Guys, Dolls Have Fun At Butner

By Joyce Adams
Specialty dances, novelty songs group singing and a hillbilly band make for a lively afternoon. And that's how it was Sunday when a group of Carolina students visited the boys of the Youth Rehabilitation Center at Camp Butner.

The 100 boys welcomed the students with a rousing version of "Hark The Sound." Then followed a round of informal but vigorous fun in which the boys and their visitors alike let down their hair to entertain each other.

During group singing and instrumental numbers, some of the more light-hearted individuals put on spontaneous acts in the form of specialty dances and vocal solos and duets. Music for the occasion was provided by the band consisting of wash tub viol, sax, guitar and piano which played mighty presentable hillbilly music.

The assembly broke up after singing "God Bless America," and everybody mingled informally, getting to know one another.

The visitors were escorted through the new Center, a modern white colonial community on the crest of a hill.

The inmates of the Rehabilitation Center are boys ranging in age from 16 to 26 who have criminal records. They are selected for the Youth Center because of superior qualities of intellect and character which could be put to good use in society if given the proper guidance. The state, believing in its youth, has set up this center to help boys, who, because of circumstances, never had a chance to adjust to society.

There they learn a trade, learn how to get along with others and accept responsibility, so they may become useful citizens in their community. The atmosphere is one of a boys' rather than that of a penal institution.

However, their life being necessarily limited, the boys welcome the opportunity to visit with young people from the outside. The Carolina students were impressed with (See BUTNER, Page 3)

Group Elects Dean Weaver

Dean of Students Fred Weaver was recently chosen vice-president of the National Association of Student Personnel Administrators.

Weaver has been an active member of the group for several years. He has served on numerous committees and study groups for the association.

The election took place at the 35th anniversary conference at Michigan College on April 6-9.

Dean Robert M. Strozier, of the University of Chicago, was selected president of the group.

Hogg Awarded 1-Year Study

A senior in anthropology, Donald Hogg of Astoria, Ore., is one of the 101 outstanding students in the country to win a one-year National Woodrow Wilson Fellowship just conferred by the Association of Graduate Schools in the 37-member Association of American Universities, it was learned here today.

The National Woodrow Wilson Fellowships are awards reserved for young scholars showing "marked promise for the teaching profession and possessing the highest qualities of intellect, personality and character."

The 101 recipients this year were successful candidates among 1,263 nominated for the honors by American and Canadian educators.

Hogg, who graduates here this year, has elected to spend his one year Wilson fellowship in graduate study at the University. He is circulation manager of The Daily Tar Heel.

NEWS IN BRIEF

WASHINGTON—A faint, fresh glimmer of hope that the Communists may actually be moving toward a truce in Korea has been found by officials here in the latest Red proposals for dealing with prisoners of war. This feeling was not substantially changed by the United Nations threat to suspend the talks once again unless the Communists produce a constructive solution. In the latest Red proposals, presented to the U. S. Command Monday, the Communists appeared for the first time to recognize officially that some prisoners held by the U. N. may never be willing to go home to Red China or Korea.

WASHINGTON—A former Communist told Senate investigators yesterday how he stole plans for a landing craft engine during World War II and delivered them to Russian agents. Thad Mason, then employed at a General Motors plant in Cleveland, O., said he took the plans in 1944 or 1945. He said the blueprints were secretly delivered to the plant cafeteria, photographed there, and later returned to the files. Mason testified before the Senate Internal Security subcommittee.

LONDON—Chinese Communist Foreign Minister Chou En-lai yesterday joined Soviet Foreign Minister Viacheslav Molotov in calling for a Big Five peace conference. His action was reported by the New China news agency. Chou expressed his support of the proposal made by the Communist "International Committee of the Congress of the Peoples for Peace." That group called for the United States, Russia, Red China, Britain and France to meet to negotiate a pact of peace. The New China, Britain and France to meet to negotiate a pact of peace.

GUANTANAMO, Cuba—A boiler room explosion aboard the U. S. aircraft carrier Bennington about 50 miles offshore from this Naval base caused the death of 11 members of the crew. The U. S. Naval Base authorities here said four other persons aboard the Bennington were injured in the explosion Monday while the flat top was engaged in maneuvers between Guantanamo and Puerto Rico. The Navy said the ship was navigating at a low rate of speed at the time of the explosion. A board of officers was appointed to investigate the accident.

UN Model Assembly
A final briefing session for the U. N. Model Assembly will be held at 5 p. m. on the second floor of the Y. Attendance of at least one delegate from each country is required.

May 21 Is Final Day For Deferment Exams

Major General Lewis B. Hershey, Director of Selective Service, today reminded college students that applications for the May 21 Selective Service College Qualification Test must be submitted to the Educational Testing Service, Princeton, New Jersey, not later than midnight May 11.

The May 21 test is primarily for students prevented by illness or other emergencies from taking the test April 23, but General Hershey emphasized that this did not bar any qualified student from taking the test if his application is mailed before the deadline. He also stressed that students who have a certificate of admission for the April 23 test which they failed to use on the assigned date must submit new applications if they wish to take the May 21 test. The old certificates, he pointed out, will not admit a student to the May 21 test.

General Hershey said the May 21 test will be the last test this school year. The student may obtain a new application from any Selective Service local board. The application blanks should be submitted as soon as possible to the Educational Testing Service, Princeton, New Jersey. Administrators of the Test, who, in turn, will mail the admission certificate direct to the student.

To be eligible to take the Selective Service College Qualification Test an applicant on the testing date (1) must be a Selective Service registrant who intends to request deferment as a student; (2) must be satisfactorily pursuing a full-time college course, undergraduate or graduate, leading to a degree; (3) must not previously (See DRAFT TEST, Page 4)

Square Dance
The YMCA will sponsor its second square dance of the season Friday night at 8 o'clock in the Y court. Round and folk dancing are on the program and there will be a refreshment stand. Admission is free; come with or without dates. Carl Gregory will do the calling.

PB Gives Nod To All Neill Men

The Publications Board yesterday approved all the new Daily Tar Heel appointments.

Approved by the board were John Jamison, managing editor; Jim Schenck, business manager; Tom Peacock, sports editor; Bob Slough, news editor; Don Hogg, circulation manager; Tom Witty, subscription manager; Sidney Shuford, assistant business manager, and Bob Wolfe, advertising manager.

Yesterday's meeting was the initial one for the newly elected board.

Joe Raff was elected chairman of the board, Ed Starnes, treasurer and Louis Kraar, secretary.

A committee of legislators visited the meeting to discuss the still unapproved Daily Tar Heel budget. Outgoing chairman Walt Dear outlined the policies of the Board for the visitors.

Russ Cowell was found ineligible for the board since he is considering accepting the post of Yackety-Yack business manager. Cowell explained that he was unaware of the conflict. Editors and business managers of publications can't serve on the Board under a new law.

Cowell's replacement will be appointed by student body President Bob Gorham.

Muntzing Is New Chairman Of Y Editions

Manning Muntzing, from Moorefield, W. Va., has been appointed Chairman of YMCA Publications for the 153-54 Cabinet, according to YMCA President-Elect Ned Harbin.

Muntzing is editor-in-chief of the 1953 Carolina Handbook which the YMCA publishes annually and sends to each incoming freshman before he leaves home. Muntzing attended the 1952 Freshman Camp and has been active in the Freshman Friendship Council as well as in the United Nations Committee.

In his new duties Muntzing will supervise the various publications put out by the YMCA which in addition to the Handbook, include the Student Directory, the Carolina YMCA Quarterly and the weekly calendar "This Week in U.N.C."

President Harbin and his executive committee are getting the personnel lined up for next year's cabinet and committees. All students who are interested in working in the YMCA are invited to attend the meeting tonight at 7 o'clock in the Cabinet Room of the YMCA Building. Among other committees being organized tonight is the Membership Council, under the chairmanship of Bob Hyatt, YMCA vice-president.

Legislature Omits DTH From Budget

By Ken Sanford

The student legislature in a special session Monday night struck The Daily Tar Heel from next year's budget as it approved the rest of the budget.

The appropriation requested by The Daily Tar Heel will be investigated and acted upon by the new legislature. In making the motion to leave out the appropriation Gene Cook (SP) said that the possibility of changing the paper to tabloid form next year should be investigated.

In supporting the tabloid change Cook said that the legislature should "do right by the students" and use their money in the best possible way to get the most use from it. He suggested that the money saved could be used by the Student Entertainment Committee.

Wade Matthews said that the matter of tabloid or standard form should be left to the Publications Board. He added that it is none of the legislature's business what kind of paper the board wants after the funds have been appropriated.

The legislature also added another amendment to the constitution to be considered by the student body in the election on Tuesday, May 5. The amendment would allow the legislature to subsidize an independent publication with an amount up to $1,000 will also vote on NSA and student gym fees at that time.

This amendment was approved after Charlotte Davis, editor of the Carolina Quarterly, put in a request for $500 from the legislature last week.

The student body will vote on this amendment at the same time it votes on NSA and gym fees. Some legislators received notices that the special session would meet last night instead of Monday night. In spite of that a quorum was present Monday night.

Beyer, Prince Trotman Head New Play Cast

John Miller of Signal Mountain, Tenn., student director of "Judgment Over Daniel" to be presented May 14 to 15 in the Playmakers Theatre, today listed his cast for the new play.

The play is the work of Frank Groseclose of Atlanta, Ga. Entirely student-produced, "Judgment Over Daniel" is under the supervision of Thomas M. Patterson of the Playmakers staff. There will be no admission charge for the production.

Playing leading roles are Lillian Prince of Chapel Hill as Mother Graham and William Trotman of Winston-Salem as Father Graham, with Milton Beyer, Alden, N. Y. in the title role. Other members of the Graham family are Nancy, played by Betty Vickery of Gadsden, Ala., Agatha, Neta Whitty of New Bern; and Robert, Charles Hadley of Statesville.

"Judgment Over Daniel" will be the last full-length student production of the season.

Nicol Elected Law President

Rod Nicol, second-year law student from Lexington, was elected president of the Law School Association for the coming year last week.

He defeated Bob Hight of Henderson, 97-60, in a runoff election held last Friday. Lucius Pullen of Rocky Mount had been eliminated in an earlier vote. Nicol's term will begin on June 1.

Other Association officers elected were Jim White, Kannapolis, vice-president; Naomi Morris, Wilson, secretary; Mike McLeod, Chapel Hill, treasurer; and Elton Pridgen Salem, chief justice of the law school court.

John Ingram, Asheboro, was elected president of the third-year class and Jim Strickland, Wilson, president of the second-year class. Other class officers, including representatives to the Law School Legislature, were also chosen.

Summer Jobs Assigned To Air Instructors

Summer assignments for the Air Force ROTC Instructors here were listed today by Lt. Col. Jesse J. Moorhead, Commander of the unit.

Six officers and two airmen from Chapel Hill will participate in AFROTC Summer Camp training sessions at four southeastern Air Force bases.

In order to provide training for approximately 17,000 AFROTC Cadets throughout the country, the Air Force is holding summer training sessions of four weeks duration at 61 Air Force Bases. Most of the training periods will begin June 2, although some bases plan to hold a second session beginning either July 20 or 27.

Of the Carolina instructors, only Lt. Colonel Raymond H. Maker, associate professor of air science and tactics, and director of administration, is scheduled to attend the July session. He will report to Maxwell Air Force Base July 20.

Lt. Colonel Mark T. Orr, director of training of the UNC unit, and Major Robert L. Bunting, fund control officers will report to Shaw A.F. Base, Sumter, S. C., while Major Joe O. Young, Captain E. D. Robertson, and Captain James A. Schofield will report to Donaldson Air Force Base, Greenville, S. C., June 15. T/Sgt. Lester Stroud and S/Sgt. Marshall N. Wilson will report to Turner Air Force Base, Albany, Georgia on the same date.

Later in the summer, three Carolina instructors, Lt. Colonel Mark T. Orr, Major Robert L. Bunting, and Major Joe O. Young will attend "workshop" sessions of two weeks duration at the University of Virginia Franklin and Marshall, and Lehigh University respectively.

The summer workshops are designed to implement the change-over of the AFROTC from a specialized curriculum, now in effect, to a new generalized curriculum scheduled for inception in September, 1953. Lt. Colonel Mark T. Orr participated in the conference at Air University which designed the new curriculum.

Scroggs Talks Tonight On TV In Education

Several experimental television programs will be shown tonight in connection with a talk by Ross Scroggs of the Communications Center.

Scroggs has been closely connected with Television: Its Problems and Prospects.

The Communications Center has filmed thirteen preliminary programs, ranging in subject from "Topping Tobacco" to "Professor Epps discussing Greek Tragedy." The program tonight will deal with the particular problems of educational television, with special attention to the production of programs relating to the humanities.

The English Club is presenting the program. It will begin at 7:30 p. m. in the Assembly Room of the Library. Coffee and cookies will be served prior to Scroggs' talk at 8 o'clock. All interested persons are invited to attend.

Scroggs has been closely connected with the filming of these experimental programs in his capacity as associate director of production. A UNC graduate of the class of '41, he has been with the Communications Center since 1947.

THE ABOVE GRAPH, showing enrollment here since 1928, indicates sporadic drops and increases but a general trend of steady increase, shown by the straight line. The most recent figure is that of applications accepted and pending on April 1, 1953. That figure is 1,244 as compared to an even 800 on April 1 last year. Administration personnel explain the more than 50 per cent rise from one year to the next by pointing to three factors: reassertion of the pre-war trend; the coming of age of the people born around 1934, '35 (a period of high birth rate); and the enrollment of Korea veterans.
