

'Don Juan' Presented In Record Form

A recording of George Bernard Shaw's "Don Juan in Hell," featuring the First Drama Quartet, will be presented tonight at 7:30 in the Green Room of the Play-makers Theater.

Latest of a series of famous recordings sponsored by the English Club, the program is open to students and faculty. Coffee will be served.

Voices familiar to those who saw the performance here several years ago of "the greatest moral document of our century," as Jacques Barzun calls "Don Juan in Hell," will be heard in the four roles:

"Of course he was subversive! He was ruining morale by making Old Fashioned without enough Angostura!"

AEC Offers Study Grants To Seniors

Seniors majoring in chemistry, physics or engineering are eligible for Atomic Energy Commission-sponsored graduate fellowships in radiological physics for the 1953-54 school year.

Radiological physics is a new and expanding field of science. It is concerned with health physics, radiation monitoring and control, radioisotope measurements and similar activities associated with the use of radioisotopes or the release of nuclear energy.

Up to 75 fellowships may be awarded, with fully-accredited graduate study to be carried out in three locations. One program is operated by the University of Rochester and Brookhaven National Laboratory, another by the University of Washington and the Hanford Works of the AEC, and the third by Vanderbilt University and the Oak Ridge National Laboratory.

In each case, nine months of course work at the university is followed by three months of additional study and field training at the cooperating AEC installation. The program is accredited for graduate-level training leading toward an advanced degree.

Basic stipends for fellows is $1,600 per year, with an allowance of $350 if married and $350 for each dependent child. University tuition and required fees will be paid by the Oak Ridge Institute of Nuclear Studies, which administers the program for the AEC.

Additional information on the program may be obtained from science department heads or direct from the Institute at Oak Ridge, Tennessee.

Weil Speaker Says College Isn't Equipped To Weed Out Communist

time, he said the "greatest value of freedom of speech is not to the minority who want to talk but to the majority who do not want to listen."

Dr. Chafee said he believes it is the government's job to get out the Communists and not the schools. The Communist fear in education, he said, has brought about attacks on teachers who are not Communists. "The trustees at the University of California expressly stated that none of the professors they threw out were Communists. The faculty there got one man discharged who was later cleared by the FBI for a job with the Atomic Energy Commission."

A good many teachers in the last few years have lost their positions because they presumed to differ from opinions held by the group among their fellow-citizens which happened to be dominant for the time being. . . . The fear of Communism offers a long-wished opportunity to hit hard at teachers who are on the opposite side of any hot current controversy," he declared.

Dr. Chafee said there are two "rational arguments against letting a teacher claim so wide a right to say what he pleases as a newspaper editor or an author. The first is the immaturity of those to whom the teacher speaks . . . and the second is the need for education to pass on the basic traditions of the community to a new generation." A transmitting of tradition, which, he said, is a large part of education but not the whole of it, should be a "progressively smaller part as the youngster gains in power to decide for himself."

Dr. Chafee said the best a student can get in his education after the early grades is not information but method and the spirit of exploration. . . . "The greatest need of our schools and colleges, therefore, is not to avoid radical teachers or conservative teachers, but stupid or uninspiring teachers stuffed shirts, men who can't get over the footlights, dispenses of handed canned goods."

Referring to the ferreting out of suspected Communists by institutions themselves, Dr. Chafee said "a university is not properly equipped to determine a suspect's acquainted membership in the party, unless his activities in the classroom or on the campus are notorious. It cannot compel witnesses to testify against him or summon the witness he wants for his defense."

Dr. Chafee asserted that he thought the non-Communist teacher who keeps silent is making a serious mistake. "Keeping silent hurts one's institution and the causes of academic freedom and freedom of speech. Although by numerous Supreme Court decisions, the claim of privilege is not an admission of guilt, nevertheless the public regards it as proof that his school or university did have a Communist teaching there."

He said the method of the loyalty oath for teachers is not advisable because "any real Communist would not hesitate to sign it. When you are ready to help a foreign power against your own country, why boggle at a little thing like perjury?"

Assisting Jones as head chairman directly will be Don Angell, personal assistant and Harry Young, treasurer.

Other committee chairmanships include Gil Marsh social representative; Sue Fink and Bob Jackson, faculty solicitations; Bill Acker and Fred Mewhinney, student solicitors, and Pepper Tice and Joan McLendon, unusual publicity.

Terry Chhronaki and Tony Kelly, unusual stunts; Vance Moore, group projects and announcements; Laurence Stith, printing and posters; Louis Kraar, Daily Tar Heel publicity, and John Taylor, variety show.

Chairman Jones hopes students "will render willingly any help asked of them by the different chairmen during the campaign."

The next meeting of the board will be Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the YWCA at which time Wilmer Kitchen, executive secretary of WSSF, will be present to discuss the campaign with the board members in preparation for starting the campaign.

clarations for Jones. Indicating that Jones was a thorough Christian, Graham touched on one of the main issues about Jones' ministry: "He disturbs the social order of our society and anybody that does that is prone to attack. He practices Christianity. It takes courage to tell society how un-Christian it is. . . . If you're going to put people in a strait jacket, you'll lose the youth of America. Jones and McMullen are on the front line for Christianity."

Answering charges that the Chapel Hill church had a secular atmosphere, Graham observed that Christ had advised his disciples to preach the gospel throughout the world. Referring to the suspension and trial period proposal Graham said, "If there's any one here who has suffered more than Charles Jones for Jesus Christ, let him throw the first stone."

Presbytery appointed the Judicial Commission last June to organize a new Presbyterian church to comply with the petition of a group of Chapel Hill Presbyterians dissatisfied with the present church's program. The commission was also authorized to "investigate thoroughly the total situation in the Chapel Hill Church and to report back to the Presbytery."

Establishment of the new church comes this Sunday when the commission meets with the petitioning group. No official date was set for the meeting of the commission with Mr. Jones and the church officials. Church officials here expressed optimistically that the commission and church could get together on differences.
