

Lackey And Williams Average Fifty-Four Yards On Punts

Tar Heel Sports

By Tom Peacock

COLUMBIA, S. C., Nov. 7—Slow and easy talking Rex Enright of South Carolina leaned back in his swivel chair and waxed enthusiastic. The genial coach has a reputation for filibustering for hours without ever saying anything, and he and the reporters were playing his favorite game—they would try to pin him down, he would try to evade the question.

Enright lost a round or two in this interview, not because of lack of evasive skill, but because he had an infected eye that bothered him and took his mind off the game.

With a patch over the bum blinker that made him look like Blackbeard, Enright waxed, "North Carolina's pass defense was something to see. It stopped us more effectively than any other team we have played this year. Our ground game was at our best however, so we still moved. It was our best game on the ground this year."

"Well," he countered a question, "I don't want to pick any single player out. You pick someone out yourself. Brazell looked fine, though. He played his best game."

"Carolina had a fine team that blocked hard and played hard. I won't make a comparison between it and Duke, though. It never compares opponents."

It was a different story in room 1002 of the Hotel Columbia, coach George Barclay's headquarters.

"Yeah, we stopped them in the air," said Barclay. "We always stop them in one phase. You have to stop them more than one way to win the game."

"Ed Patterson played his usual fine game."

"We were beaten by a better team, that's all. We didn't play our best, but South Carolina could have beaten us at our best. Rex has a great ball club with power and speed."

Barclay, tired and weary after four straight defeats, wasn't in the best frame of mind to talk about the game.

NOTES AND COLOR—Columbia saw its first local television program today. The new station went on the air with the game. A North Carolina fan found the papers and broadcasts confusing. They all said, "Carolina plays North Carolina today. . . ." The crowning blow was the scoreboard which read, "Carolina" and "Visitors. . ." It would have read better if it had been in Chapel Hill. . . .

Tar Heel tackle Thad Eure was injured and couldn't make the trip, but his father tried to make up for his loss. . . . Secretary of State Eure carried a huge state flag on a pole, and followed the team up and down the sidelines with it. . . . The few times Carolina went into Gamecock territory, Eure would run to the goal line where he would set up the flag, take off his cap, and urge the Tar Heels on by waving it in the air. . . .

The team stayed at the Hotel Columbia, not the newest in the city, but the old stalwart frequented by the "old guard. . . ." A huge blue and white banner swung in the lobby announcing headquarters of the North Carolina Alumni Association. . . . But in the plush coffee shop close scrutiny of one of the spoons revealed "Wade Hampton" embossed on the handle which is the big new rival hotel. . . . An addition is being built on the hotel, and balanced on two steel beams three stories over the sidewalk is a big GMC truck. . . . How it got there is a mystery, but one Carolina fan saw it after the game and immediately tossed his small paper bag in a sewer. . . .

Miss Dolly Jean Dennis of Charleston, the homecoming queen, doesn't confine her beauty to South Carolina, but has dated in Chapel Hill on the weekends. . . .

Newman Passes Gain 111 Yards

Tar Heels Fumble Twice In 1st Period

lost the ball three times on fumbles.

The Tar Heel running attack was stopped almost completely this afternoon as Carolina obviously missed their first string quarterback, Len Bullock, who is out with an injury.

The deepest penetration into South Carolina territory which the Tar Heels could make was in the fourth quarter when, after recovering a fumble on their 46, they went to the South Carolina 26 in 2 plays: a long pass from Newman to Gravitte covering 25 of those yards. However, three passes and a running play failed to gain and the ball went over to the Gamecocks.

South Carolina jumped into the lead in the first quarter when, after recovering the second Tar Heel fumble of the period, they marched from the North Carolina 30 to the touchdown in 11 plays. Gramling made the touchdown on a one-yard buck.

The Gamecocks were not able to score again until the third quarter when, taking over the ball on their own 19 yard line, they went the 81 yards to the goal in four running plays.

On first down, captain Gene Wilson turned the Carolina right end for 17 yards. On the next play Carl Brazell, who was the game's individual leading ground gainer with 92 yards, started out around left end, reversed his field, and ran to the North Carolina 26 after being hit by almost every Tar Heel player on the field.

After an off-tackle play gained nine yards, Wilson took off around right end behind good blocking and ran 17 yards to the end zone. Kincaid's kick was wide.

The last Gamecock touchdown came with only a minute and 30 seconds left in the game and followed an interception of a Marshall Newman pass. The scoring play covered 16 yards and was a flat pass from Gramling to Kincaid on first down.

Newman had completed two passes in a series which had carried the Tar Heels from their 18 to their 35. At this point, however, center Leon Cunningham intercepted a pass and ran it back to the North Carolina 16. On the next play Gramling sent Kincaid out wide as a flanker, took the ball from center, stood up, lofted the ball over the heads of the Carolina defenders, and Kincaid scored without being touched. Again Kincaid's kick was wide.

On several occasions, South Carolina runners got away on long runs and appeared to be going all the way, only to be caught from behind by the Tar Heels. In the third quarter, with the ball resting on the South Carolina 36-yard line, Brazell took off around his left end for a gain of 24 yards to the North Carolina 30.

From there South Carolina drove down to the Tar Heel 15 before they lost the ball on downs when two passes fell incomplete.

Carolina won the toss and elected to receive, and on the first play from scrimmage, Newman fumbled on a handoff to Gravitte and the Gamecocks recovered on the 39. From there the South Carolinians maneuvered to the Tar Heel 20 before the Carolina line held on first down. Gravitte gained five off tackle and then on a handoff from Newman, Parker went into the line and fumbled, Gramling recovering on the 30. Eleven plays later South Carolina scored.

For the second week in a row, Billy Williams was the Tar Heels' leading ground gainer. Williams ran the ball four times today, gaining 51 yards and an average of 12.7 per carry. Most of this yardage was gained on a draw play which was the most effective one used by the Tar Heels all afternoon.

Halfback Ken Keller was runner-up to Williams with 22 yards in five tries for a 4.4 average. Connie Gravitte, the Tar Heels' leading ground gainer, was held effectively by the Gamecocks as he gained only 10 yards in five tries.

Again the North Carolina punting was outstanding with Lackey and Williams combining for an average of 54.4 yards per kick. In the third quarter Williams thrilled the crowd with a perfect coffin-corner kick which hit the red marker at the goal line on the fly and bounced out of bounds at the one-foot line.

Tech Pressed Hard By Tigers; VMI Edges Wm. & Mary, 20-19

Keydets Win With Last Minute Pass

ROANOKE, Va., Nov. 7—(AP)—Quarterback Dave Woolwine flipped a 23-yard touchdown pass to halfback Johnny Mapp with only 56 seconds to play here today to give Virginia Military Institute's Keydets a come-from-behind 20-19 victory over William and Mary and spoil the Indians' chances for a share in the Southern Conference football title.

Trailing by 19-14 with three minutes left, the Keydets moved 70 yards in that length of time, wholly on Woolwine's passing, to hand William and Mary the surprise defeat—its first in conference play and only its second of the season.

A crowd of 5,000 in Roanoke's Victory Stadium saw the lead change hands four times as the two teams, who used only 30 plays between them, battled on near even terms in almost freezing weather.

Tar Heel Billy Teas Rambles For Wrecks

ATLANTA, Nov. 7—(AP)—Billy Teas, a skinny-legged speedster, and an erratic but touchdown-producing air game boosted Georgia Tech to a 20-7 victory over a big Clemson team brilliantly quarterbacked by sophomore Don King.

Teas, a junior from Andrews, N. C., continually collected good gains on his favorite play, a sweep of his left end. He set up Tech's tie-breaking touchdown in the third quarter with a 55-yard punt return and gained more than 100 yards from scrimmage.

After the tough, 162-pound halfback had fugged the punt back to Clemson's 18, quarterback Pepper Rodgers sneaked for a yard, then passed to Dave Davis in the end zone. Earlier Tech had marched 51 yards to tie the game, halfback Leon Hardeman sweeping 22 yards to the one and Rodgers sneaking over.

A 22-yard pass from Bill Brigrman to Bill Sennett gave Tech an insurance touchdown in the third period.

Clemson's big line outplayed the sixth-ranked Yellow Jackets most of the first half and the King-led Tigers matched Tech's offense. King guided the Atlantic Coast Conference visitors 80 yards in eight plays after the opening kickoff. King sneaked it over from the two.

Clemson 7 0 0 0—7
Georgia Tech 0 7 13 0—20

Georgia Tech scoring: Touchdowns, Rodgers, Davis, Sennett, Conversions, Rodgers 2.

National Leaders Win Tilts With Second Half Uprising

Terps Take Eighth Consecutive Victory

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7—(AP)—Maryland's magnificent linemen wore down a stubborn George Washington team today, clearing the way for a second half rush that netted the Terrapins their eighth straight victory, 27-6.

G.W., a 28-point underdog, made a real game of it for the first half, leaving the field trailing only 7-6. But a pair of defensive gems by Maryland produced two quick touchdowns in the third quarter and that was the ball game.

End Bill Walker raced in, and partially blocked Bill Weaver's punt early in the second half and Maryland took over on the G.W. 35. Two plays later, speedy Chet Hanulak pulled off one of his copy-righted specialties, a long distance touchdown run. This one went for 32 yards.

Eagles Score Late To Whip Deacons, 20-7

BOSTON, Mass., Nov. 7—(AP)—Boston College's Eagles struck for three fourth period touchdowns—including one on a blocked punt—to whip Wake Forest 20-7 today in the mud at Fenway Park.

Capt. Sonny George gave the Demon Deacons a 7-0 first period lead on a 45-yard touchdown run by intercepting Bill Stuka's pass and booting the conversion.

W. Virginia Almost Loses To Va. Tech

BLUEFIELD, W. Va., Nov. 7—(AP)—Unbeaten West Virginia, held scoreless for the first two periods, recovered to take a 12-7 Southern Conference football game from Virginia Tech here today.

The seventh ranking Mountaineers came back from a 7-0 halftime deficit to score in the third and fourth quarters and boost the nation's longest winning streak to 13 victories.

Fullback Tommy Allman, 200-pound senior from Charleston, W. Va., scored both Mountaineer touchdowns. He went 40 yards to score on an off-tackle smash early in the fourth period, and bucked over from the one in the third quarter.

Tech scored first with just 18 seconds left in the first half on a nine-yard pass from Jack Williams to Billy Anderson in the end zone.

Five recovered fumbles and two pass interceptions kept the Gobblers in the game, but a strong ground attack netting 311 yards to Tech's 38 crushed the outweighed losers.

The Gobblers, three touchdown underdogs, fought back with a passing attack that netted 127 yards against the Mountaineers' 71.

WVU scored first on a 71-yard drive late in the third period with end Bill Marker going 43 yards to the Tech two on a pass from quarterback Freddy Wyant.

Allman got to the one and was halted by Tech center Hunter Swink. He went over right tackle to score on the next play. Jack Stone's conversion try was blocked by Howie Wright.

The Mountaineers' second score climaxed a drive that ate up 81 yards in 10 plays with Allman going the last 40 yards on an off-tackle smash. Stone's conversion attempt failed.

Tech's only score was set up when end Roger Simmons hit West Virginia's Ted Anderson and knocked the ball from the substitute quarterback's hands on the Mountaineer 15. Simmons recovered.

West Virginia was penalized to the 10 for delaying the game and a pass interference ruling against Allman on the WVU goal gave Tech the ball at the one.

Lattner Leads Irish To 28-20 Conquest

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 7—(AP)—All-America Johnny Lattner, returning one kickoff for 92 yards and setting up two other scores with spectacular runs, saved Notre Dame's unbeaten record today as the nation's No. 1 college football team downed the surprisingly rugged Pennsylvania eleven, 28-20, in a bruising intersectional game at Franklin Field.

The Irish halfback from Chicago's Westside also intercepted a pass in his end zone in the last period when the Quakers were threatening for a fourth touchdown.

It was the toughest battle of the year for the men of South Bend and coach Frank Leahy, returning to his duties after a two-week siege of virus.

The partisan, sellout crowd of 74,711 was treated to a stirring performance as Penn, a 19 point underdog, fought the vaunted Irish to almost even terms.

Ed Gramigna, Penn quarterback, had his greatest day in passing and fullback Joe Varaitis and halfback Bob Felver ran like berserk bulls through the Irish defense that had cowed all other foes.

Lattner's 92-yard touchdown run with a kickoff came in the first period after Penn had stung the top-ranked Irish with a quick opening touchdown. His great run set off a touchdown re-action for the South Benders who added two more within the space of 10 minutes. Quarterback Ralph Guglielmi scored from three yards after a 68-yard drive and sub quarterback Don Schaefer added another on a two-yard sneak on the first play of the second period.

This score followed a 35-yard punt return by the elusive Lattner and a 38-yard crunching march by Notre Dame's modern version of the Four Horsemen.

Lattner also set up the Irish's final score by twisting 56 yards on a punt return early in the third period. This carried the ball to the Penn 26 and two plays later Guglielmi threw a 23-yard scoring pass to halfback Joe Heap.

Two of Penn's touchdowns were quickies opening each of the halves.
Notre Dame 14 7 7 0—28
Penn 7 0 13 0—20
