New Sky Show Is Announced By Planetarium

Thousands of visitors, especially school children, have attended the current Morehead Planetarium presentation, "Reasons for the Seasons."

The popularity of this program is attributed to the simplicity with which the confusing physical principle of yearly Sun-Earth relationship is explained so that even the children are able to grasp and fix in mind the factors responsible for our seasonal cycle. Final showings of this program will be given through Monday, May 25.

On Tuesday, May 26, at 8:30 p.m., the next program, "Scouting the Skies," will commence. Presentations, thereafter, will be given every evening at 8:30, matinees on Saturdays at 3:00 and on Sundays at 3:00 and 4:00 p.m. Group reservations are invited.

The program will include the prominent astronomical objects of the month visible to the naked eye from this part of the world. The forms of prominent constellations will be superimposed on their respective star groups in the Planetarium sky and the fascinating legends associated with these mythological figures will be recounted. A general survey of the sky is made and interesting facts about the Sun, planets and Moon

Library Displays New Gifts From 'Friends Of Library'

A number of special gifts to the University Library were revealed last night at a dinner meeting of the Friends of the Library.

Among those announced were: A group of eight choice rarities, including first editions of "Tom Sawyer," "Comic History of England," and "Life of Sir John Falstaff," as well as scarce titles by Dickens and Cruikshank, presented by Mrs. B. F. Bernard, Winston-Salem, mother of President Gray. Selections from the James Boyd Library, 191 items, including Caesar's "Commentaries" (Venice 1517) and Locke's "Essay Concerning Human Understanding" (London 1694) and important serial files, presented by Mrs. Boyd, Southern Pines.

The author's original manuscript and typescript of "Marching On" by James Boyd, presented by Mrs. Boyd for addition to the Collection will be demonstrated. Other Planetarium presentations will continue to be given during the entire summer, at the times indicated above.
