Swimmers Meet Emory Here Tomorrow; Seek Eighth Win

By John Hussey

The Carolina swimming team will play host to Emory University here tomorrow in its last home meet of the season. The meet is scheduled for two o'clock.

The Tar Heels will be looking for their eighth victory of the season without a defeat. If they win, it will be their thirty-fifth consecutive dual meet victory over a period of four years.

In last week's meet with Florida, sophomore Jack Edwards established a new University record in the 100 yard freestyle when he turned in a time of 51.7.

Tomorrow Coach Ralph Casey will start Buddy Baarcke, Barry Wall, and Edwards in the 300 yard medley relay. This is the team that established the present University record in that event.

In the 220 will be Larry Shannon and co-captain Stan Tinkham. Buddy Heins and Duke Widoff will represent the Tar Heels in the fifty yard freestyle. Warren Heeman will swim the 150 individual medley.

Joe Kelso will be opposed by Emory's Jim Jacks, a prominent diver from Atlanta. Co-captain Donnie Evans will swim the 440 yard freestyle. It will be the first time this year that Evans has been in this event.

Baarcke, Edwards, Tinkham, and Heins will swim for the Tar Heels in the 400 yard freestyle relay.

Jayvee Swimmers Meet Richmond 'Y'

Carolina's JV swimmers will go for their fifth victory of the season when they play host to Richmond YMCA at 4 p.m. Saturday afternoon.

The Tar Babies, showing more improvement with each meet, will swim the freshman distances in this meet. Although the line-up for Saturday's meet is indefinite, Coach Jamerson will probably rely on the same boys who have performed in the previous meets.

This would include Pat Eldridge and Pete Dannenbaum in the 50 free-style, with Fred Diffenbach and John Harden on the starting line in the backstroke event.

Gray McAllister and Jerry Woltz will be ready for duty in the breaststroke, while Jack Parks and Lee Holmes will likely perform in the 200 free-style.

Tar Heels Try To Hit Win Column After Losing Three Games In Row

Carolina's basketball team, its winning streak cooled by three straight losses, goes to Columbia, S. C. tonight and will try to regain the win column and take its 14th Southern Conference victory at the expense of South Carolina.

Coach Frank Johnson's Gamecocks are the outstanding team in the southernmost part of the Conference, with recent wins over Furman, Davidson, and Clemson. The Gamecocks only loss last week was to N. C. State.

Vince Grimaldi, Al Lifson, Bud Maddie, and Jerry Vayda will carry the brunt of the attack for the Tar Heels during the Southern trip that also includes a game with The Citadel Saturday night in Charleston.

Lifson has pulled even with Grimaldi in team scoring, with both guards holding a 15.7 point-per-game average. Vayda is third, and Maddie runs a close fourth.

Wrestlers Go Against State

Coach Sam Barnes' wrestlers will go after their third win of the season this afternoon when they meet N. C. State in Raleigh. The matmen have lost four matches.

The team will be led by captain Eddie Haines, who has been the outstanding man on the squad this year. Also outstanding has been Miles Gregory, probably the most improved player on the squad. The Tar Heels' next home match is on February 20, against Washington and Lee.
