

Carolina, Case Five Appear At Woolen Tonight

Wolfpack, In Revenge Role, Favorites In Crucial Game

By Biff Roberts

Carolina's once-proud leaders of the Southern Conference humbly meet N.C. State at 8:00 tonight in Woolen Gym not in an attempt to regain first place, but only to secure one of the eight positions in the Conference tournament.

Regarded as sure bets for the tourney two weeks ago, the Tar Heels now find themselves given an outside chance of being one of the select eight to attend the annual playoff in Raleigh, March 5-7.

To be sure of being invited the Carolina team must beat either State tonight or Duke next Friday. The Tar Heels beat State 70-69, in an earlier meeting of the two teams at the Reynolds Coliseum in Raleigh but the Wolfpack will still be favored tonight.

The reserve strength of the Wolfpack, which now ranks as the top team in the Conference, may be the deciding factor. Coach Everett Case has a deep bench to call on in case any of his starters foul out of the game.

Coach Case will probably go along with his usual starting lineup. That would put Bobby Speigh and Bill Kukoy at forwards, Mel Thompson at center, and Dave Gotkin and Bernie Yurin at the guards. Dickie Tyler, usually regarded as Case's top reserve, may get the starting nod ahead of Kukoy in recognition of his play in State's past few games, however.

Coach Frank McGuire, who brought Carolina's first win over State in the past 15 tries, will probably send out the same group which started against the Wolfpack in the last game.

Al Lifson and Vince Grimaldi, who are fighting for scoring honors on the Carolina team, will be at the guards. Slim Paul Likins will be at center and Bud Maddie and Jerry Vayda or Jack Wallace at forwards.

This will be State's last Conference game and if the Pack wins it they will be assured of at least a tie for the Southern Conference championship. The State record now stands at 12-3. Carolina's mark is 15-4.

Coach McGuire, whose team is still shaken by the loss to Wake Forest Tuesday night, will probably string along with his starters as much as possible. He used these tactics, not substituting to any extent until the final minutes, in the first game of the series and it proved successful.

The junior varsity teams of the two schools will meet in a preliminary at 6:00 with the State boys highly favored. Regarded as one of the best jayvee teams at State in years, the Wolflets ran up 113 points on the Tar Babies in their first meeting this year.

Tonight's game has been a sell-out for two weeks.

Wrestlers Meet Generals, Terps Here Today, Tomorrow

Following a disappointing loss to N. C. State last week, the Carolina wrestling team will attempt to get back on the winning side of the ledger in a pair of tough meets today and tomorrow.

The Tar Heels have an opportunity to win against Washington and Lee tonight in a meet which may go down to the final bout, but they entertain slim hopes against a powerful Maryland team the following afternoon.

Washington and Lee wrestles at 7 p.m., while the Maryland matinee match is slated for 2 o'clock the next afternoon in Woolen Gymnasium.

The Tar Heels pin their hopes on Captain Eddie Haines, Arthur Gregory, Miles Gregory, Andy Holt, Harvey Bradshaw, Pete McGehee, Zack Waters and Harry Pawlik.

Haines, a senior from Philadelphia, paces the Tar Heels in scoring, having won four matches while losing three. He has scored 14 points and has given up 13. Miles Gregory, a Tar Heel football lineman, has been strong in recent meets and has split in six bouts. He has scored 11 points to his opponents' nine.

Scoring for the other regulars include Pawlik (10-12), A. Gregory (3-6), Bradshaw (9-12), McGehee (0-12) Waters (0-13), For-

Southern Scholastics Meet Is Scheduled Here Tomorrow

Approximately 125 swimmers representing some 15 schools will converge on Chapel Hill beginning today for the seventh annual Southern Scholastic swimming championships here tomorrow.

Trials will be held starting at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow with the final events scheduled to start at 3:30 p.m. in Bowman Gray pool.

The swimmers will come from various schools throughout six states, some coming from as far north as Kentucky and others journeying up from Georgia. Some of the larger schools to be represented at the meet are Granby High of Norfolk, Va., Male High of Louisville, Ky., and Augusta, Ga. Military Academy.

There will be two divisions of competition in the meet, the high school as well as prep school. Raleigh High will aim for a repeat of the championship in the high school bracket, while Ga. Military Academy, last year's prep champion, will also take part in the competition.

Several college scouts will probably be scattered among the crowd, as this meet usually draws some of the outstanding swimmers in the South to it. Both the morning and afternoon session of the meet will be open to the public without charge.

N. C. State Track Team Here Today

N. C. State's Wolfpack track team will meet Carolina in an indoor dual meet this afternoon starting at 2:30.

This will be the Tar Heels' only dual indoor meet of the season. Next weekend both teams will compete here in the Southern Conference Indoor Games.

The Wolfpack will feature Clyde Garrison and Buzz Sawyer as stars in the distance events. Garrison is the State indoor mile and 880 champion.

The Tar Heels will be led by Al Newton, Tom Higgins and Sam Marx, Bob Barden, Sonny Bell, Jeff Jordan.

The most ruggedly contested event should be the mile relay which was won by State in an earlier pre-season practice meet.

This will be a full-distance meet, including the following events: shot put, pole vault, broad jump, 60-yard dash, 70-yard high hurdles, 70-yard low hurdles, high jump, mile run, 440-yard run, two-mile run, 880-yard run, and the mile relay.

Speak at the confab on "What it Means to Believe" and recreation will be led by members of the UNC football squad.

Gymnasts Meet Mississippi Southern At Gym Tonight

Mississippi Southern's young gymnastics team takes on Carolina's strong Tar Heels here tonight at 8:30 in Woolen Gymnasium.

Coach Bill Meade's Tar Heels have captured three victories in five outings and appear headed for their best finish since the sport was reorganized here four years ago.

The Tar Heels hold victories over Georgia Tech, Duke and West Virginia, while Army and Navy have handed the Tar Heels their only defeats.

In losing to the Army team last week, Meade's team put on one of its finest exhibitions. Check Goodin tied for first in the horizontal bars while Otis Hartsell took first honors on the rings, two rare winning performances against the classy Cadets.

Worried About Religion?

While your religious beliefs are something you'll have to settle for yourself, it sometimes helps to know that a lot of guys have sweated it out before you. And sometimes books can help. Here are some you might consider:

World Bible—contains the essential Scriptures of all the world's great religions, including the Hindu, Taoism, the Moslem and the Jewish-Christian. $2.50

The Rubaiyat of Omar Khayyam—If not the most complete, at least the best loved statement of the sceptic's position. $2.49

The Reach of the Mind—The raw material of religion as seen at Dr. Thine's laboratory at Duke. $3.75

Man and His Gods—by Homer W. Smith. Religion viewed as an historical quest. $5.00

The Origin and Character of the Bible—by J. T. Sunderland. This into being, who wrote what, and book tells how the Bible came when. It may shock you. $3.00
