

The Daily Tar Heel

WEATHER
Cool with scattered clouds and a high of 81. Yesterday's high, 80; low, 52.

CHEER
The editor editorializes on the subject of cheering. See p. 2.

VOLUME LXII NUMBER 27 CHAPEL HILL, N. C. WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 21, 1953 FOUR PAGES TODAY

Last Rites For House Are Today

Funeral service for Robert Burton House, Jr., son of Chancellor and Mrs. House, will be held this morning at 11 at the University Methodist Church.

The Rev. W. M. Howard will officiate at the service. Interment will be at the Chapel Hill cemetery.

Mr. House died of a brain hemorrhage Monday night at Memorial Hospital. He was 33.

He was born in Thelma in Halifax County and received his bachelor's degree in chemistry at the University in 1941. He served in the Navy from 1943 until 1945, attaining the rank of Lieutenant, junior grade.

Following World War II, he entered Yale Law School, receiving his law degree in 1949.

He was an honor student in chemistry at the University, a member of Phi Delta Theta social fraternity, Alpha Chi Sigma, honorary chemistry fraternity, the American Chemical Society and the District of Columbia Bar Association.

Following his graduation from Yale, he became associated with the Washington, D. C., law firm formerly headed by the late O. Max Gardner. He later joined the law firm headed by former Atty. Gen. Homer Cummings.

For the last year and a half he had been connected with the Central Intelligence Agency in Washington.

In addition to his parents, survivors include a sister, Mrs. William S. Stewart, the former Caroline House.

Gorham Picks Election Board

Dusty Lamson is chairman of the Student Government Elections Board for the second straight year, President Bob Gorham announced Monday.

Other members of the board are Bob Meacham, Bob Grimes, Betty Lou Wanamaker, Janie Carey, Graham Rights, Ben Myers, Frank Warren, Gordon Hall, Manning Muntzing, and Dayton Estes.

Assistants are Doug Cantrell, Claude Pope, Mike White, Bob Levietes, and Ellene Proudly.

Child Freed From Drainpipe; Parents Write Their Thanks

DOGPATCH, Oct. 20 — The parents of a local child who has been imprisoned in a drainpipe for several weeks, today issued a letter of thanks to the hundreds of thousands of newspaper readers who have offered their ideas for freeing the child.

The parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Yokum, wrote, "Oh thank you all for yore comely-kated ideas on how to git our baby out of that drane-pipe" (sic) They explained that "most of the ideers were fine, except that they might of kilt the baby and we are agin that, being CLAIMING THE WORLD'S speed record in child bearing is Mrs. Corrine Mock, 24-year-old Chicago, Ill., housewife. Mrs. Mock's seven sons—all single births—were born within a period of five years, 10 months, and eight days, an average of one every 10 months. Shown here with their mother are Robert, 4; Kenneth, 1; Gerald, 2; Michael, 6 weeks; Raymond, 3; Herbert, 5; and Rudolph, 6.—NEA Telephoto.

He'll Date New 'Maiden'

Saga Of 'Sir Charles' Near Climax

By Charles Kuralt
A ray of hope for Sir Charles flickered for an instant yesterday, but then went out.

For a few brief, heart-stopping moments yesterday, it appeared that Charles Childs had found the maiden of the yellow raincoat, the Woman's College girl who stole his heart away on a rainy Saturday.

An Alderman Dormitory girl, Woody Troster, admitted to hearing a boy who sat near her at the Maryland football game Saturday remark that the lost beauty was a girl named, "Gross."

"He told a friend she was named Arleen Gross," Miss Troster told The Daily Tar Heel, trying, as scores of people have since the news first appeared in print, to be helpful.

But a check of W. C. records failed to find anyone of that

Meredith Will Sponsor O'Neill Play November 6

The Meredith College Playhouse will sponsor a Barter Theater performance of "Ah, Wilderness" at the college on November 6 at 8 o'clock p.m.

Although the play, written by Eugene O'Neill, is to be presented at the school, it is open to the general public.

Coeds To See Film Tonight; Dean To Speak

"Family — An Approach To Peace," a film presenting United Nations' aims and possibilities, will be shown tonight in Carroll Hall at 7:15.

In an attempt to promote greater interest in the UN on campus, to further national UN week activities among the coeds, and because of limited accommodations, the film will be open to only girls students. Sororities will attend the showing instead of having chapter meetings.

Preceding the showing of the picture, Law School Dean Henry Brandis will give a short talk on the purpose of the UN, its relation to the film and to Carolina students.

Following the film UN leaders on campus will review the calendar of UN events at Carolina this week.

Former Staff Member Gets New Position

Richard C. Gedney, who was on the research staff of the University Psychometric Laboratory last year, has been appointed Central Tennessee representative of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

Basil O'Connor, New York, president of the March of Dimes organization, made the announcement yesterday.

Gedney, a native of Buffalo, N. Y., will be in charge of the National Foundation's newly opened Central Tennessee office in Nashville and will coordinate the activities of 28 National Foundation chapters in that part of the state. The number of districts in Tennessee have been increased from two to three in order to intensify the National Foundation's service program in the state.

As state representative, Gedney will perform liaison duties between the National Foundation's headquarters and the hundreds of volunteer workers in the chapters in his district. His principal concern will be in helping chapters to organize, improve and expand their year-round patient aid services, to disseminate factual information about polio to the public and to assist them in their polio preparedness programs.

The Clerk of the Recorder's Court said yesterday that the students, five of them from Maryland, will probably appear when the court meets next Tuesday.

Court Put Off For One Week

Because of the death of Robert Burton House, Jr., Chapel Hill Recorder's Court did not meet yesterday. Mr. House was the brother-in-law of Judge William S. Stewart, who presides over the court.

Scheduled to appear for trial yesterday were the eight students arrested in the mass pep rally Friday night preceding the Maryland game.

The Clerk of the Recorder's Court said yesterday that the students, five of them from Maryland, will probably appear when the court meets next Tuesday.

Smith delivered a foreign affairs speech at University of South Carolina convocation ceremonies during which an honorary doctor of laws degree was conferred on him. He complimented both Gov. James F. Byrnes and University President Donald Russell, with whom he formerly served in the State Department when Byrnes was secretary and Russell was an assistant secretary. Byrnes was not present but Russell presided over the ceremonies and conferred the honorary degree.

The special convocation was the second in a planned series to emphasize the American role in World affairs. At the first convocation last March, a degree was conferred on former French Premier Rene Pleven.

Trustee Group Tours Campus Today In Orientation Program

Eighteen University Trustees are here today taking part in Trustee orientation. This is the second day of a three-day program for the group, most of whom are Trustees of long standing who missed last year's orientation program. Yesterday, they heard President Gordon Gray of the Consolidated University in a speech at the Woman's College. Tomorrow, they go to Raleigh for a look-see into the North Carolina State College campus.

This afternoon, the visitors will meet with 30 student leaders. They will hear from student body President Bob Gorham and Dean of Students Fred Weaver.

The Trustees will take a tour of the campus, and meet with deans and faculty members in a two hour session this morning.

Prominent among the visitors is Victor Bryant of Durham, chairman of the Trustees Visiting Committee which last year recommended the semester system and Saturday classes for Carolina.

Among the others here are Kemp Davis Battle of Rocky Mount, William C. Barfield of Wilmington, Jack F. Blythe of Charlotte, Dr. Paul E. Jones of Farmville, Fred R. Sutton of Kinston, Dr. Shahane R. Taylor of Greensboro, and Herman Weil of Goldsboro.

Dr. Frank W. Klingberg of the Carolina History Department faculty is in charge of arrangements for the Trustees' Chapel Hill visit.

U.S. Will Not Cease Efforts In Korea, Says Undersecretary Of State Smith In Address

COLUMBIA, S. C., Oct. 20—(AP)—The United States will not cease its efforts to obtain a unified and independent Korea no matter what the outcome of the political conference called for in the armistice agreement with the Reds, Undersecretary of State Walter B. Smith declared here today.

Smith delivered a foreign affairs speech at University of South Carolina convocation ceremonies during which an honorary doctor of laws degree was conferred on him. He complimented both Gov. James F. Byrnes and University President Donald Russell, with whom he formerly served in the State Department when Byrnes was secretary and Russell was an assistant secretary. Byrnes was not present but Russell presided over the ceremonies and conferred the honorary degree.

The special convocation was the second in a planned series to emphasize the American role in World affairs. At the first convocation last March, a degree was conferred on former French Premier Rene Pleven.

Dorm pranksters watching from second floor as unsuspecting passersby pick up empty wallet with an admonition inside: "Fool!"

Math prof narrating struggle of man through the centuries to develop mathematics and then adding, "I hope it won't take you here quite that long."

Broadway Hit 'Mr. Roberts' Opens Tonight

"Mister Roberts" opens the Playmaker Theatre's season and curtains tonight at 8:30.

The title role is played by Donald Treat, of Chapel Hill. Tommy Rezzuto is the comic Ensign Pulver, Phil Thayer is Doc, and Cmdr. L. Edwards of the NROTC portrays the Captain. The girl in the cast, an Army nurse, is Suzanne Elliott, of Oklahoma.

Heggen and Logan's Broadway hit, directed here by Playmaker Thomas Patterson, is the longest running production in the Theatre's presentations. It will run each night through next Tuesday, with curtains at 8:30.

Others in the cast are William Waddell, William White, Ed Lovings, Bill Barnes, Taylor Durham, Christian Moe, John Stockard, Seymour Herzog, Don Carmichael, Charles Jerrers, Charles Ackerman, Paul Proctor, Lorry Braverman, James Fouts and Ken Myers.

Al House New President Of Democrat Club

Al House, second year law student from Hobgood, N. C., was this week elected president of the campus Young Democratic Club.

It was the second YDC office in less than a week for House. Last week, he was accepted by acclamation as secretary for the state club. He succeeds John Sanders as local president.

Bob Windsor of Winston-Salem was elected 1st Vice President, and David Reid of Asheville was chosen 2nd Vice President. The new Secretary is Bill Edwards. Dick Nixon was reelected Treasurer.

New members of the YDC Executive Committee are Jule Rousseau, Ann Green, Lindsay Tate, Bob Pace, Al Adams, Joel Fleishman, and Charles Dean.

House, in accepting the presidency, urged members present to recruit new members for the campus political organization.

Di, Phi Jointly Debate Admitting Red China To UN: Kicks Off Week Pageant, Talks Highlight Week Of UN Festival

An International Student-Faculty Hour, to be held this afternoon at 4:30 in the main lounge of Graham Memorial, will highlight the third day of United Nations Week.

Sponsored by the Student-Faculty Committee of SUAB, the reception will also honor the Department of Romance Languages.

Sororities will hold a joint meeting, instead of their weekly chapter meetings, in Carroll Hall today, where they will hear Dean Henry Brandis speak on the UN and see movies on the international organization.

The Cosmopolitan Club will sponsor an international dinner at Lenoir Hall and a dance in the Pine Room.

Di, Phi Jointly Debate Admitting Red China To UN: Kicks Off Week Pageant, Talks Highlight Week Of UN Festival

The Philanthropic Assembly and the Dialectic Senate met in a joint session last night and debated "A bill calling for the admission of Communist China into the United Nations."

Senator Jimmy Turner of the Di introduced the bill and proceeded to speak on it. "The recognition of Red China as a member of the United Nations is nothing more than the recognition of fact," he said. "Certainly the People's Government of China is Communist. Certainly it is antagonistic to our cause; but the very function of the UN is to bring antagonists together to work out their differences in debate and not in battle."

This meeting of the Di and Phi opened United Nations Week here. Opposing the bill Ed Williams, a visitor, said, "If we recognized Communist China, we would be compromising with oppression and failing to combat evil." By doing this, he said, we would be denying the principles on which the United Nations was founded. "The prospective member of the UN must be a peace loving state," he continued.

Williams speculated as to whether Communist China were actually a state. "A state, to be a state," he said, "must be recognized as such by a majority of the International Community. Are we to accept as a member of the UN any nation which has failed to live up to any principles of the UN?"

Senator Henry Lowett of the Di took the floor defending the bill. "I think that the way things are going now we are going to have another World War," he said. "The only way to avert such a war is to meet around a bargaining table and talk and talk and talk."

Next to oppose the bill was Representative Bob Pace of the Phi. Denying a statement in the bill he said, "The Communist Government does not represent the needs, aims, and sovereignty of the people. The bill in describing Communist China stated that 'the government of a geographically defined country is that political entity which most represents the needs, aims, and sovereignty of the people.'"

"It is comprised of a group of Moscow-trained criminals," continued Pace. "We cannot bend the knee to Moscow by recognizing this government at this time," he said.

This afternoon, the visitors will meet with 30 student leaders. They will hear from student body President Bob Gorham and Dean of Students Fred Weaver.

The Trustees will take a tour of the campus, and meet with deans and faculty members in a two hour session this morning.

Prominent among the visitors is Victor Bryant of Durham, chairman of the Trustees Visiting Committee which last year recommended the semester system and Saturday classes for Carolina.

Among the others here are Kemp Davis Battle of Rocky Mount, William C. Barfield of Wilmington, Jack F. Blythe of Charlotte, Dr. Paul E. Jones of Farmville, Fred R. Sutton of Kinston, Dr. Shahane R. Taylor of Greensboro, and Herman Weil of Goldsboro.

Dr. Frank W. Klingberg of the Carolina History Department faculty is in charge of arrangements for the Trustees' Chapel Hill visit.

Cosmopolitans Name Chinese Student Prexy

John Chu of China was elected president of the Cosmopolitan Club at its regular meeting Sunday night in the Rendezvous Room of Graham Memorial.

Other officers elected were Kamal Hakim of Egypt, vice-president; Miss Purabi Bose of India, secretary; John Gilsdorf of Wisconsin, treasurer; Miss Margaret Tattie of Scotland, tea chairman; and Dr. Jose S. Navarro of the Philippines, publicity chairman.

SEVENTEEN-YEAR-OLD Ann Robertson (above) has been crowned Queen of the 1953 Pimiento festival at Woodbury, Ga. Thousands of persons crowded into the Georgia town for the annual event. Georgia produces some 75 percent of the nation's pimientos.—NEA Telephoto.

SEVENTEEN-YEAR-OLD Ann Robertson (above) has been crowned Queen of the 1953 Pimiento festival at Woodbury, Ga. Thousands of persons crowded into the Georgia town for the annual event. Georgia produces some 75 percent of the nation's pimientos.—NEA Telephoto.

SEVENTEEN-YEAR-OLD Ann Robertson (above) has been crowned Queen of the 1953 Pimiento festival at Woodbury, Ga. Thousands of persons crowded into the Georgia town for the annual event. Georgia produces some 75 percent of the nation's pimientos.—NEA Telephoto.

SEVENTEEN-YEAR-OLD Ann Robertson (above) has been crowned Queen of the 1953 Pimiento festival at Woodbury, Ga. Thousands of persons crowded into the Georgia town for the annual event. Georgia produces some 75 percent of the nation's pimientos.—NEA Telephoto.

SEVENTEEN-YEAR-OLD Ann Robertson (above) has been crowned Queen of the 1953 Pimiento festival at Woodbury, Ga. Thousands of persons crowded into the Georgia town for the annual event. Georgia produces some 75 percent of the nation's pimientos.—NEA Telephoto.

SEVENTEEN-YEAR-OLD Ann Robertson (above) has been crowned Queen of the 1953 Pimiento festival at Woodbury, Ga. Thousands of persons crowded into the Georgia town for the annual event. Georgia produces some 75 percent of the nation's pimientos.—NEA Telephoto.

SEVENTEEN-YEAR-OLD Ann Robertson (above) has been crowned Queen of the 1953 Pimiento festival at Woodbury, Ga. Thousands of persons crowded into the Georgia town for the annual event. Georgia produces some 75 percent of the nation's pimientos.—NEA Telephoto.

SEVENTEEN-YEAR-OLD Ann Robertson (above) has been crowned Queen of the 1953 Pimiento festival at Woodbury, Ga. Thousands of persons crowded into the Georgia town for the annual event. Georgia produces some 75 percent of the nation's pimientos.—NEA Telephoto.

SEVENTEEN-YEAR-OLD Ann Robertson (above) has been crowned Queen of the 1953 Pimiento festival at Woodbury, Ga. Thousands of persons crowded into the Georgia town for the annual event. Georgia produces some 75 percent of the nation's pimientos.—NEA Telephoto.

SEVENTEEN-YEAR-OLD Ann Robertson (above) has been crowned Queen of the 1953 Pimiento festival at Woodbury, Ga. Thousands of persons crowded into the Georgia town for the annual event. Georgia produces some 75 percent of the nation's pimientos.—NEA Telephoto.

SEVENTEEN-YEAR-OLD Ann Robertson (above) has been crowned Queen of the 1953 Pimiento festival at Woodbury, Ga. Thousands of persons crowded into the Georgia town for the annual event. Georgia produces some 75 percent of the nation's pimientos.—NEA Telephoto.

SEVENTEEN-YEAR-OLD Ann Robertson (above) has been crowned Queen of the 1953 Pimiento festival at Woodbury, Ga. Thousands of persons crowded into the Georgia town for the annual event. Georgia produces some 75 percent of the nation's pimientos.—NEA Telephoto.

SEVENTEEN-YEAR-OLD Ann Robertson (above) has been crowned Queen of the 1953 Pimiento festival at Woodbury, Ga. Thousands of persons crowded into the Georgia town for the annual event. Georgia produces some 75 percent of the nation's pimientos.—NEA Telephoto.

Abner And Family