

Tar Heels Will Meet State Tonight In SC Tourney

West Virginia, Furman To Meet At Two O'clock; Pack Favored

By Biff Roberts

Carolina's basketball team, having overcome its frustration of missing the Southern Conference tournament for the past two years, finds itself in another frustrating position at 9:30 tonight when it meets tourney-favored N. C. State in the opening round at William Neal Reynolds Coliseum in Raleigh.

Although the Tar Heels split with nationally-ranked State in two games this season, the Wolfpack will be highly favored to advance to the second round after tonight.

The Pack has won the annual tournament for the past six years and enters tonight's game rated as the team to beat for the Conference title.

Although Carolina licked the State team, 70-69, at Raleigh earlier in the season few observers give the Tar Heels much hope of pulling the trick again tonight.

Three Losses

Since their victory over the Pack the Tar Heels' fortunes have declined rapidly with the last three games of the season being decisive losses to Wake Forest, Duke, and State.

Coaches Frank McGuire and Buck Freeman have been experimenting freely to get a winning combination since the three-game losing streak started at Wake Forest and may come up with a somewhat altered lineup tonight.

But for the most part they will have to depend on the players which carried the team to a 15-6 Southern Conference record and eighth place in the standings. Vince Grimaldi, Bud Maddie, Al Lifson, Jerry Vayda, and Paul Likins will probably be the starters with Jack Wallace, Tony Radovich, Ernie Schwarz, Jippy Carter, and Gene Glancey ranked as the top reserves.

West Virginia-Furman

For Grimaldi, Carter, Wallace, Schwad and possibly Maddie the tournament will be a finish to their playing days for Carolina. All are seniors.

State will have three seniors in its lineup, too, high scoring Bobby Speight, forward Bill Kukuy, and guard Bernie Yurin. The other starters will probably be sophomore Dave Gotkin at guard and junior Mel Thompson at center.

West Virginia and Furman will open the tourney at 2:00 this afternoon and Duke and Maryland will follow at 4:00. Wake Forest and Richmond will meet at 7:30 in a game preceding the Carolina-State battle.

The winner of the West Virginia-Furman game will play the winner of the State-Carolina game tomorrow night at 9:30 and the winner of the Duke-Maryland game will meet the winner of Richmond-Wake Forest at 7:30. The final game will be played at 8:00 Saturday night.

SOCCER CANCELLED

All intramural soccer games for the rest of the quarter have been cancelled the Intramural Department announced yesterday. The Department hopes to reschedule the games next quarter.

Tar Heel Swimmers End Dual Meet Season With 38th Straight Win

By John Hussey

With the close of dual and championship competition, the Tar Heel swimming team strengthened its hold on the claim to be the best in the South.

Looking over the '53 season we find that they set five and tied one dual meet record, established four new championship marks, and set five new University records. Their 10-0 dual meet total brought their present win streak to 38 consecutive victories over all opponents and 58 consecutive wins over SC adversaries.

The times turned in by Donnie Evans in the breaststroke and the individual medley, by Buddy Baarcke in the backstroke, by Jack Edwards in the freestyle, by Barry Wall, Baarcke, and Edwards in the medley relay, and by Buddy Heins, Baarcke, Evans, and Edwards in the freestyle relay not only set new records but rank with the top times performed in the nation this year.

The only black mark on their record is that NC State gained more points in the SC championship meet (on an unofficial tally, because the meet was for individual, not team honors.) However, the Tar Heels managed to set four new records and to take nine out of the fourteen first places. Bob Mattson, who won three individual first places for State last year and was generally considered to be the best swimmer in the conference, was defeated twice in the 1953 meet, once by Evans and the other time by Wall.

However, the Tar Heel supremacy seems to be in danger. The top six swimmers on the team are graduating and there will be only one senior on next year's team. State will be more powerful than ever and such teams as Duke, VMI, and VPI have shown a lot of improvement.

This season is not yet finished, however. The NCAA meet will be held at Ohio State this year and the Tar Heels stand a better chance than they ever have of placing high up on the list of nationally ranked teams. State will probably be there also, and this should be the final test for both teams.

Grapplers To Depart Today For Annual Wrestling Meet

By Benny Stewart

Carolina's grapplers leave here late this afternoon for Lexington, Va. where they will take part in the annual Southern Conference wrestling tournament opening tomorrow and running through Saturday.

The meet will be held in the V.M.I. Field House on the V.M.I. campus.

For the first time since 1947, all wrestlers on the squad will take part in competition at the tournament. Three of the eight boys making the trip were in the meet last year. These are Harry Pawlik, in the 123-lb. class who placed fourth in last year's meet, Eddie Haines, who also placed fourth, and Harvey Bradshaw, who failed to place in the tourney.

John Tyndall, at 130 lbs., and Miles Gregory in the 177 lb. class are the Tar Heels most likely to place high in the meet, according to Coach Barnes. However, the team should better its seventh-place finish of last year.

The meet will bring forth a team champion as well as champions in each weight class. A team winner will be adjudged on a point basis, which is as follows: 6 points for 1st place in each weight division, 4 points for second, 2 points for third-place, and 1 for fourth. The teams will also be awarded one point for each fall that its wrestlers get.

In order to be declared a division winner, a wrestler must win over three opponents.

The meet will get under way tomorrow afternoon with the preliminaries being held then. The semi-finals will come off Friday night, with the finals scheduled for Saturday night.

pus politicians." "I want to re-emphasize my sincere desire to conduct this campaign with a common sense approach. My running-mates and the University Party are in complete agreement with this plan. We are going to express our opinions and attitudes in a down to earth manner," said Gorham.

ity no matter what our extracurricular connections may be. We must never again allow our campus to be divided merely for political expediency."

Defining the campaign, Gorham tagged it "a campaign in which we must strive to make each student feel proud of his student government and its officers." In his acceptance speech last week Gorham said he thought the "major factor in the student apathy so prevalent here is the lack of respect that the average student has for student government.

He attributed the "lack of respect" to "the constant bickering and political maneuvering by cam-

Lifson Leads Cage Scoring Second Year

Carolina's basketball record for the 1952-53 season is the best for the Tar Heels since 1949.

Coach Frank McGuire's Tar Heels, ready for N. C. State College in the first round of the Southern Conference tournament at Raleigh tonight, compiled a season's mark of 17 victories and only nine defeats. In '49 the Tar Heels had a mark of 19-6 and since that time have racked up records of 17-12, 12-15 and 12-15. In Southern Conference play the Tar Heels won more games than any other team in the league, setting the record at 15 wins against six defeats, finishing in eighth place, one-half game off the pace.

Vince Grimaldi was the highest scoring Tar Heel, getting 376 points in 26 games for a 14.5 average, while Al (Fuzzy) Lifson followed with 326 in 22 contests for a 14.7 average. Bud Maddie (292), Jerry Vayda (294), Paul Likins (157), Bob Phillips (104), Jack Wallace (105) and Tony Radovich (101) were the other leading point makers.

Maddie turned in the best rebounding job, getting 305 for a 11.7 average. The tough senior from the Bronx also led the Tar Heels in personal fouls with 108 and was relieved in 11 of 26 games because of personals.

The complete Carolina statistics:

Final Meeting Of Lettermen Is Called Off

Carolina's Monogram Club will not hold a meeting tonight as scheduled because three teams are away.

The next meeting will be held next month, at a time to be announced.

UNITED NATIONS — Diplomats here agreed yesterday that the death or incapacitation of Premier Josef Stalin would throw the United Nations into a twilight period of indecision—leaving scant hope for immediate progress in settling the cold war. But there was sharp disagreement on whether a change in leadership in Moscow would set the Kremlin on a more peaceful course or lead the world closer to a third world war. The announcement of Stalin's grave illness caught U. N. diplomats and their staffs totally offguard.
