Orientation Banquet Is Set Tonight

A banquet will be held in honor of 175 orientation counselors this evening at 6:30 in Carolina Inn. Chairman Tom Creasy said yesterday, "This is the largest group of students that have ever been connected with orientation. It was done in an effort to give the new students as much individual attention as possible."

Dean of Students Fred Weaver will thank the students on behalf of the administration.

Ron Levin and his combo will furnish jazz for the entertainment.

Creasy said, "The entire set up of smaller groups worked out to perfection, and I sincerely hope that it will be continued in the future."

"Each counselor did an outstanding job in contributing to the success of the program, and it is in appreciation to them that this banquet is given."

The banquet for men and women orientation counselors brings to an end the 1953 orientation program.

The Rev. Charlie Jones Says

If Bigger Pay Check Only Goal, The College Student Is A Failure

By Jennie Lynn
"The college student should learn to think sympathetically; he must be able to see unfinished issues in their sweep of civilization, and acquire convictions with toleration," said the Rev. Charlie Jones last night. "If a number of students were approached with the questions: 'What are the most worthwhile things we can get from college;

why did you come to college?' 'There would be different answers,' he said.

Mr. Jones spoke at SUAB-sponsored forum held in Graham Memorial last night. His topic was, "Is College Worthwhile?"

"Back on a farm that I visited some years ago, the farmer had been to college for four years. During the evening we got to talking. His mother came in—sniffed in her mouth—and approached me with 'You're down here from the university, ain't you? Tom, here, went to college. Didn't do him no good. I sent him to school so he wouldn't have to work. See, here he is back farming.'"

"Perhaps during some periods it isn't worthwhile going to college. When I went to school during the depression, teachers had Tom's mother's idea. They taught you not to want to work with your hands. Frankly I'll say that my college education wasn't worth it, as far as making a living is concerned.

"Most of us beyond our freshman year should be expected to have a better sense of values than this. We may not learn what to do or how to do it, yet we should get a sense of high values. I don't hate money. But if all college does for you is let you learn how to get a bigger pay check, it hasn't done enough.

"Some boys would say that they come to college to learn how to enjoy life.

"During a previous rush season in a fraternity house a boy asked (See JONES, page 3)

NEWS IN BRIEF

NEW YORK — Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy said yesterday a "top scientist" for the Army Signal Corps had admitted taking 43 secret documents from Ft. Monmouth, N. J., to his home for "study."

McCarthy told newsmen the man described himself as a "close friend" of Julius Rosenberg, who was executed at Sing Sing Prison as an atomic bomb spy for Russia. The senator quoted the witness as saying he attended meetings of the Young Communist League with Rosenberg and that Rosenberg solicited him "repeatedly" to join the Communist party.

TRIESTE — Rioting flared in Trieste yesterday as Slovenes and pro-Communist Yugoslavs demonstrated in defiance of an Allied ban on public meetings. It was the first violence here since the British and Americans announced six days ago their decision to turn over administration of Zone A, including the city of Trieste, to the Italians.

CHICAGO — A Chicago attorney said yesterday that "Cinderella bride" Barbara (Bobo) Rockefeller and her estranged husband, Winthrop Rockefeller, have agreed to a record-breaking divorce settlement of more than $5,500,000. The attorney, who said he was an "adviser" to Mrs. Rockefeller, said reports that the couple had finally reached a settlement of their drawn-out marital difficulties were "substantially correct."

MT. CLEMENS, Michigan — An Air Force Reserve officer whose personal loyalty is unquestioned faced ouster yesterday as a "doubtful security risk." He is Lt. Milo J. Radulovich, 26-year-old father of two and a meteorology student at the University of Michigan. A 10th Air Force board of three colonels recommended that "he be discharged from the Air Force Reserve and that all commissions held by him be terminated."

In announcing the decision, however, 10th AF headquarters made a point of repeating that "his loyalty was not questioned." Activities of his father and a sister were questioned. The father, John Radulovich, 65, a Hudson Motor employee, was accused of having been a subscriber of a "radical" newspaper, and the sister, Mrs. Margaret Fishman of Detroit, with having engaged in "picket line activity."

Three UNC Students Called In Recorder's Court Tuesday

Three Carolina students were called to answer charges in Chapel Hill Recorder's Court Tuesday before Judge W. S. Stewart.

J. A. Timple was fined court costs for speeding 45 miles per hour in a 25 mile zone.

John Richard Sawyer of Burlington was called but failed to appear. A writ calling for his arrest was issued and the case was continued until Oct. 20.

The case of J. F. Vaughn was postponed until Oct. 20.

A State student, John R. Schenck, was called to answer charges of public drunkenness and resisting arrest. He pleaded nolo contendere and was fined $20 and the court cost.

Also called were the two gentlemen football fans from Raleigh who were involved in the knifing in the stadium parking lot during the State game here on Sept. 26.

In the case of C. L. Byrd Jr., who was charged with assault with a deadly weapon, no probable cause for the charge was found. However, such evidence was uncovered as to cause a bench warrant to be issued for illegal possession of liquor. Byrd pleaded guilty to this charge and was fined $20 and court cost.

The other participant, Clifton Wright, was found guilty of public affray and fined $40 and court costs.

Di Named Quarterly Sponsor After Pledging 100% Support

In its executive session this week the Dialectic Senate pledged 100% support to the Carolina Quarterly for the coming year.

By this act, each member of the society subscribes to the magazine, and the Senate is named as one of the Quarterly's official sponsors.

"This is how we keep the literary in the Dialectic Literary Society," a spokesman for the organization said. The senate has traditionally been a patron of campus publications, having taken an active part in the production of the first campus newspaper in the early part of the 19th century.

The Philanthropic Literary Society, this week defeated a motion calling for block subscription to the Quarterly by the Phi. An amendment was proposed which would "urge all Phi members to support the Carolina Quarterly" but would not require block subscription.

Dr. Howell Speaks To UNC Personnel Group

Dr. Roger W. Howell, Professor of Mental Health, led a discussion of the film, "Mental Health," before a group of campus personnel workers Tuesday.

Dean of Women Katherine Carmichael said the discussion was the first in a series of in-service training programs designed to assist the staff of the Dean of Women.

Dr. Howell is a graduate of the medical school of the University of Michigan. Before coming here in January, he served as a staff member at Michigan, specializing in the field of psychiatry.

Frat Rush Invitations Still Given

Fraternity rush invitations will be available again today in front of Gerrard Hall from 9 a. m. until 2 p. m.

Tomorrow they will be distributed from 10 a. m. until noon.

Freshmen interested in being rushed by a fraternity should go by the bid table at Garrard Hall and ask if there are any bids for them.

Strict silence — a period during which fraternity men and freshmen are not allowed to speak except for social hellos — started the first day of classes. It ends Sunday night when rushing begins.

Strict silence will begin again Thursday, Oct. 22 and last until noon Wednesday, Oct. 23, except on the Sunday evening in between when shake-up will occur. Shake-up is when the rushee agrees to pledge a certain fraternity and tells them so.

The campus has 26 social fraternities which will be rushing. The six sororities rushed last week.

SP-UP Tiff Is Seen Possibility Tonight

What's the matter with you sophomores?

Out of a class of 900, only 100 students have shown up to pose for their Yack pictures — and there are just two more days left.

Fourth year medical students' pictures also will be taken through Friday.

Photographers will take pictures today and tomorrow from 1 to 8 o'clock in the basement of Graham Memorial. The Yack asks students to come as soon as possible after 1 o'clock.

The Student Legislature meets tonight at 7:15 on the fourth floor of New East.

It will be the first legislature meeting since Monday, when Gene Cook, chairman of the Student Party, and Bob Gorham, President of the student body and University Party member, traded verbal blows on the subject of the U. P.'s selection of orientation counselors.

Cook, who also serves as the S. P.'s floor leader in the legislature, criticized counselor selection as "irregular and unfair." The selection system, he charged, was run by the University Party "for the benefit of fraternities." And he promised he wouldn't let the point drop.

That promise may materialize tonight into a S. P. sponsored bill to investigate the counselor selection system. A similar bill, introduced last week in the legislature by Independent Bill C. Brown, was defeated in a close vote.

The University Party, meanwhile, is adopting a wait and see attitude. President Gorham insisted Monday that fraternity membership, "had nothing to do with the selection of orientation counselors," yesterday pointed out that the orientation system has gained the admiration of "students and faculty alike."

"Administration officials," Gorham said, "including President Gray and Chancellor House, have remarked upon the success of the program."

A University Party spokesman said the Party's legislature members will go into tonight's meeting with no pre-set plan to combat a possible S. P. move.

At least one UP member of the legislature, Lou Wolfshimer, looks upon the S. P. criticism of orientation as a "purely political" affair. Wolfshimer said yesterday he sees no need for a legislative look-see into the program, but remarked, "Certainly, there's nothing about orientation for us to be ashamed of. If the S. P. wants to investigate the program, I'm inclined to say, let them go ahead."

Two or three other bills of a minor nature are expected to be introduced and debated in the meeting tonight.

Third Grail Dance Will Feature Johnson, Cole Dance Music

Saturday night will bring to Woollen Gymnasium the third in the series of Grail Dances this fall, featuring Jimmie Johnson and his orchestra.

An added attraction will be the intermission entertainment of Bob Cole and his Country Boys, a local hillbilly band.

This year, as in the past 23 years, the Order of the Grail has sought to provide informal Saturday night dances which are open to the entire student body. The only admission requirements are coat and tie, plus $1 in cash for the ticket. These dances, while providing a source of evening entertainment, also help the Grail to finance $150 tuition scholarships for needy students.

Johnson and his orchestra already have appeared at the Grail Dance on the Washington and Lee weekend. They feature smooth, danceable music, with "concert-type" Dixieland jazz numbers, reserving the latter for breaks in the course of the evening.

An experiment is being tried this Saturday with the intermission music by a hillbilly band, since there has been quite a demand for this type of dance. "The Grail is presenting Bob Cole and his Country Boys to see if Carolina students like hillbilly music enough to justify further dances of this sort," a spokesman said.

The admission charge is payable either at the door, in advance to Grail members, or at the booth in Lenoir Hall at lunchtime. The dance will last from 9 until 12 and will be on the main floor of Woollen Gymnasium.

Tennis Club Match

The Tennis Club will have a match and social with High Point College tomorrow at 1:30. The girls will play four doubles on the varsity courts. Mary Lou Jones, Nancy Gerlach, Sandy Donaldson and Carolyn Johnson are expected to take part.

Fall Concerts Announced By Glee Clubs

The Men's and Women's Glee Clubs have already made several engagements for the new year and have others pending.

They opened the new season on University Day this week when they had an important role in the 160-year celebration of the institution's founding, including the singing of "The Creation" (William Billings), and "Integer Vitae" (Flemming).

On November 20 the Men's Glee Club will unite with the University of Virginia Men's Glee Club for a performance in Charlottesville.

The traditional fall concert will be given on December 1.

On December 15 both Glee Clubs will combine with the Chapel Hill Choral Club in singing "The Messiah."

Future engagements for the Men's Club will include a performance with the Woman's College Glee Club and a tour.

TV Director To Speak At 7:30 Tonight To Profs

Robert Shennkan, director of University Television and associate professor of radio, will speak on "The University and Its Television Service" in the faculty lounge of the Morehead building tonight at 7:30.

Shennkan will be speaking before a meeting of the American Association of University Professors and the general faculty.

Lawrason Named Assistant Med School Dean; Winter Assumes Position As Surgery Professor

Important changes in the staff of the Medical School and Hospital include appointments of Dr. Frederick Douglas Lawrason.

As assistant dean of the school of medicine and assistant professor in the Department of Medicine, and Dr. Frank Counsel Winter as assistant professor of surgery in charge of the division of ophthalmology.

The appointment of Dr. Winter means that the members of the ophthalmology faculty will from now on be available on a full-time basis. Dr. S. Dace McPherson Jr., and associates who had served during the past year on a part-time basis, will continue on that schedule.

Dr. Winter will also have as an additional associate Dr. Robert G. Murray, instructor in surgery with the Division of Ophthalmology. A graduate of the University of Toronto School of Medicine, he comes here from the Wilmer Institute, the eye division of Johns Hopkins Medical School, where he was an associate of Dr. Frank B. Walsh, a famous eye specialist.

Dr. Lawrason comes to the University from the National Research Council, where he served for three years as professional associate and as coordinator of research and development for the National Blood Program while on leave from the Yale University School of Medicine with which he had been associated from 1944 to 1950, except for 20 months in Navy service. He was resident instructor in the Yale Medical School from 1946-48 and resident instructor during the next two years.

In addition to his regular duties Dr. Lawrason will have special responsibilities at the School of Medicine. He has just been named chairman of the Committee on Medical Education which will study the entire problem of Medical education as it relates to the Medical School here and which will re-evaluate its objectives.

He will also head up a new student advisory program for counseling medical students in their first two years. Twenty members of the faculty have been assigned as advisers.
