

McDaniel Wins Phi Beta Prize

John Lewis McDaniel has been awarded the Phi Beta Kappa Award, it was announced yesterday.

This award is a $150 cash prize given to the rising junior on the self-help list who has the highest average.

McDaniel is from Gibsonville. The award, started in 1941, is given annually by the local chapter of Phi Beta Kappa. It was raised from $100 to $150 this year.

Robert Winship Heath was awarded the Archibald Henderson Prize in Mathematics, Dean of Awards Ernest L. Mackie announced yesterday.

The award, established in 1908, is a gold medal. It is offered annually to the student who is judged by the faculty as having the highest order of mathematical ability and future promise.

Winship is a senior from Chapel Hill.

In 1943 he was appointed Deputy chief of operations and the executive officer of organization and division at the Pentagon in Washington, D. C. He held this position until 1949. It seems that about this time he was getting tired of the North and wanted to come back down South. He was born in South Carolina and received most of his military training in the Southeastern United States. So he requested AROTC duty in the Southeast, and took his post at Carolina in August, 1949.

He says the ROTC programs have a positive value for the student. He believes that Cadets should be

MOREHEAD CITY—An 18-year-old University of North Carolina freshman became the first entry in this year's "Miss North Carolina" contest this week.

The first to register was Miss Anne Jacobs of Chapel Hill, who lists her measurements as a "perfect" 36-24-36. Sponsors of the contest expect about 35 entries in all for the event which will be held here July 15-17.

The winner will get a $1,000 scholarship, a lovely wardrobe and an expense paid trip to the Miss America contest in Atlantic City, N. J., in September.

70 Teachers Are Returning From Practice

The 70 student teachers from the School of Education who have been spending the spring quarter cadet teaching at various schools throughout the state will return to the campus Saturday.

An important part of the quarter's work will take place during the three following days, June 1-3, when they will meet for group and individual summaries and evaluation sessions following their practice teaching experience.

On Monday, June 1, they will meet with staff supervisors. Tuesday morning will be devoted to group and subject conferences, the afternoon to "problem" clinics.

A banquet for the student teachers is planned for Tuesday night at Lenoir Hall with Chancellor House as guest speaker. On Wednesday the teachers will meet for individual conferences with their supervisors.

courses are planned after careful courses of the college." ROTC consideration of their academic value and after consultation with experts in education, he added.

The main concern in the investigations at present, he said, is the credits and the time taken up in ROTC courses. Every college should examine its ROTC program and make changes in the curriculum or methods of instruction as such changes are found necessary, he said.

"I have gained a great deal of personal satisfaction in my career in the Air Force," he said. "The work concerned in a military career, the working with people, the travel involved, all are invaluable to broadening one's concepts." Again he pointed out that he is an Air Force man for good.

given the responsibilities of running their corps with a minimum of help from the faculty staff.

About the current investigation, started at Colgate University, of the impact of ROTC courses on colleges across the country, he said, "It is the hope of the ROTC that its courses are of such scope and calibre that they can be accepted profitably with the other

Sig Nu Takes Golf Tourney

The Sigma Nu golf team took the intramural golf championship from the SPE's by a 12-6 score.

Low man for the victors was Bob Page with a one-over-par 73. Page put together nine-hole rounds of 37-36 for his total. He and Dave Elliot teamed together to defeat George Hall and Fred Prescott 9-0.

Results: Page (Sig Nu) defeated Hall, 3-0. Elliot (Sig Nu) defeated Prescott, 3-0. Page and Elliot defeated Hall and Prescott, 3-0.

Beek (SPE) defeated Bischoff, 3-0. Watkins, (Sig Nu) defeated Neville, 3-0. Back and Neville defeated Watkins and Bischoff, 3-0.

And after his studies at Maxwell Field, the Air Force will show him where he goes from there.
