most heavily defended cities in North Korea.

ROCK SPRINGS, Wyo.—Searchers for a C-46 transport plane which disappeared in the rugged mountain country near the Idaho-Utah-Wyoming boundaries began their fourth day of operations yesterday with hopes dimming that the plane would be located soon.

WASHINGTON—Julius and Ethel Rosenberg, the convicted atom spies, appealed to President Truman yesterday to spare their lives. They have been sentenced to die in the electric chair at New York's Sing Sing Prison next Wednesday for conspiring to give atom secrets to Russia. Marching pickets asking clemency have been patrolling outside the White House in recent days.

WASHINGTON—Key members of the House Armed Services Committee yesterday predicted that Congress would press for early action to break the Korean stalemate if President-elect Eisenhower does not do so. A survey of six Republican and four Democratic committee members showed the majority were convinced the Korean situation is difficult but not hopeless.

2nd Movie Of Series Slated

"The Late George Apley," based on the novel by J. P. Marquand, will be presented at 7:15 p.m. tomorrow in the Playmakers Theater.

Dr. John Honigmann, associate professor of anthropology, will lead the discussion following the movie.

The movie is the second in a series of shows being brought here by the YMCA and the Hillel Foundation. The series is built around man and his environment and will continue throughout this quarter. Admission is free.

Betty Smith's "A Tree Grows in Brooklyn" was the first picture to be shown.

Advertising Examination Feb. 14, 21

The seventh nation-wide examination for advertising will be held in Charlotte on Feb. 14 and 21.

Tread Covington, UNC graduate who is advertising executive and chairman of the AAAA Examination Committee, said the test will be open to all who are considering advertising as a career, including college seniors.

"The examination is given annually throughout the country to attract high calibre young people to advertising," Covington said. "It provides a series of aptitude-temperament tests compiled by specialists in personnel testing and a group of tests of practical knowledge developed by advertising agency executives," he said. "Through these tests the relatively inexperienced person can see how his abilities compare with those of more than 4,500 people now employed in advertising. In this way we hope to encourage and guide people who show promise for advertising and save others from months, perhaps years in the wrong work."

Mrs. Durham's Funeral Today

Mrs. Carl T. Durham, wife of the Congressman of the Sixth N. C. congressional district, died at her home here Friday night after an illness of nine months. She had been critically ill since Sept. 15.

Funeral will be held at 2 p.m. today at the Chapel Hill Presbyterian Church.

Surviving besides her husband are five children, Mrs. Gregg Murray, Springfield, N. J., Mrs. M. M. Sessler, Asheville, Carl J., Cincinnati, and Peggy and Ann, Chapel Hill.

Mrs. Durham, a Guilford County native, married Rep. Durham on Dec. 30, 1918.

This Is It

If you're interested in working on the staff of The Daily Tar Heel you are invited to attend a meeting this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The congregating will be in the newsroom, second floor of Graham Memorial. Staffers are needed in everything but the Photography Department.

If you think you're interested, give it a try.—RN.