

WEATHER

Fair with little change in temperature. High, 80; Low, middle 50's.

ASHES

Today's editorial talks about the president and the wife of a former president.

The Daily Tar Heel

CHAPEL HILL, N. C.

SUNDAY, OCTOBER 18, 1953

FOUR PAGES TODAY

VOLUME LXII NUMBER 25

mighty MARYLAND TROUNCES CAROLINA, 26-0

TAKING A LOOK at the first Associated Press wire copy received on The Daily Tar Heel's new machines are Sports Editor Tom Peacock (left) and Managing Editor Louis Kraar.

Handshaking Begins

Fraternity Rush Begins Tonight, Silence Ends

Fraternity row will toss out the welcome mat tonight from 7 to 10 o'clock as formal rushing begins.

The get-acquainted sessions will continue through Thursday night.

Shake-up day is next Sunday, then strict silence — a period during which fraternity men and rushers are not allowed to speak except for social hellos — for three days.

Thus fraternity men and rushers begin the rounds of handshaking and visiting that serves to break the ice and the silence that has prevailed since the first day of classes.

The six sororities rushed last week. 26 campus social fraternities will be in on rushing.

Rushing times are: tonight, 7-10 p.m.; tomorrow, 7-10 p.m.; Tuesday through Thursday, 7-9:30 p.m.

Shake-up next Sunday night is from 7 o'clock to 9:30.

Strict silence will be observed

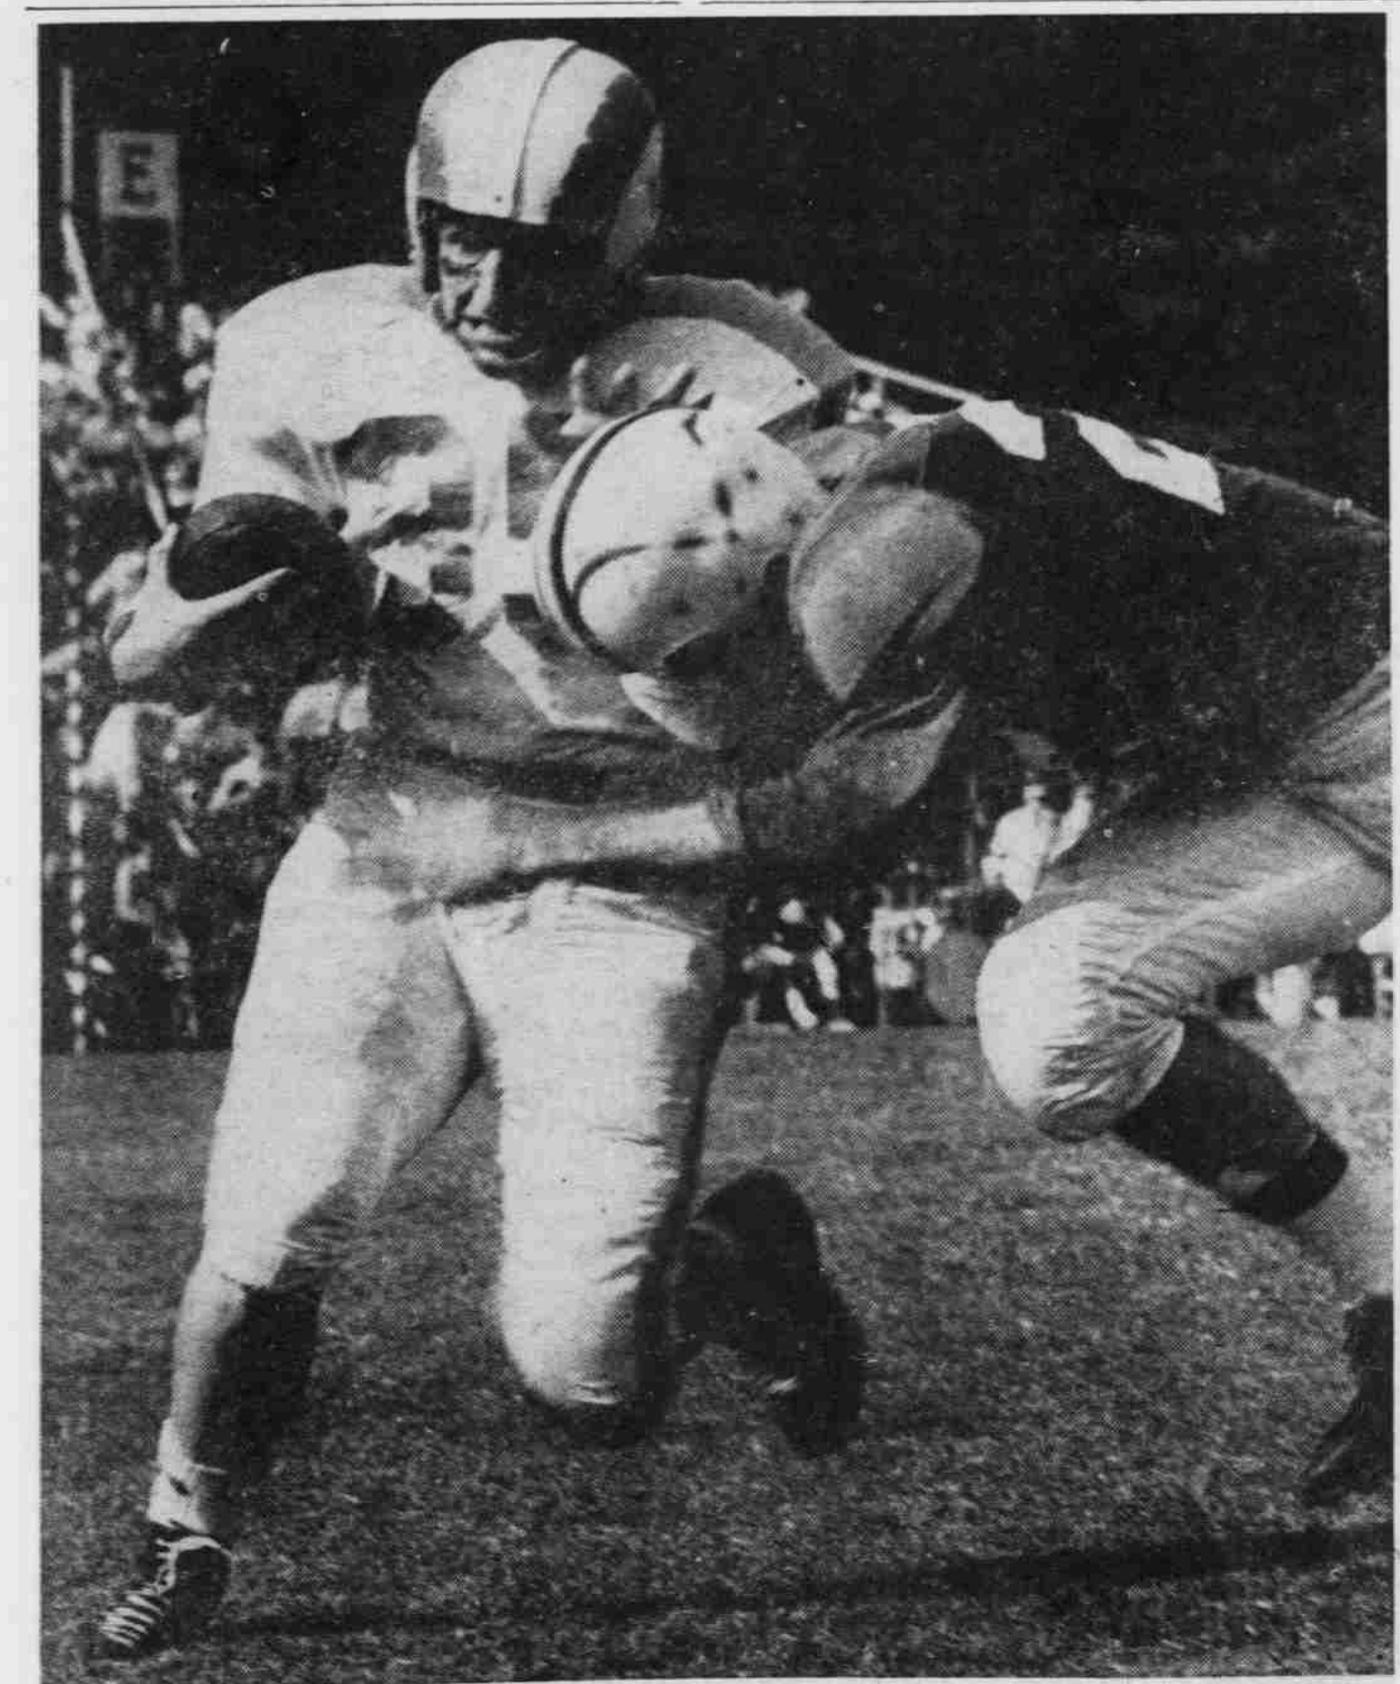

(See RUSH, Page 2)

Play Problem: Grazing Goat

The problems of staging a play on the small stage of the Playmakers Theatre may have reached an all-time high in the Carolina Playmakers' season opener, "Mister Roberts," scheduled for production beginning Wednesday night.

The Navy cargo ship setting requires at least an impression of massiveness, and the action of the play, as set by Director Thomas Patterson of the Playmakers' staff, demands a set that will stand a lot of banging around.

(See PLAY, Page 2)

CORNELL WRIGHT Photos

CAROLINA'S KEN KELLER rounds his right end in the first quarter of yesterday's game for a 5-yard gain before being hit by Maryland's right halfback Dick Nolan. Nolan and Hanulak (not shown) forced Keller out of bounds on his own 28-yard line.

Anyway, A Good Time Was Had...

By Charles Kuralt

A young Tar Heel, an eight-year old girl on Row NN, put it into words: "Well, Daddy, we lost. But it was fun!"

Everybody on the South side of jam-packed Kenan Stadium felt the same way. Carolina fans, tweed-coated students and old grads and pretty girls, whooped it up for the Tar Heels.

They cheered for everybody, high school majorettes, soft drink salesmen. And they cheered for Carolina in defeat. Even when the home cause was hopeless, with ten seconds left in the game, the cheering section rocked the Stadium with a boomerang, "Go, Carolina!"

It was the loudest, most colorful football afternoon in years.

Much of the color was contributed by 29 state high school bands, whose members filled one end zone and covered the field at half-time. A pint-sized majorette stood stiffly at attention before all the bands while they played, "Hark, the Sound."

Most unpopular four men present: the referees. After Carolina was penalized 45 yards in three successive 2nd quarter plays, the crowd intoned, "The referee beats his wife!" And later, worse.

A bushier Bushy Cook was on hand with a tubbier Rameses, the Ram.

A peanut vendor hawked his wares from a big cardboard box on which was printed, "Tax Paid Rye Whisky."

Two red-clad Maryland majorettes came around the field midway in the first half and swiped three Carolina megaphones. Whereupon, two Tar Heel cheerleaders chased them back and wrestled the megaphones away. It was the only home-town victory of the day.

Alabama, Vols Tie

Duke Loses; LSU Triumphs

Great Cadet Eleven Beats Dook, 14-13 In Staggering Upset

By Will Grimsley

NEW YORK, Oct. 17 (AP)—Magnificent Army, living up to its finest football traditions, stopped mighty Duke an inch from the goal line with a minute and 20 seconds to play today to preserve a 14-13 victory for one of the season's most staggering surprises.

For 58-plus minutes the aroused Black Knights of the Hudson, building back from a cribbing scandal which wrecked its powerful squad three years ago, had outplayed and outscored the nation's seventh ranking eleven.

But it seemed that this hard-earned triumph was sure to be snatched from their grasp with one lightning thrust in the fading seconds.

Jimmy (Red) Smith, a fleet Duke halfback, took the ball deep in his own territory and, on a double reverse, broke through the entire Army team and scampered like a scared deer for the Cadet endzone.

He had gone 73 yards — while Army hearts fell — before he was brought down from behind on a tremendous effort by Bob Mischak, Army end. The two fell in an exhausted hump of dirtied flesh on the Army seven.

From there Duke sent its powered attack into action, an attack which had been good enough to smother four foes this year. Worth Lutz, Duke's hobbled quarterback and a star for the day, sneaked to the six and Smith went to the four and a half. Then Smith smashed to the one and a half.

(See ARMY, Page 4)

Barclay Lauds Faloney, Tatum Extols Defense

By Sherwood Smith

"I am disappointed. I thought that we would do better than that, but Maryland has a fine team and that Faloney is as good as they say," said George Barclay in the dressing room after yesterday's game.

"Those first half penalties really hurt. We were penalized 100 yards while Maryland was penalized only 60." There were 20 penalties in the first half and 16 in those were in the first 20 minutes of play.

"I thought that our defense was good but you need more defense to win a ball game. That second touchdown was the one that hurt us the most. I don't think that they could have marched in a sustained drive, and if it hadn't been for that long pass we probably would have held them. It still might have been a different story if we had scored there in the second half when we were down on their goal line. All in all we just didn't have the punch and Maryland was too much for us."

In contrast to the gloom of the Tar Heel locker room, the Terrapin dressing room was all celebration. "I thought Carolina played a fine game and their first quarter defense was really terrific," said Maryland Coach Jim Tatum. "Barclay had those wingbacks playing very tight and we were running against a nine man line most of the game. It sure bottled up our option play."

Asked about the performance of Bernie Faloney, Maryland's candidate for All-American quarterback, Tatum said, "That boy can do everything and I would definitely rank him with the greats."

Tatum stated that in his opinion next Saturday's game between Carolina and Georgia should be very close with Georgia having a slight edge in the quarterback position with the veteran Zeke Bratowski.

LSU's Power Plays Beat Georgia, 14-6; 'Dogs Next For UNC

Tennessee's Defense Shines In Scoreless Tie With 'Bama Tide

ATHENS, Ga., Oct. 17 (AP)—Louisiana State, using mostly straight power plays, rang up a 14-6 victory over injury-riddled, but dead-game Georgia today.

Fullbacks Jerry Marchand and Tommy Davis, and Halfbacks Charlie Oakley and Lou Deutschmann consistently rang up gains through the Georgia line.

LSU kept Bulldog Quarterback Zeke Bratkowski's receivers well covered and only on Georgia's lone scoring drive was he able to connect with regularity.

After a double exchange of punts LSU put on a 66-yard sustained drive from its own 34 with Marchand plunging over from the two. Cliff Stringfield kicked the point after touchdown and in 12 minutes of the first period the Tigers led, 7-0.

The partisan Georgia crowd of 23,000 was cheering shortly after the kickoff as the Bulldogs marched back down and Bratkowski sneaked across for the touchdown. Sam Mrvos missed the extra point attempt.

LSU 7 0 0 7 - 14
Georgia 0 6 0 0 - 6

LSU Scoring: Touchdowns, Marchand, Davis. Conversions, Stringfield 2.

Georgia Scoring: Touchdown, Bratkowski.

UNC State Student Legislature Delegates Include Bob Gorham

Student Body President Bob Gorham and Student Party Chairman Gene Cook are among those representing UNC as delegates to the State Student Legislature.

Others are Carol Duplair, Dayton Estes, Joel Fleishman, Walt Gurley, Nancy Horne, Charles Hyatt, Richard James, Stuart Jones, Henry Lowet, Wade Matthews, Bob Morehead, David Mundy, Bob Pace, Ken Penegar, David Reid, and Lew Southern.

Alternates chosen were Ed McCurry, Gordon Forester, Louis Bromfield, Charles Wolf, Norwood Bryan, John Ingle, Jim Turner, Harold Downing, and Sue Fink.

They will represent the University's Student Government at the legislative assembly meeting in Raleigh, November 19, 20, and 21.

Gene Cook announced yesterday that delegates and alternates are required to attend the first meeting of the delegation next Wednesday at 4 p.m. in the Grail Room of Graham Memorial Cook asked that anyone not able to attend the meeting contact him.

The Institute of Latin American Studies and The School of Business Administration are co-sponsoring Dr. Pereira's Chapel Hill visit.

His first public appearance will be on Monday. He will speak on "The Corporate State in Portugal" in Room 300, Carroll Hall, at 7:30 p.m.

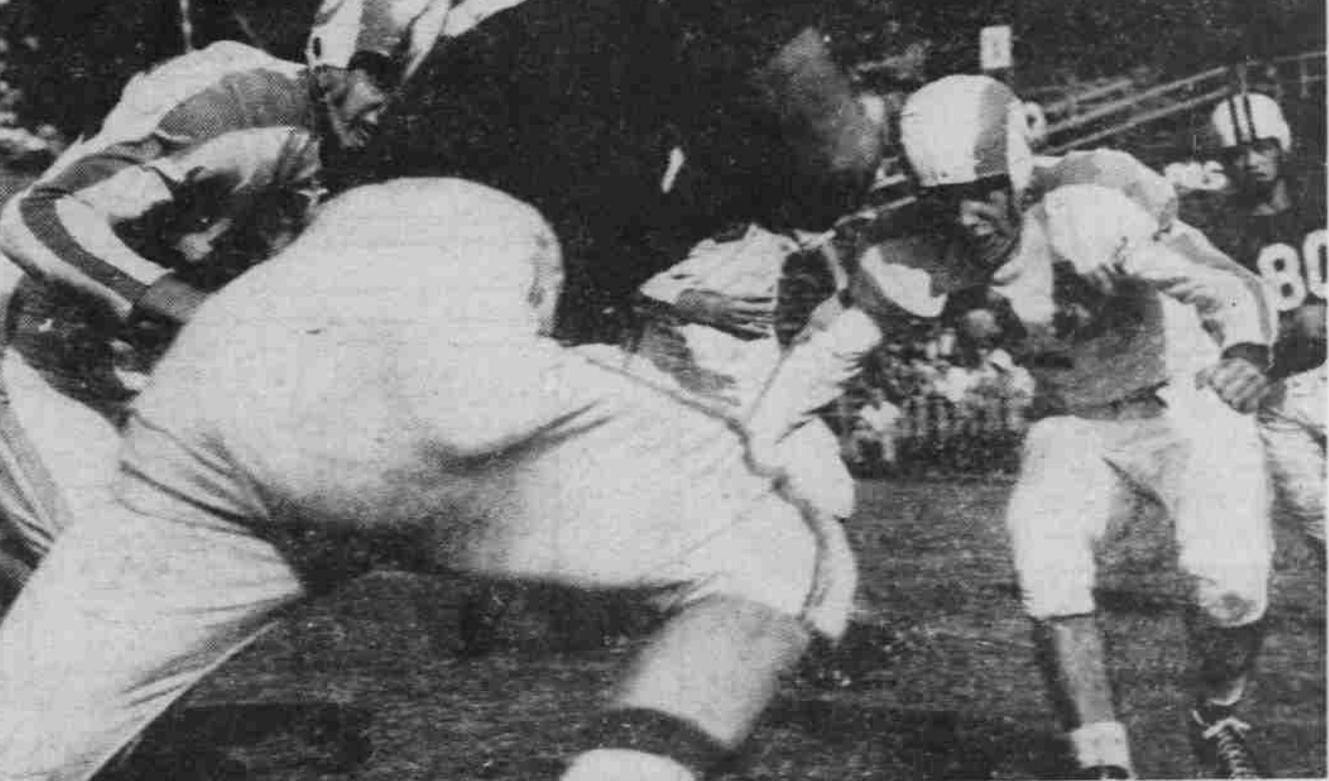

One of Portugal's outstanding economic history scholars, Dr. Antonio Pereira, is in Chapel Hill today. He will be here until Wednesday, and will make several speeches in the course of his stay.

The Institute of Latin American Studies and The School of Business Administration are co-sponsoring Dr. Pereira's Chapel Hill visit.

His first public appearance will be on Monday. He will speak on "The Corporate State in Portugal" in Room 300, Carroll Hall, at 7:30 p.m.

The Terps gained only two yards in as many tries on the ground, so they took to the air. Faloney faded back and tried to throw to Nolan but the ball was batted about considerably before quarter-

(See PENALTIES, Page 3)

A TRAPPED TURTLE IS Maryland's Chester Hanulak as Junior Seawell (left) and Lou Britt force him out of bounds on the Carolina three-yard line. On the next play, however, Bernie (option) Faloney carried the pigskin across for the first of several Maryland scores.