IDA AND HER TEACHERS VOCALIZE in Playmaker's version of the Gilbert and Sullivan operetta, "Princess Ida" which finishes its three-day run tonight. From left are Joe Jurgensen, who played as one of Princess Ida's associate professors, Nancy Murray, who played the lead, and Jean Hillman, who played the other prof. Show time is 8:30.

'Mr. And Miss' Named By Education School

Texas Solons Ask Broader GI Benefits

AUSTIN, Texas, Feb. 7.—(Special)—Korean veterans from Texas who are not eligible for the U. S. government's GI Bill will be sent to school by the state if a proposed act goes through.

The Military and Veterans Committee of the Texas House of Representatives has reported favorably on the bill and thus far no one in either the House or the Senate has spoken in opposition to the bill.

The bill provides that Korean veterans attending state educational institutions will have their tuition and fees paid by the state. But the act will not apply to those veterans who receive federal benefits. As it is now, only vets of World Wars I and II receive state aid after their federal benefits expire.

The proposed bill is similar to one passed to aid World War II vets. After their federal eligibility ran out, they had their tuition and fees supplied by the state for as long as 48 months.

The proposed bill would apply to vets who serve during the present emergency. Its benefits also would apply to the children of persons who were killed in action or died while in the armed service.

Draft Status To Be Aired

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—(Special)—John A. Hannah told Senators this week that the present policy of draft deferments for college students will be reviewed.

"It worries me," the ex-president of Michigan State said, "that there is so much validity in the statement—that the son of a well-to-do man goes to college and the son of the less well-to-do goes to Korea."

Y Banquet This Week

The YMCA will hold its quarter Fellowship Banquet Tuesday night, Feb. 17 at 6 in Lenoir Hall.

J. Frederick Miller, national YMCA staff secretary, will be principal speaker for the occasion. Miller has worked with the student organization in Oklahoma and Pennsylvania prior to his post on the national staff. Dr. Frank Graham was guest speaker for the fall quarter dinner.

The banquet, highlighting the fellowship program among members and friends of the Carolina YMCA, is for both faculty and students.

'Shame of Colleges'

US Colleges 'Merely Messy' Says Author Louis Bromfield

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—(Special)—"Education at its present state in the U. S. seems to be merely messy," says author Louis Bromfield in a March Esquire article.

In the article, entitled "The Shame of our Colleges," the author of "The Rains Came," says "This tragic condition" stems from "our failure to discipline our children, our tolerance of downright subversion in the schools and our emphasis on the college rather than the college education."

Writing about the "ugly seed" of subversive education, Bromfield feels that arguments about Marxism and true democracy should be presented with complete objectivity and finally, the student should make up his own mind. Such a process rarely occurs in the U. S. and in all too

The title "Mr." and "Miss" Representative Student Teacher," has been given Richard B. Wilson, Chapel Hill, and Margaret Dickinson, Raleigh.

The honor is bestowed each year upon one man and one woman from the upper class in the school of education. A joint student-faculty committee selects the students who are to represent the University in this capacity at the annual conference of the North Carolina Education Association next month in Asheville.

The selection is made on the basis of personality, scholarship, leadership, and qualities most desirable in a superior teacher.

Dick Wilson, Phi Beta Kappa was initiated into Phi Delta Kappa, honorary educational fraternity last week. At present he is doing practice teaching at the New Walter Williams High School in Burlington. A history major, Dick entered Carolina in the fall of 1950 and will be graduated in June, 1953.

Margaret Dickinson, who holds several scholastic honors, was listed on the Dean's list at Peace College and made the Dean's list here after her transfer from Peace in 1951. Margaret is president of the physical education majors club for member of the Women's Athletic Council for the past two years and plays on the hockey team. Her practice teaching will begin next quarter in a high school not far from Chapel Hill.

Both of the "Representative Teachers" will be guests of the North Carolina Education Association during its three-day conference in Asheville. They will be sponsored by the local chapter of Phi Delta Kappa.

Campus Seen

Natly dressed males, obviously on way to a date, exploring engine under hood of stubborn car.

Down-and-outter discussing high cost of living with economics prof in front of Jeff's newsstand.

Springtime coming to South Building early with appearance of daffodils and azaleas through-out building.

That Ain't All

It happened the other day in Greensboro when they were introducing President as the speaker of the day.

The person making the introduction recited a long list of accomplishments for the educator, mentioning his rise in the Army and the several capacities in which he served the government as a civilian.

After the impressive list had been completed, Gray prefaced his speech with, "He forgot to tell you I was once a notary public in New York."

IKE

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower went a long way Friday toward restoring the nation to a free-wheeling economy. Ripping aside the controversial controls system set up during the Truman administration, Eisenhower issued two-fold executive orders: (1) Abolishing all federal controls over wages and salaries—thus clearing the way for quick pay boosts for perhaps a million workers; and (2) junking price curbs on thousands of items, including all meat, clothing, furniture, restaurant meals, bar and tavern drinks, and hundreds of household goods. Both orders are effective immediately.

THE HAGUE—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles flew to flood-ravaged Holland Friday and immediately began laying the basis for an extra American aid program to enable this country to pull its oar on the Western Europe's defense team. Dulles wants that team to be showing real progress by an April deadline. But a North Sea flood has damaged the economy of Holland and Belgium, two members of the projected six-nation European army, and created havoc in Britain, which is co-operating with the group.

GREENSBORO—A dapper but frightened George Smith gave himself up Friday afternoon, 15 hours after he had been declared an outlaw. He met his two lawyers and a uniformed policeman who were waiting by appointment near the Guilford County Courthouse at 3:30 p.m. Five minutes later a cell door in the County Jail closed behind the dethroned lottery king and at 4:05 he was on his way to Central Prison at Raleigh. Thus a 22½ hour man hunt and a career of crime ended. A statewide alarm was broadcast for the convicted racketeer Thursday afternoon when he failed to show up in Guilford Superior Court to begin a 10-year sentence for bribery.

RALEIGH — Governor William Umstead has left Watts Hospital in Durham and gone home to the governors' mansion here after spending 27 hospitalized days and nights recovering from a mild heart attack.

Student Party Slates Nominations Tonight

The Student Party will meet tomorrow night at 8:30 in Roland Parker lounges.

All Legislature nominations will be made. Members and other interested students are invited.

Pi Beta Phi Paces Campus In Grades

Pi Beta Phi sorority proved themselves the brainiest Greek letter organization on the campus for the fall quarter, coming up with a 2.1618 (B minus) average.

The Pi Phi's average is the second highest on the campus in recent years. A 2.11 was recorded shortly after World War II, also by the Pi Phi's.

Boy Saves Family In Night Fire

An 11-year-old youth was credited with saving the lives of a Chapel Hill family early yesterday morning when he smelled smoke and awakened the household of a burning frame dwelling on Tenney Circle.

Richie Hutchinson, who lives with the William E. Padgett family, aroused the household shortly after midnight.

Mrs. William Padgett was injured in the fire and was admitted to Memorial Hospital for treatment. Hospital attaches described her condition yesterday afternoon as good.

Young Hutchinson awoke Mr. Padgett who went downstairs to find the drapes, sofa and other living room furniture in flames. The Chapel Hill fire department was summoned and neighbors joined in the fight to subdue the blaze.

Cause of the fire, which started in the living room, has not been determined. Firemen fought to localize the blaze, but it spread to the second floor before it could be extinguished.

Exact extent of the damage is not known. The house was insured.

Built by Dr. R. E. Coker almost 30 years ago, the house has been occupied by the Padgett family since 1946 and was recently remodeled.

Alpha Tau Omega led the 23 fraternities in grades with a 2.6198 (C plus) average. Running behind the Pi Phi's in leading the Greeks were two more sororities, Kappa Delta, 2.3493 and Chi Omega, 2.3611.

In computing scholastic averages, a higher grade is assigned a lower numerical value, viz., A is 1.00, B is 2.00, C is 3.00, D is 4.00, and so on.

The other three sororities lined up in this order: Alpha Delta Pi, 2.6279; Delta Delta Delta, 2.6337; and Alpha Gamma Delta, 2.7241.

The other fraternities followed ATO in this order: Zeta Beta Tau, 2.6812; Tau Epsilon Phi, 2.7467; Zeta Psi, 2.7789; Sigma Alpha Epsilon, 2.7937; Delta Psi, 2.8292; Phi Gamma Delta, 2.8941.

Beta Theta Pi, 2.9185; Theta Chi, 2.9234; Delta Kappa Epsilon, 2.9518; Kappa Alpha, 2.9563; Sigma Nu, 2.9602; Chi Psi, 2.9902; Pi Lambda Phi, 2.9912; Chi Phi, 2.9950; Phi Kappa Sigma, 2.9969; Lambda Chi Alpha, 3.0573.

Sigma Phi Epsilon, 3.1121; Sigma Chi, 3.1452; Pi Kappa Phi, 3.1649; Pi Kappa Alpha, 3.2443; Phi Delta Theta, 3.2668; and Kappa Sigma, 3.3727.

The all-sorority average for the fall quarter was 2.4639. The all-fraternity average was 2.9774. The all-men's average was 2.90878 (by sampling method, every tenth man, alphabetically).

Planetarium Dramatizes Doom's Day

"Birth and Death of the Earth," is the new February sky fantasy at Morehead Planetarium.

Visitors will see cosmic events that may have taken place billions of years ago and those which plausibly may occur billions of years hence. Early in the presentation our sun and another star collide, resulting in great masses of matter being pulled from the two bodies. Several other theories which may account for the origin of our solar system are offered and explained.

A later portion deals with the predictions of scientists as to how life on the earth could end due to existing natural forces. Audiences will experience an ice age and hear a two-way broadcast between a satellite and the last living people on the glacier-trapped earth. The glaciers at that time seem to surround the audience.

In another sequence lightening streaks across the Planetarium dome accompanied by simulated storms and tidal disturbances.

The possibility that the sun could release heat and energy capable of scorching the earth is shown.

The Planetarium moon falls toward the earth, shatters into a million pieces which will encircle the planet and be held there by the earth's attraction. Again the earth's population has been destroyed by volcanic eruptions and tidal disturbances.

Heels 'n' Toes

Tar Heels 'n' Toes, a folksy group which does folk dances, is having a supper Wednesday for old and prospective members.

Scheduled for 6 o'clock in the recreation room of the Women's Gym, the meal will be open to all interested and its cost will be shared by those attending. For reservations, contact Ann Nicholson, 305 Cerr, 9-9086, by noon Wednesday.

Dancing will follow Wednesday's supper. Members may bring guests.

TWICE DISAPPOINTED in love, movie star June Haver has announced that she will give up her glamorous screen career to enter a convent, become a nun and "consecrate my life to the service of God and His sick and His children."

8 Professors Will Receive AKPsi Awards

Eight professors of the UNC School of Business Administration will receive recognition for 25 or more years of service February 23.

The Alpha Tau chapter of Alpha Kappa Psi, business administration fraternity, will award the professors Silver Anniversary Distinguished Faculty Certificates at the banquet at the Carolina Inn.

The award consisting of a hand embossed certificate citing 25 or more years of outstanding service to business schools of the nation, was recently established by the national chapter of Alpha Kappa Psi.

The recipients here and the number of years they have been in the business school are: D. D. Carroll, 35 years; M. S. Heath, 28; Clarence Heer, 26; E. E. Peacock, 33; G. T. Schwenning, 27; C. P. Spruill, 31; Harry De Merle Wolf, 25; and John B. Woosley, 33.

Hollywood Dr. Removes Need For False Claims

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 7.—(Special)—No longer need girls do with cotton what Nature's forgotten.

A plastic surgeon disclosed recently that now any girl can become a Jane Russell through science—and fool everybody but her surgeon.

Dr. Robert Franklyn told how a falsie can be made with plastic and inserted under the skin. And Hollywood, never one to lag, is keeping well abreast of these trends.

"A size 34, which is insufficient, can become 36, which is sufficient and a 36 can become a 38, which is more than sufficient, even in Hollywood," the surgeon said, who numbers many a movie queen among his patients. Dr. Franklyn claims he has successfully performed the operation on 25 women, some of them well known to movie fans. The plastic, first developed by him in a soft, form, is a sponge-like substance that feels fleshy. It also can be used to build up hollow cheeks or chinless chins.

The operation requires a surgical incision that will allow the spongy plastic to be pushed into the spots required.

"So far," the doctor commented, "we have found it inert and well tolerated by the body. Tests on humans and animals show it is no more harmful on the body than air."

It will not produce irritation to cells, major cause of cancer, the doctor added.

Dr. Franklyn? He's married to movie actress Vanessa Brown.

City Planning Exhibit Opens In Morehead

An exhibit showing the work of the first five graduating classes of the University's Department of City and Regional Planning is now on display in the north and south rooms of the Morehead Building.

The display has been set up by the students in the Department and will be open daily from 2 until 10 p.m. through this month.

Much of the work of the graduate students in the Department is focused upon communities in the state and region. Cities and towns represented in the display of student projects include the Leaksville-Spray-Draper area, Lenoir, Goldsboro, Durham, Raleigh, Greensboro, Rocky Mount, Greenville, Fayetteville, Chapel Hill and Columbia and Hartsville, S. C.

The exhibit also includes illustrative materials from three research projects undertaken for the Federal government by students and faculty of the Department of City and Regional Planning through the Institute for Research in Social Science. These include a study for the Housing and Home Finance Agency of Urbanization in the Savannah River area; a study for the U. S. Air Force on day-time night-time population distribution in urban areas; and an examination for the U. S. Air Force of city and regional planning in the Soviet Union.

The display also includes models of proposed new town developments for North Carolina.

CPU Meeting

"What is Progress?" will be tonight's topic for discussion at the meeting of the Carolina Political Union. The meeting will begin at 8 o'clock in the Grail Room of Graham Memorial. Visitors are welcome.

Correction

Due to a typographical error, a story in Friday's paper incorrectly listed Bubber Hill, UNC student, as pleading guilty in a Raleigh court to a theft charge at State College.

The story should have read that Hill pleaded not guilty. The Daily Tar Heel regrets the error.

What Goes On Here

Musicological Society

The North Carolina chapter of the American Musicological Society will meet on Monday evening, Feb. 9, at 9 o'clock in the choral room of Hill Hall. Dr. Jan P. Schinhan of the University faculty will read a paper entitled "Music-Illogical Terms, Definitions, Notations and Interpretations." Everyone is invited to attend whether society members or not.

SUAB Meeting

The student-faculty committee of SUAB will meet Wednesday, Feb. 11, in the main lounge of Graham Memorial at 5 o'clock. In the future a faculty member will be invited to discuss a pertinent topic with the group. For the Wednesday meeting several members of the faculty will be present and all students are invited.

Cosmopolitan Club

As part of the campus-wide observance of Race Relations Sunday, the Cosmopolitan Club will sponsor a talk by John Cassel of the Union of South Africa. Mr. Cassel will discuss the race problem in his country at the club's regular meeting in the Rendezvous Room today at 4 o'clock.

Interdormitory Council

The Interdormitory Council meets tomorrow night at 7 o'clock in 203 Alumni. By-laws will be discussed.
